The hour having arrived the time heretofore fixed for the special consideration of Mr. Arnold's motion to reconsider the vote by which the House refused to adopt the report of the Committee on Elections in the contested election case of Cooke vs. McCaskrin, which report was as follows:

To the Honorable the House of Representatives:

The Committee on Elections, to which was referred the contested election case of George A. Cooke vs. George W. McCaskrin, in the 33d Senatorial District of Illinois, respectfully begs to report, that it has fully considered the same, and recounted the ballots cast at said election in said district, and presents herewith the resolutions adopted by it as to the recounting of ballots, and the report of the sub-committee having charge of such recount, and the exhibits thereto.

Your committee finds therefrom that said George A. Cooke received a majority of the votes cast at said election for said office in said district, and recommends the adoption of the following resolutions:

Resolved, That George W. McCaskrin was not elected a representative of the House of Representatives of the 44th General Assembly from the 33d Senatorial District of the State of Illinois, and is not entitled to the seat.

Resolved, That George A. Cooke was elected a Representative to the 44th General Assembly from the 33d Senatorial District of Illinois, and that he is entitled to the seat, and he is hereby seated as such representative.

Respectfully submitted,

(Signed) JOHN DAILEY, Chairman,

WHEREAS, The Watseka and Kankakee Traction Railway Company (a corporation duly organized under the laws of the State of Illinois) is building and constructing a line of interurban railroad from Watseka, Illinois, to Kankakee, Illinois, having already surveyed and located and acquired most of the right of way between Watseka and Kankakee, Illinois, and

WHEREAS, Said line of railway as surveyed and located borders upon and traverses over a portion of the lands of the Eastern Illinois Hospital for the Insane located at Kankakee, Illinois, and

WHEREAS, It is necessary for the right of way and road purposes of said railway company to have and use and hold a certain portion of said lands described as follows; a strip of land twenty-five wide off of the south side of the north half of the southwest quarter, north of the public road running east and west on the quarter section line, also a strip of land twenty-five feet wide off of the west side of the northwest quarter and the north half of the southwest quarter, lying east of the public highway located on said land, all of which land is located in section 8, township 30, north range 13 west of the second principal meridian in Kankakee County, in the State of Illinois, and

WHEREAS, The trustees of said Eastern Illinois Hospital for the Insane have no power to sell and convey said lands unless they have the consent of the Legislature of the State of Illinois, therefore be it

Resolved, By the House of Representatives the Senate concurring therein, That the trustees of the Eastern Illinois Hospital for the Insane are hereby authorized to sell and convey to the Watseka and Kankakee Traction Railway Company the lands above described upon terms that they may deem just and equitable.

Reported the same back with the recommendation that said joint resolution be adopted.

The report of the committee was concurred in and the resolution was adopted.

Ordered that the Clerk inform the Senate thereof and ask their concurrence therein.

Mr. Church asked and obtained unanimous consent to have House Bill Nos. 143 and 144, now on second reading, recalled and re-referred to the Committee on Mines and Mining.

By unanimous consent, Mr. McGoorty introduced a bill, House Bill No. 643, a bill for "An Act authorizing cities having a population of 20,000 inhabitants or over incorporated under any general or special law of this State to fix the rates and charges for the supply of gas furnished by any individual, company or corporation to any such city and the inhabitants thereof."

The bill was taken up, read by title, ordered printed and referred to the Committee on Municipal Corporations.

Mr. McGoorty asked unanimous consent to have House Bill No. 643 read at large a first time now and ordered to a second reading without reference to a committee,

Objections being heard,

Mr. McGoorty moved that the rules be suspended for that purpose.

Pending discussion,

Mr. Lindly moved that the House do now adjourn.

The motion prevailed,

And at the hour of 5:55 o'clock p. m., in accordance with the above motion the House stood adjourned.

Reported the same back with the recommendation that the bill do pass. The report of the committee was concurred in, and the bill was ordered to a second reading.

By unanimous consent, Mr. Noyes, from the Joint Committee to visit the charitable institutions submitted the following report:

the Senate and House of Representatives:

Our joint committee to visit State charitable institutions, submits the following report:

Central Hospital for the Insane, Jacksonville.

Our committee visited this institution on Thursday, March 23rd. In the little time allotted us we made as thorough an investigation as possible. We found the institution in a splendid condition as to cleanliness and heard no complaints by employes or others.

The building is the oldest construction of the kind in the State and of course shows evidences of age by way of loose plastering and well worn floors in some portions of the building. A great many of the stairways are of wood, which would add to danger in case of fire. In the opinion of your committee, there should be more fire escapes attached to this hospital.

The Illinois School for the Deaf and Dumb was visited on the same date, and we were very much interested in the work of the pupils, which showed remarkable progress, and also demonstrated the fact that the institution is conducted by a very capable force of instructors.

It is desired to change the old chapel into ten recitation rooms, as the same is not in use as a chapel, but is crudely partitioned off for temporary use, and an appropriation is desired for said change. Your committee would recommend that a sufficient appropriation for this purpose be made by the General Assembly.

The Illinois School for the Blind was also visited and in the short time allotted, your committee was very much impressed with the good work being done at this institution. The methods used in teaching this unfortunate class of our citizens are evidently accomplishing the desired purpose.

Soldiers' Home, Quincy.

Your committee visited the Soldiers' Home on Friday, March 24th, and spent the day there up to 2:45 p. m., during which time we made a very thorough examination of the institution. We heard no complaints as to the general management of the Home. We did, however, find some dissatisfaction amongst the inmates as to the medical attention. We found the sanitary condition not the best. There were, in the institution on that day, 1,643 inmates. These men were crowded into cottages which were built on a plan to accommodate only 1,300. The result is, that every cottage is crowded beyond its capacity, and great complaint is made because of it. In many of the cottages the management has been forced to use garrets as sleeping rooms. These rooms were never intended for such purpose. Sickness is on the increase, and mortality the past winter and at the present time is on the increase. It is claimed the crowded condition in these cottages, and the foul air breathed by the inmates, produces erysipelas. This fact is recognized by the physicians, but there is no remedy for it, except better sanitary conditions, and these cannot be improved while the cottages are crowded, as they are now. Your committee also thinks that the cottages in their present crowded condition are not sufficiently supplied with toilet rooms.

Your committee recommends that sufficient cottages be erected to accommodate all over and above the 1,300 who cannot be comfortably cared for. The institution is now paying for light about $400 per month. An electric light plant could be established for a reasonable sum, inasmuch as no expenditure would be necessary for power. As a matter of economy and on the principles of good business, the State should make an appropriation to establish this plant.

Hospital for the Insane, Menard.

This institution was visited on Saturday morning, March 26, by your joint committee. There is very little to report as to this institution. We found the sanitary affairs of the institution in a splendid condition, and that the institution is being managed in an admirable manner by the officers in charge, as well as by the employees. We also found that, like many other institutions visited by us, it is in a congested condition as to space. There are now something over 180 inmates, which is about 25 more than can be cared for in a proper manner.

An appropriation has been asked for, for the purpose of building an addition to the hospital. Your committee is of the opinion that an appropriation should be made for this purpose. The inmates are chiefly of the class of incurable insane, and fewer discharges in proportion to the number of inmates can be expected than from the other hospitals for the insane. The result is, that when a patient is sent to this asylum, he stands few chances of becoming in a condition to be released. From this standpoint alone, it can readily be seen that there will be a steady increase in the number of patients.

Southern Hospital for the Insane, Anna.

On Saturday, March 25th, your committee visited this hospital, arriving there at 5:38 p. m. We made a thorough investigation of this institution, and found much to admire in its management. We found the asylum crowded to a greater extent than any institution visited by us. In fact, it is so badly crowded that a great many of the patients are accommodated at night in the hallways on cots. Additional buildings should be erected for the accommodation of patients, or the congested condition should be relieved by transporting some of the patients to other institutions.

Eastern Hospital for the Insane, Kankakee.

We arrived at Kankakee Sunday, March 26th, at 6:10 a. m. and remained there all day. The management claims that improvement consisting of a cement floor in the sub-way by which food is transferred from the kitchen to the main building, is needed, and also improvement by way of enclosing some of the porches of the cottages by screens. By enclosing these porches with wire screens, it will enable the patients to have the benefit of the sunshine, and would really be of great advantage.

The sanitary condition of this institution is good, and no complaints were heard from any of the employees or inmates.

Northern Hospital for the Insane.

Your committee arrived at Elgin at 11:25 p. m., March 26th, and remained there until afternoon of the next day. Your committee has no hesitancy in saying that we found this institution a model in every respect, and that too much praise cannot be given Superintendent Whitman and his able assistants for the splendid condition and management of this institution.

Western Hospital for the Insane.

Your committee arrived at Watertown at 8:55 p. m., March 27th, and left there at 3 p. m. the next day. We found this institution in a splendid condition and your committee has nothing to criticise but much to praise.

Asylum for the Incurable Insane.

Your committee arrived at Peoria at 6:40 p. m. on March 28th and left there at noon the next day. The institution is located at Bartonville, near Peoria, and is known as the Asylum for the Incurable Insane. Dr. Geo. A. Zeller is in charge, and as to construction and plan, is known as the cottage system. We found some departures from the old system of caring for the patients. In several of the cottages where there are male patients, female attendants are in charge. The superintendent claims that nothing but good results have followed this innovation. He claims that it is a step in the direction of restoring to the cottages a semblance of home life, and that the inmates at all times show the utmost respect for those in charge of them. Your committee does not express any opinion as to the propriety and wisdom of this system, but believes that it should be given a fair and reasonable trial. There are 20 wards in this institution and 15 of them are under the control of female attendants, five of the 15 being wards where male patients are cared for. In some instances, where patients are supposed to be less violent, bars to the windows have been discarded, and we were told that this has had a good effect.

We found the superintendent, Dr. Zeller, to be very active and attentive and the experiments introduced by him as to the management of the insane, we believe deserve a thorough trial. While this institution is supposed to contain only the incurables, yet your committee reports that we found little or no difference in the class of patients here and in other institutions. For so large an institution, and the growing demand for more space and more buildings, there is a crying need for more land. Your committee also reports that there is a great need for a better amusement hall. The one now used was erected for the purpose of a dining hall, and is insufficient and unfit for the purpose it is now used for.

Soldiers' Orphans' Home.

Your committee arrived at Bloomington at 1 p. m., March 29th, and inspected the Soldiers' Orphans' Home that afternoon. We found in this institution about 360 children, and after seeing only the insane and afflicted for the past week, we were delighted at the opportunity of looking into the faces of these children. We found the best of discipline, order and cleanliness, and were very much impressed with the fact that a splendid work is being done there by the superintendent and his assistants. They are maintaining manual training school, and also a school in domestic science. A high degree of efficiency is attained by the children in these departments. We found the children to be very happy and contented and as well cared for as is possible with the limited means at the command of the institution. We have no hesitancy in saying that this institution, from appearances, has been greatly neglected by the different legislatures of this State. Of all the institutions of the State, of a charitable nature, this deserves and should receive the earliest liberality. The children are walking and sleeping upon bare floors, in comfortable beds, and in the various training schools, are doing the best they can with old and dilapidated tools and appliances. There is a farm of about 100 acres in cultivation, and the institution has not sufficient farming implements to cultivate this land, and in many instances are compelled to borrow from neighboring farmers in order to harvest their crops. The main building is old and is beginning to show evidences of old age and is badly in need of paint and papering. It has all the evidences of a neglected institution. When we take into consideration the fact that these children are not only the wards of the State, as much so as their fathers and perhaps more so, and the further consideration that a grand work is being done here in the direction of making good men and women and preparing them for the struggle of life, it does seem to your committee that the hearts of the people of the State should be opened to these unfortunate children, and that they should at least be given as comfortable quarters and should receive as much attention as is accorded to the insane and criminals of the State.

At this time of the year, the institution is almost inaccessible. It is located about one mile from the railroad station at Normal, and the only way to reach it is by carriages. The street cars run within a quarter of a mile of the institution, but there is no street connecting the institution with this line. It is proposed to open a street from the institution to connect with this line, but the necessary land cannot be acquired for less than $1,200.

Illinois Feeble-Minded Institute.

We visited the Feeble-Minded Institute at Lincoln and found these unfortunates well cared for and the sanitary condition of the institution commendable. An efficient corps of teachers is employed and your committee witnessed recitations and drills by the inmates, which showed considerable advancement.

The management and control of the institution appeared to the committee to be admirable, and we found nothing to criticise.

Mr. Glackin asked and obtained unanimous consent to have House Bill No. 113 recalled from the order of third reading to the order of second reading for the purpose of amendment, whereupon House Bill No. 113, a bill for "An Act to amend section 17 of an act entitled, 'An Act to revise the law in relation to promissory notes, bonds, due bills and other instruments in writing,' approved March 18, 1874, in force July 1, 1874, as amended by act approved June 4, 1895, in force July 1, 1895,"

Having been printed, and having heretofore been read at large a second time, was again taken up in the order of second reading,

Whereupon Mr. Glackin offered the following amendment and moved its adoption:

AMENDMENT No. 1.

Amend House Bill No. 113, by striking out all after line 6 of said bill as printed and insert the following in lieu thereof: "Section 17, the following days to-wit, the first day of January commonly called New Years Day, the twenty-second day of February, the thirtieth day of May, the fourth day of July, the twenty-fifth day of December commonly called Christmas day, the first Monday in September to be known as Labor Day, the twelfth day of February, any day appointed or recommended by the Governor of this State, or by the President of the United States as a day of fast or thanksgiving and in cities of 200,000 inhabitants or more from 12:00 o'clock noon to 12:00 o'clock midnight of the last day of the week commonly called Saturday are hereby declared to be legal holidays and half holidays, the term half holiday including the period from noon to midnight of each Saturday which is not a holiday, and shall for all purposes whatsoever as regards the presenting for payment or acceptance, the maturity and protesting and giving notice of the dishonor of bills of exchange, bank checks and promissory notes and other negotiable or commercial paper or instruments be treated and is considered as is the first day of the week commonly called Sunday. When any such holidays fall upon Sunday the Monday next following shall be held and considered such holiday, all notes, bills, drafts, checks, or other evidence of indebtedness falling due or maturing on either of said days shall be deemed as due or maturing on the day following, and when two (2) or more of these days come together or immediately succeeding each other then such instruments, paper or indebtedness shall be deemed as due or having matured on the day following the last of such days.

And the amendment was adopted.

There being no further amendments the foregoing amendment was ordered printed.

And the question being, "Shall the bill as amended be engrossed for a third reading?" it was decided in the affirmative.

Mr. Glackin asked and obtained unanimous consent to have House Bill No. 113, on the order of third reading, made a special order for Wednesday, April 19, 1905, immediately after the reading of the Journal.

The Speaker took from his table and laid before the House, House Bill No. 350, a bill for "An Act to amend section 38 of article 3 of an act entitled, 'An Act to establish and maintain a system of free schools,' approved and in force May 21, 1889, as amended by an act approved and in force July 1, 1891," together with Senate amendments thereto adopted by the Senate and reported to this House on March 30, 1905, which Senate amendments are as follows:

SENATE AMENDMENTS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 350.

Amend House Bill No. 350, as printed, as follows:

In line 28, before the word "towns" insert the word "political" and after he word "towns" insert the following words: "The dividing line between which is a navigable stream of water, as recognized by the United States," and strike out all of line 31 after the word "purposes;" all of lines 32, 33, 34 and 35, and insert in lieu thereof the following words: "And, provided, further, that where two such political towns, each being a part of one congressional township, the dividing line between which is a navigable stream of water, as recognized by the War department of the United States, shall have heretofore established a township high school, either of said political towns may file a petition signed by not less than one-tenth of the voters of such political town as shown by the vote of the last general election at any time with the township treasurer of such congressional township for an election to be held in such political town for the purpose of voting "for" or "against" discontinuing the township high school as to such political town. Within ten days after the filing of a petition as aforesaid, it shall be the duty of such township treasurer to post the notices for an election to be held according to the prayer of such petition. And if a majority of the votes cast at such election shall be for discontinuing the township high school as to such political town the same shall be discontinued as to such political town and such political town shall be relieved from further assessment of taxes for the maintenance of said township high school. Provided, that no such political town shall be relieved from payment of bonds and interest thereon which may have been issued for payment of school buildings."

Mr. Sheldon moved that the House concur with the Senate in the adoption of the foregoing amendment.

By unanimous consent, Mr. Drew, from the Committee on Labor and Industrial Affairs, to which was referred the following resolution:

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION No. 11.

WHEREAS, the limited time at the disposal of the present session of the General Assembly is insufficient to take up, much less to carefully and fully consider, the important subject of industrial insurance including pensions for aged workers, protective measures in the interests of working men which in other countries have proved of great value and benefit, and

WHEREAS, even in the most favored countries the margin between work and want is an exceedingly narrow one, besides there can be no apprehension more keen or pitiless than the constant clinging dread shared equally by all wealth producers that misfortune in the form of sickness, the liability to become incapacitated through accident or by time's inevitable advance accompanied by waning strength, there will be lacking the means necessary for ordinary maintenance. This most melancholy fact, of which all are conscious, poisons the present and fills the future with tears. The so-called civilized industrialism of our day can be subject to no stronger criticism than the charge fortified by universal experience that the men and women whose productive energy have contributed so much to our wealth, progress and development leading simple, unexpensive lives become in their declining years powerless principally because they are penniless, and

WHEREAS, it ought to be the duty of the law-making power of the State to prevent so far as legislative aid and encouragement can modify this deplorable state of affairs, therefore be it

Resolved, by the House of Representatives, the Senate concurring herein: That the Governor is hereby authorized and requested to appoint a commission consisting of five representative men who shall serve without remuneration and whose duties shall be to thoroughly investigate and report to the Governor the draft of a bill providing a plan for industrial insurance and workmen's old age pensions for consideration and action by the members of the 45th General Assembly.

Reported the same back with the recommendation that the resolution do pass.

The Speaker took from his table and laid before the House, House Resolution No. 59, as follows:

HOUSE RESOLUTION No. 59.

WHEREAS, the charter of the Illinois Central Railroad company provides that in consideration of the grants, privileges and franchises herein conferred upon said company for the purposes aforesaid the said company shall on the first Mondays of June and December of each year pay into the treasury of the State of Illinois so as to make the whole amount paid equal at least to seven per cent of the gross receipts of said corporation, and

WHEREAS, the last official examination of the books of the said railroad company on behalf of the State of Illinois was made by C. H. Bosworth in 1899 by direction of Governor John R. Tanner, said report of Mr. Bosworth being based on the gross earnings from operation only, as it will appear from an examination of his report on file in the office of the Secretary of State, and

WHEREAS, this construction by Mr. Bosworth appears to have been the basis of the railroad company for many years in its reports to the State of its "gross or total proceeds, receipts or income," which construction does not seem to be warranted by even a superficial reading of the act of incorporation of the railroad company, and

WHEREAS, there is no reference in the reports of said Bosworth to the earnings, receipts or income of the Illinois Central charter lines from the immense suburban business in Chicago, and it also appears from his report that no rents or terminal charges or trackage are collected from the subsidiary lines of the said railroad which use the tracks and terminal facilities of the charter lines at various points in the State; therefore be it

Resolved, that the Speaker be and he is hereby authorized to appoint a special committee of nine to investigate the subjects mentioned, including investigation into advertising and coal business of said company in the above preamble. Said committee is instructed to report to this House at its earliest convenience. The said committee is authorized to take testimony of witnesses and compel their presence; to send for books and papers, and should it be deemed necessary, may call upon the Attorney General for advice or assistance. The said committee is authorized to employ a stenographer at not exceeding $5.00 per diem, which shall be in full for a transcript of all proceedings and testimony, the meetings of said committee shall be open to the press and public.

Together with the following amendment reported from the Committee on Judiciary:

AMENDMENT No. 1.

Amend House Resolution investigating the Illinois Central Railroad company's gross receipts by adding the following:

"The said committee is also authorized to employ an expert accountant, if necessary, and also a stenographer, at reasonable compensations (said compensations to be determined by the committee) for their services. And be it further Resolved, that all necessary expenses of said committee, in making their investigation, be paid by the Treasurer of the State, upon the certificate of the chairman of such committee, countersigned by the Speaker of the House, from funds in the State treasury not otherwise appropriated."

Pending discussion, the Speaker made the following ruling on House Resolution No. 59:

This resolution is based upon the contract, a part of the terms of which are set out in section No. 364, Hurd's Statutes, 1903, of the Revenue act, in which it is provided that, "for the purpose of ascertaining the proceeds, receipts or income aforesaid, an accurate account shall be kept by said company, a copy whereof shall be furnished to the Governor of the State of Illinois; the truth of which account shall be verified by the affidavit of the treasurer and secretary of such company. And for the purpose of verifying and ascertaining the accuracy of such account full power is hereby vested in the Governor of the State of Illinois or any other person by law appointed to examine the books and papers of said corporation and to examine under oath the officers, agents and employes of said company and other persons."

This statute, the same being a part of the written and constitutional contract with the Illinois Central Railroad, confers no power upon either branch of the Legislature or both branches to investigate the private business or affairs of the Illinois Central Railway company except by an act passed conferring such power as it is now vested in the Governor of the State. Any writ issued by the House could not be enforced. The same rule applies as to investigating into the advertising and coal business of said company, and the Chair therefore declares the resolution out of order and orders that it lie upon the table, and asks that this statement be made a part of the Journal record.

Mr. Manny and Mr. Grein appealed from the Speaker's ruling.

The question being, "Shall the decision of the chair stand as the decision of the House?"

Pending discussion, Mr. Shanahan moved the previous question.

And the question being, "Shall the main question be now put?" it was decided in the affirmative.

The Speaker took from his table and laid before the House, House Bill No. 422, a bill for "An Act in relation to Municipal Courts in the City of Chicago."

Reported back from the Senate March 21, 1905, together with Senate amendments thereto, which amendments are as follows:

HOUSE BILL No. 422.

A bill for "An Act in relation to municipal courts in the city of Chicago," together with the following amendments thereto.

AMENDMENT No. 1.

Amend by striking out the title and insert in lieu thereof as a new title the following:

A bill for "An Act in relation to a municipal court in the city of Chicago."

AMENDMENT No. 2.

Amend by striking out all after the enacting clause, and insert in lieu thereof the following:

Section 1. That there shall be established in and for the city of Chicago a municipal court which shall be styled "The Municipal Court of Chicago," hereinafter designated and referred to as the Municipal Court and the jurisdiction of which shall be exercised in the manner hereafter prescribed by branch courts each of which shall exercise all the powers in this act declared to be vested in the Municipal Court.

Section 2. That said Municipal Court shall have jurisdiction within the city of Chicago, in the following cases:

First. All actions on contracts, express or implied, when the amount claimed by the plaintiff exceeds one thousand dollars ($1,000) and which, for convenience, will be hereinafter referred to and designated as cases of the first class.

Second. All suits of every kind and nature, whether civil or criminal, or whether at law or in equity, which may be transferred to it by change of venue, or otherwise, by the circuit court of Cook county, or by the superior court of Cook county, or by the criminal court of Cook county, for trial and disposition, and which, for convenience, will be hereinafter designated and referred to as cases of the second class.

Third. All criminal cases in which the punishment is by fine or imprisonment otherwise than in the penitentiary, and which, for convenience, will be hereinafter designated and referred to as cases of the third class.

Fourth. All those classes of suits and proceedings, whether civil or quasi criminal, of which justices of the peace are now given jurisdiction by law, in all of which classes of suits and proceedings said municipal court shall have jurisdiction when the amount sought to be recovered, whether by way of damages, penalty, or otherwise, if the suit or proceeding be for the recovery of money only, or the value of the personal property claimed, if the suit or proceeding be brought for the recovery of personal property, does not exceed one thousand dollars ($1,000); provided, however, that in any action upon a bond, the amount sought to be recovered thereon and not the penalty of the bond shall determine the jurisdiction, and that when payments are to be made by installments, an action may be brought in the Municipal Court for any installment not exceeding one thousand dollars ($1,000) as it becomes due, and which, for convenience, will be hereinafter designated and referred to as cases of the fourth class.

Fifth. All other suits at law, for the recovery of money only, when the amount claimed does not exceed one thousand dollars ($1,000), and which, for convenience, will be hereinafter designated and referred to as cases of the fifth class.

Section 3. That in all cases of the first class and in all cases of the second class the issues shall be made up in said court by the same forms of pleadings, as near as may be, in use in similar cases in the circuit courts; that all cases of the third class shall be prosecuted by complaint or by information in accordance with such rules as may be hereinafter prescribed or provided for, or in cases not herein otherwise provided for, by such rules of practice as may be prescribed by law for similar cases in the criminal court of Cook county or before justices of the peace; and that in all cases of the fourth class and in all cases of the fifth class the issues shall be determined without other forms of written pleadings than those hereinafter expressly prescribed or provided for.

Section 4. That said court shall be held in districts, which until otherwise provided, shall be five in number and their territorial limits shall be as follows:

Of the First District the territorial limits shall be the territory bounded on the east by Lake Michigan, on the north by the city limits, on the west by the center line of Western avenue from the city limits on the north to the center line of Fifty-fifth street, thence on the south by the center line of Fifty-fifth street to the center line of State street, thence on the west by the center line of State street to the center line of Sixty-third street, thence on the south by the center line of Sixty-third street to the center line of Cottage Grove avenue, thence on the west by the center line of Cottage Grove avenue to the center line of Seventy-first street, and thence on the south by the center line of Seventy-first street to Lake Michigan, and such territory shall be known as the First District.

Of the Second District the territorial limits shall be the territory bounded on the south by the city limits, on the east by the city limits and Lake Michigan, on the north by the center line of Seventy-first street, and on the west by the center line of Cottage Grove avenue, and such territory shall be known as the Second District.

Of the Third District the territorial limits shall be the territory bounded on the west and south by the city limits, on the east by the center line of Cottage

Grove avenue from the city limits on the south to the center line of Sixty-third street, thence on the north by the center line of Sixty-third street to the center line of State street, thence on the east by the center line of State street to the center line of Fifty-fifth street, thence on the north by the center line of Fifty-fifth street to the city limits on the west, and such territory shall be known as the Third District.

Of the Fourth District the territorial limits shall be the territory bounded on the south by the center line of Fifty-fifth street, on the east by the center line of Western avenue, on the north by the center line of Lake street and on the west by the city limits, and such territory shall be known as the Fourth District.

Of the Fifth District the territorial limits shall be the territory bounded on the south by the center line of Lake street, on the east by the center line of Western avenue, and on the north and west by the city limits, and such territory shall be known as the Fifth District.

The number and boundaries of the districts may be changed, from time to time, by orders signed by a majority of the judges of the Municipal Court, and spread upon the records thereof, which orders shall be published for three successive weeks, once in each week, in some newspaper of general circulation in the city of Chicago, and which shall take effect respectively within thirty days after the last publication thereof; provided, however, no such change in the number or boundaries of districts shall become effective unless the order therefor shall have been approved by the city council of the city of Chicago. As many branch courts shall be held in each district as may be determined by the chief justice of said Municipal Court to be necessary for the prompt and proper disposition of the business of said court, provided however, that at least one branch court shall be held in each district. Such branch court may be given such designation by numbers or otherwise as may be determined by the Chief Justice.

Section 5. That said branch courts shall be held at such places in said city of Chicago as may be provided for that purpose by the corporate authorities thereof. If no place be provided by the corporate authorities of said city for the holding of any branch court, or if the place so provided become unfit, said branch court may, by an order signed by the majority of the judges of said Municipal Court, and entered upon the records of said branch court, adjourn to or convene at a suitable place for holding said branch court, procured for that purpose by said judges, within the district in which the same is located and at such place may hold said branch court, until a suitable place therefor be furnished by said corporate authorities.

Section 6. That said court shall have seals for each district and may from time to time, as may be necessary, renew the same. The expense of said seals and renewing the same shall be paid by the city of Chicago.

Section 7. That all blanks, books, papers, stationery and furniture necessary to the keeping of the records of the proceedings of such Municipal Court, and the transaction of the business thereof, shall be furnished the officers of such court at the expense of the city.

Section 8. That said Municipal Court shall consist of twenty-five (25) judges, one of whom shall be chief justice and the remaining twenty-four (24) of whom shall be associate judges. Each branch branch shall be presided over by a single judge of the Municipal Court. The chief justice, in addition to the exercise of all the other powers of a judge of said court, shall have the general superintendence of the business of said court; he shall preside at all meetings of the judges, and he shall assign the associate judges to duty in the branch courts from time to time, as he may deem necessary for the prompt disposition of the business thereof, and it shall be the duty of each associate judge to attend and serve at any branch court to which he may be so assigned, but the chief justice shall only assign such number of judges to the trial and disposition of cases of the first class and cases of the second class mentioned in section two (2) of this act from time to time, as may not be needed for the prompt disposition of the other business of the court. The chief justice shall also superintend the preparation of the calendars of cases for trial in said court and shall make such classification and distribution of the same upon different calendars as he shall deem proper and expedient. Each associate judge shall at the commencement of each month make to the chief justice, under his official oath, a report in writing of the duties performed by him during the preceding month, which report shall specify the number of days' attendance in court of such judge during such month, and the branch courts upon which he has attended, and the number of hours per day of such attendance, for which the chief justice shall cause suitable blanks to be prepared and furnished to the associate judges. Each judge shall be entitled to vacations, which shall not exceed thirty-six days in all in any one year and which shall be taken at such times as may be determined by the chief justice. The chief justice must give his attention faithfully to the discharge of the duties especially pertaining to his office and to the performance of such additional judicial work as he may be able to perform. Each associate judge must perform his share of the labors and duties appertaining to the office. At least one associate judge must be in attendance in one branch court in each district, six hours of each day, except Sunday, a public holiday, or a day upon which the inhabitants of the city of Chicago generally refrain from business, and each associate judge, while in the court room or in chambers, and not actually engaged in the performance of other official duties, must act upon any application for his official action, properly made to him. One branch court in the First District shall be kept open, and at least one judge assigned for that purpose by the chief justice, shall be in attendance thereat, each day, excepting Sunday or a public holiday, from nine o'clock a. m. to ten o'clock p. m., excepting two hours' intermission, for the transaction of such business as may come before it. It shall be the duty of the chief justice and the associate judges to meet together at least once in each month, excepting the month of August, in each year, at such hour and place as may be designated by the chief justice, and at such other times as may be required by the chief justice, for the consideration of such matters pertaining to the administration of justice in said court as may be brought before them. At such meetings they shall receive and investigate, or cause to be investigated, all complaints presented to them pertaining to the said court, and to the officers thereof, and shall take such steps as they deem necessary or proper with respect thereto, and they shall have power and it shall be their duty to adopt or cause to be adopted all such rules and regulations for the proper administration of justice in said court as to them may seem expedient. The salary of the chief justice shall be seven thousand five hundred dollars ($7,500) per annum, and the salary of an associate judge shall be six thousand dollars ($6,000) per annum, payable in monthly installments out of the city treasury.

Section 9. That the chief justice and the associate judges of the Municipal Court provided for in the preceding section shall be elected on the first Tuesday after the first Monday of November, A. D., 1906; that the chief justice shall hold his office for the term of six (6) years and until his successor shall be elected and qualified; that of the said associate judges so to be elected eight (8) shall be elected for the term of two (2) years; eight (8) for the term of four (4) years, and eight (8) for the term of six (6) years and until their respective successors shall be elected and qualified, and on the first Tuesday after the first Monday of November, A. D. 1908, and on the first Tuesday after the first Monday of November of every sixth year thereafter, and on the first Tuesday after the first Monday of November, A. D. 1910, and on the first Tuesday after the first Monday of November every sixth year thereafter there shall be elected eight (8) associate judges of said Municipal Court and on the first Tuesday after the first Monday of November, A. D. 1912, and every sixth year thereafter there shall be elected a chief justice and eight (8) associate judges of said Municipal Court as successors in office of the chief justice and associate judges of the Municipal Court by this act required to be elected, each of whom shall hold his office for the term of six (6) years and until his successor shall be elected and qualified. The judges so required to be elected shall enter upon the discharge of their duties on the first Monday of December following their election. Vacancies in the office of chief justice or associate judge of the Municipal Court shall be filled by election at the regular municipal, judicial or other general election which shall occur next after a period of thirty (30) days from the time such vacancies respectively occur, but where the unexpired term does not exceed one year, the vacancy shall be filled by appointment by the Governor. Whenever a vacancy occurs in the office of chief justice, or whenever the chief justice shall be absent from the city of Chicago, or incapacitated from acting, the associate judges shall select one of their number to act as chief justice until such vacancy shall be filled by election or appointment as above provided for, or until the return of the chief justice, or until his incapacity ceases.

Section 10. That no person shall be eligible to the office of chief justice or of associate judge of the Municipal Court unless he shall be at least thirty years of age and a citizen of the United States, nor unless he shall have resided in the county of Cook and been there engaged, either in active practice as an attorney and counsellor at law or in the discharge of the duties of a judicial office, five years next preceding his election, or in one of said occupations during a portion of said time and in the other the remaining portion thereof, and shall, at the time of his election, be a resident of the city of Chicago.

Section 11. That every chief justice and associate justice of such Municipal Court, before he enters upon the duties of his office, shall take and subscribe the following oath or affirmation:

"I do solemnly swear (or affirm, as the case may be) that I will support the Constitution of the United States and the Constitution of the State of Illinois, and that I will faithfully discharge the duties of the office of chief justice (or associate judge) of the Municipal Court of Chicago according to the best of my ability."

Said oath shall be filed in the office of the Secretary of State.

Section 12. That whenever two-thirds in number of the judges of the Municipal Court shall transmit to the city council of the city of Chicago a certificate signed by them that in the opinion of said judges the business of said Municipal Court is such as to require an increase in the number of the associate judges of said Municipal Court, said city council may, by ordinance or ordinances, provide for an increase of not more than nine in the number of said judges, who shall be elected, one-third for two years, one-third for four years, and one-third for six years, at the next ensuing general election. The judges elected in accordance with such ordinance or ordinances shall hold their offices for the said respective periods for which they shall have been elected and until their successors shall be elected and qualified, and every two years thereafter their respective successors shall be elected for the full term of six years. But, after the number of associate judges has been increased to thirty-three (33) no subsequent increase thereof shall be made by the city council.

Section 13. That the judges of said Municipal Court may interchange with judges of other city courts, and said respective judges may hold court for each other and perform each other's duties when they find it necessary or convenient.

Section 14. That there shall be a clerk of said Municipal Court, whose term of office shall be six years and until his successor shall be elected and qualified and who shall be elected on the first Tuesday after the first Monday of November, A. D. 1906, and every six years thereafter. He shall perform with respect to said Municipal Court, the duties usually performed by clerks of courts of record. He shall give his personal attention to the performance of the duties of his office. He shall maintain an office in each district and each office shall be kept open for the transaction of business from eight o'clock a. m. to six o'clock p. m. of each working day during the year. Until otherwise provided by the rules which may be adopted under the provisions of this act, the powers, duties and liabilities, the oath of office and the bond and conditions thereof of such clerk shall be the same, as near as may be, as those prescribed by law for clerks of courts by the act entitled "An Act to revise the law in relation to clerks of courts," approved March 25, 1874, and in force July 1, 1874. His salary shall be five thousand dollars ($5,000) per annum, and shall be paid in monthly installments out of the city treasury. He shall be commissioned by the Governor.

Section 15. That said clerk shall appoint such number of deputies as may be determined, from time to time, by a majority of the judges of the Municipal Court by orders signed by them and spread upon the records of said court. At least one deputy clerk shall be assigned to duty in each branch court. The salaries of deputy clerks shall be fixed, from time to time, by orders signed by a majority of the judges of the Municipal Court and spread upon the records of the court, and shall be payable out of the city treasury in monthly instalments, provided, however, that the salary of the chief deputy clerk shall not exceed two thousand five hundred dollars ($2,500) per annum, and that the salary of no other deputy clerk shall exceed eighteen hundred dollars ($1,800) per annum. Such number of deputy clerks so appointed as the judges may deem necessary shall be competent shorthand reporters, capable of correctly taking down stenographically and transcribing the proceedings of courts, and shall perform such duties with respect to attending upon and taking down stenographic reports of the proceedings of said court as may be required by the judges, and for making and furnishing transcripts of their stenographic reports aforesaid, said deputy clerks shall be allowed to make such reasonable charge, not exceeding fifteen cents per each one hundred words, to the parties to whom such transcripts are furnished, as may be determined by the judges, and the judges may allow said deputy clerks to retain, as additional compensation for their services one-half of the charges so collected, the balance of such charges to be accounted for by such deputy clerks in the same manner as costs collected by them. Such deputy clerks shall take the same oath or affirmation required of the clerk of said Municipal Court and shall give bonds to be approved by the chief justice of said court, conditioned, as near as may be, like the bond required of the clerk. Any deputy clerk shall be subject to removal at any time by an order signed by a majority of the judges of the Municipal Court and spread upon the records of said court. The number of deputy clerks may be reduced at any time by an order signed by a majority of the judges of said Municipal Court and spread upon the records of said court. It shall be the duty of deputy clerks to render to parties to suits in cases of the fourth class and in cases of the fifth class mentioned in section two (2) of this act, such assistance and give them such information as may enable them to properly commence suits or to enter their appearances when sued, which duty shall be regulated and defined by instructions to be prepared by the chief justice.

Section 16. That there shall be a bailiff of said Municipal Court whose term of office shall be six years and until his successor shall be elected and qualified and who shall be elected on the first Tuesday after the first Monday of November, A. D. 1906, and every six years thereafter. He shall perform, with respect to said Municipal Court, the duties usually performed by sheriffs in respect to attendance upon, and service and execution of the process, and obedience of the lawful orders and directions of, a circuit court. He shall give his personal attention to the performance of the duties of his office. He shall maintain an office in each district and each office shall be kept open in each district for the transaction of business from 8 o'clock a. m. to 6 o'clock p. m. of each working day during the year.

Until otherwise provided by the rules which may be adopted under the provisions of this act, the powers, duties and liabilities, the oath of office, and the bond and conditions thereof of such bailiff shall be the same, as near as may be, as those prescribed by law for sheriffs with respect to attendance upon, and service and execution of the process, and obedience of the lawful orders and directions of, a circuit court. His salary shall be five thousand dollars ($5,000) per annum and shall be paid in monthly installments out of the city treasury. He shall be commissioned by the Governor.

Section 17. That said bailiff shall appoint such number of deputies as may be determined, from time to time, by a majority of judges of the Municipal Court by orders signed by them and spread upon the records of said court. At least one deputy bailiff shall be assigned to duty in each branch court. The salaries of deputy bailiffs shall be fixed, from time to time, by orders signed by a majority of the judges of the Municipal Court and spread upon the records of the court and shall be payable out of the city treasury in monthly installments: Provided, however, that the salary of the chief deputy bailiff shall not exceed two thousand five hundred dollars ($2,500) per annum, and that the salary of no other deputy bailiff shall exceed twelve hundred dollars ($1,200) per annum. Such deputy bailiffs shall take the same oath or affirmation required of the bailiff of said Municipal Court and shall give bonds to be approved by the chief justice of said court conditioned, as near as may be, like the bond required of the bailiff. The bailiff and deputy bailiffs of the Municipal Court shall be ex officio police officers of the city of Chicago. Any deputy bailiff shall be subject to removal at any time by an order signed by a majority of the judges of the Municipal Court and spread upon the records of said court. The number of deputy bailiffs may be reduced at any time by an order signed by a majority of the judges of said Municipal Court and spread upon the records of said court. Every police officer of the city of Chicago shall be ex officio a deputy bailiff of the Municipal Court, and shall perform, from time to time, such duties in respect to criminal and quasi criminal cases, including cases pertaining to alleged violations of city ordinances pending in said court, as may be required of him by said court or any judge thereof.

Section 18. That neither the clerk nor the bailiff nor any deputy clerk or deputy bailiff of said Municipal Court shall receive, aside from the salary and the costs of this act required to be paid to him in his official capacity, any money, property, or other valuable thing, as a gratuity or otherwise, for the performance of any duty imposed upon him by virtue of his office, or for the performance of any work of any kind or character in any manner connected therewith. It shall be the duty of the judges of said Municipal Court to remove from office any deputy clerk or deputy bailiff who shall violate either of the provisions of this section. No clerk or bailiff, or deputy clerk or deputy bailiff, of the Municipal Court shall be appointed receiver or guardian ad litem in any suit therein pending.

Section 19. That until otherwise determined in the manner hereinafter provided, and except as by this act is otherwise prescribed, the practice in the Municipal Court shall be the same, as near as may be, as that which is now prescribed by law for similar suits or proceedings in circuit courts, excepting that in cases of the fourth class and cases of the fifth class mentioned in section two (2) of this act the issues shall be determined without other forms of written pleadings, than those hereinafter expressly prescribed or provided for. Said Municipal Court shall be the sole judge of the applicability to the proceedings of said court of the rules of practice prescribed by law for similar cases in the circuit courts and its decisions in respect thereto shall not be subject to review upon appeal or writ of error: Provided, however, that upon appeal or writ of error the Supreme Court or the Appellate Court, as the case may be, may grant relief from any such decision in any case where, in the opinion of the Supreme Court or Appellate Court, such relief is necessary to prevent a failure of justice.

Section 20. That the judges of said Municipal Court shall have power to adopt, in addition to or in lieu of the provisions herein contained prescribing the practice in said Municipal Court or of any portion or portions of said provisions, such rules regulating the practice, in said court as they may deem necessary or expedient for the proper administration of justice therein. The adoption of said rules shall be accomplished by an order signed by a majority of said judges, which order, when made, shall be forthwith spread upon the records of the Municipal Court and shall be printed in pamphlet form at the expense of the city: Provided, however, that no rule or rules inconsistent with those expressly provided for by this act shall become effective and be in force until after the lapse of thirty (30) days from the approval thereof by the Supreme Court. Application to the Supreme Court for such approval may be made by the chief justice of the Municipal Court, after notice of such application shall have been published once each week, for three consecutive weeks, in some newspaper of general circulation published in the city of Chicago, specifying the time at which such application shall be made. Upon such application the Supreme Court shall review the said rule or rules so adopted and may either confirm the order adopting the same or may modify or set aside the same, and the Supreme Court may, in its discretion substitute for the rule or rules so adopted by said judges of said Municipal Court or for any portion thereof, such other rules as the Supreme Court may deem proper, and may in its discretion of its own motion or otherwise make any order respecting the rules of said Municipal Court which it may deem proper. The Supreme Court and the Appellate Courts in cases brought to them from the Municipal Court by appeal or writ of error shall take judicial notice of the rules of practice from time to time in force in said Municipal Court.

Section 21. That there shall be no stated terms of the Municipal Court, but said court shall be always open for the transaction of business. Every judgment, order or decree of said court, final in its nature, shall, for the period of thirty days after the entry thereof, be subject to be vacated, set aside or modified, in the same manner and to the same extent as a judgment, decree or order of a circuit court during the term at which the same was rendered in such circuit court. After the lapse of thirty days any such judgment, decree or order shall not be vacated, set aside or modified, excepting upon appeal or writ of error, or by bill in equity: Provided, however, that all errors in fact in the proceedings in such case, which could have been corrected at common law by the writ of error coram nobis, may be corrected by motion or the judgment may be set aside, in the manner provided by law for similar cases in the circuit courts.

Section 22. That the final orders, judgments and decrees of the Municipal Court in cases of the first class, cases of the second class and cases of the third class mentioned in section two (2) of this act, may be reviewed, upon error or appeal, by the Supreme Court in all criminal cases above the grade of misdemeanors, cases in which a franchise or freehold, or the validity of a statute or construction of the Constitution is involved, and in all cases relating to the revenue or in which the State is interested as a party or otherwise, and by the Appellate Court in all other cases. The practice in cases of appeals from or writs of error to said Municipal Court in said cases shall, except as in this act, or by rules of said court adopted in pursuance hereof, may be otherwise provided, be the same, as near as may be, as the practice in cases of appeal from and writs of error to circuit courts in similar cases. But no appeal shall be allowed in any case unless the same be prayed for within twenty days after the entry of the order, judgment or decree appealed from, and no assignment of error in the Supreme Court or in the Appellate Court in any such case shall be allowed which shall call in question the decision of the Municipal Court in respect to any matter pertaining to the practice in said court: Provided, however, that the Supreme Court or the Appellate Court, as the case may be, may grant relief from any error of the Municipal Court in respect to a matter of practice therein in any case where, in the opinion of the Supreme Court or Appellate Court, such relief is necessary to prevent a failure of justice.

Section 23. That the final orders and judgments of the Municipal Court in cases of the fourth class and cases of the fifth class mentioned in section two (2) of this act, shall be reviewed by writ of error only. Such writ of error shall be sued out of the Supreme Court in all cases in which a franchise, a freehold or the validity of a statute or the construction of the Constitution is involved, and out of the Appellate Court in all other cases. The time within which a writ of error may be sued out in any such case shall be limited to thirty days after the entry of the final order or judgment complained of. The manner of prosecuting such writ of error shall be as follows:

First. Any party to any such case against whom there has been rendered any final order or judgment of the Municipal Court and who shall desire to obtain a review of such final order or judgment by appeal or writ of error, may obtain from the Municipal Court a stay of execution upon such order or judgment for ninety days after the entry thereof by the giving of a bond with a sufficient surety or sureties, to be approved by a judge of the Municipal Court, conditioned for the performance by such party of, or his compliance with, such order or judgment, or his payment of the money thereby required to be paid and all costs which may be awarded the opposite party in the Supreme Court or the Appellate Court, as the case may be, in case a writ of error to review such order or judgment shall not be sued out within thirty days from the date thereof, or in case, upon the suing out and prosecution of such writ of error, the order or judgment shall be affirmed by the Supreme Court or the Appellate Court, as the case may be..

Second. No other or further stay of proceedings or execution in any such case shall be allowed by the Municipal Court, but the Supreme Court or the Appellate Court, or any judge thereof, may allow a supersedeas as in other cases, but upon the allowance of any supersedeas, when any bond has been given as above provided, no additional bond shall be required and such supersedeas shall be operative until the final determination of such writ of error.

Third. If, upon application to the Supreme Court or Appellate Court, or to any judge thereof, for a supersedeas the same shall be denied, such order or judgment shall stand affirmed, and no further proceedings shall be had in said Supreme Court or Appellate Court with respect thereto, unless the Supreme Court or Appellate Court, or the judge denying such supersedeas, shall otherwise order.

Fourth. The party in whose favor any final order or judgment has been entered shall be entitled to sue out a writ of error from the Supreme Court or the Appellate Court, as the case may be, by depositing with the clerk of the court from which said writ of error is sued out the sum of twenty dollars ($20) as security to the opposite party for such costs as may be awarded such opposite party by the Supreme Court or the Appellate Court, as the case may be, upon the final determination of such writ of error.

Fifth. The party suing out any writ of error shall not be required to serve upon the opposite party any scire facias to hear errors, but in lieu thereof shall, within five days after the issuance of the writ of error, file the same with the clerk of the said Municipal Court, and make to the Supreme Court or the Appellate Court, as the case may be, proof of such filing, and such writ of error so filed shall be notice to the opposite party of the suing out and prosecution of such writ of error.

Sixth. Upon application made at any time within sixty days after the entry of any final order or judgment it shall be the duty of the judge by whom such final order or judgment was entered, to sign and place on file in the case in which the same was entered, if so requested by either of the parties to the suit, either a correct statement, to be prepared by the party requesting the signing of the same, of the facts appearing upon the trial thereof, and of all questions of law involved in such case, and the decisions of the court upon said questions of law, or a correct stenographic report, the expense of procuring which shall be paid by the party requesting the signing of the same, of the proceedings at the trial, as such party may elect, the original of which statement or stenographic report, together with a certified transcript of the judgment, shall be certified to the Supreme Court or Appellate Court, as the case may be, as the record to be considered upon the review of such order or judgment by writ of error.

Seventh. No order or judgment so sought to be reviewed shall be reversed unless the Supreme Court or Appellate Court, as the case may be, shall be satisfied from said statement or stenographic report signed by said judge that such order or judgment is contrary to the law and the evidence or that such order or judgment resulted from substantial errors of said Municipal Court directly affecting the matters at issue between the parties, in which last mentioned case the Supreme Court or Appellate Court, as the case may be, may enter such order or judgment as, in its opinion, the Municipal Court ought to have entered, or it may reverse the said order or judgment and remand the case to the Municipal Court for further proceedings.

Eighth. No assignment of error in the Supreme Court or in the Appellate Court in any such case shall be allowed which shall call in question the decisions of such Municipal Court in respect to any matter pertaining to the practice in such court, nor shall any exceptions to the rulings and decisions of the Municipal Court upon the trial be necessary to the right of either party to a review of such rulings and decisions in the Supreme Court or Appellate Court upon their merits, but it shall be the duty of the Supreme Court or the Appellate Court, as the case may be, to decide such case upon its merits as they may appear from such statement or stenographic report signed by the judge: Provided, however, that the Supreme Court or Appellate Court, as the case may be, may grant relief from any error of the Municipal Court in respect to a matter of practice therein in any case where, in the opinion of the Supreme Court or the Appellate Court, such relief is necessary to prevent a failure of justice.

Section 24. That in any case transferred to said Municipal Court by the circuit or superior court of Cook county for trial and disposition, said Municipal Court shall exercise the same powers as the court from which said case has been transferred might have exercised had said case not been so transferred. The circuit court of Cook county, or the superior court of Cook county, may, upon the application of either party for a change of venue, and shall upon the request of both parties to any suit at law or in equity, pending therein, transfer said suit to the Municipal Court for trial and disposition. The criminal court of Cook county may in its discretion, upon the request of the State's Attorney or of any defendant, transfer to the Municipal Court for trial and disposition any case therein pending and shall have power to make all orders which it may deem necessary to accomplish such transfer and secure the attendance of the parties and witnesses upon said Municipal Court until the final disposition of the case, and said Municipal Court, when any criminal case shall have been so transferred to it, shall exercise all the powers with respect to the trial and disposition of said case which the said criminal court of Cook county might have exercised had said case not been so transferred. All judgments of conviction in criminal cases in said Municipal Court where the punishment inflicted is death or imprisonment, shall be carried into execution in the same manner as is provided by law for similar cases in said criminal court of Cook county. The prosecution of all criminal cases in the Municipal Court shall be conducted by or under the supervision of the State's Attorney of Cook county, but in any case in which the State's Attorney is disqualified from acting, or is unable to act, the court may appoint some attorney at law of Cook county to act as prosecuting attorney in such case. In all cases transferred as aforesaid to said Municipal Court, the practice in respect to the trial and disposition thereof shall be the same as that prevailing in the respective courts from which the same have been transferred, unless the parties shall consent that the trial and disposition thereof shall be governed by the rules of practice prevailing in said Municipal Court in cases commenced therein.

Section 25. That the petit jurors for the trial of cases in said Municipal Court shall be provided by the jury commissioners of the county of Cook in the same manner and from the same lists, as near as may be, as petit jurors are provided for the circuit, superior and criminal courts of Cook county. The names of the necessary number of petit jurors required from time to time in said Municipal Court shall be furnished by said jury commissioners upon demand to the clerk of the Municipal Court and the venires for such jurors shall be directed to and served by the sheriff of Cook county at the expense of said county, and the fees of the said jurors shall be paid out of the city treasury. The number of petit jurors to be summoned from time to time shall be determined by the chief justice.

Section 26. That it shall be the duty of the chief justice of the Municipal Court to cause to be interrogated all petit jurors summoned for service in the Municipal Court, and to cause to be enquired into the qualifications of said jurors, and to reject from service as jurors all persons who do not appear to possess the qualifications required by law, and to cause the summoning of persons competent to serve as jurors.

Section 27. That all criminal cases in the Municipal Court in which the punishment is by fine or imprisonment otherwise than in the penitentiary, may be prosecuted by information of the Attorney General or State's Attorney, or some other person, and when an information is presented by any person other than the Attorney General or State's Attorney, it shall be verified by affidavit of such person that the same is true, or that the same is true as he is informed and believes. Before an information is filed by any person other than the Attorney General or State's Attorney, one of the judges of the Municipal Court shall examine the information and may examine the person presenting the same and require other evidence and satisfy himself that there is probable cause for filing the same and so endorse the same. Every information shall set forth the offense with reasonable certainty, substantially as required in an indictment, and the proceedings thereon shall be the same, as near as may be, as upon indictment in the criminal court of Cook county, excepting as is by this act otherwise provided. But criminal cases in which the punishment is by fine only not exceeding five hundred dollars ($500) may in the discretion of the court, be prosecuted by complaint as is provided by law for the prosecution of criminal cases before justices of the peace.

Any person committed for a criminal or supposed criminal offense and not admitted to bail and not tried within four months after the date of arrest shall be set at liberty by the court, unless the delay shall happen on the application of the prisoner or unless the court is satisfied that due exertion has been made to procure the evidence on the part of the people, and that there is reasonable grounds to believe that such evidence may be procured within the next sixty days in which case the court may continue the case for such time as the court may deem necessary not exceeding said sixty days: Provided however, that if said person be not tried within said sixty days no further continuance shall be granted and said person shall be set at liberty by the court.

Section 28. That, until otherwise provided by the rules of the Municipal Court and except as is herein otherwise prescribed, cases of the first class mentioned in section two (2) of this act shall be commenced and prosecuted in said Municipal Court in the same manner in which similar suits and proceedings are required to be commenced and prosecuted in the circuit courts, and excepting also in the following particulars:

First. The summons, when the first process is a summons, or the writ, when the first process is a writ, shall be directed to the bailiff to execute and shall be returnable upon some Monday at least ten days, and not more than thirty days, after the date thereof.

Second. Service of such summons or writ shall be made by delivering a copy thereof to the defendant, if an individual, and informing him of the contents thereof, but if any defendant be a corporation, the service shall be made in the manner provided by law for similar cases in the circuit courts.

Third. Notice to the defendant by publication may be given under like circumstances and in the same manner as is provided by law for similar cases in the circuit courts, but the notice published, in lieu of stating the time of the return of the summons or writ, shall state the date on or before which the defendant is required to appear, which date shall be some Monday not less than forty nor more than sixty days after the date of the first publication of notice, as the plaintiff may require.

Fourth. No such suit shall be commenced in the Municipal Court unless the defendant, if there be but one defendant, resides or is found within the city of Chicago, or if the defendant be a corporation, unless its principal office is within said city; but if the defendant be a corporation not having a principal office in the city of Chicago, such suit may be brought in the Municipal Court whenever service of process may be had within the city upon any officer, agent or employee of such corporation upon whom service of process might be had if issued in a suit commenced in the circuit court.

Fifth. The provisions of paragraph fourth above, shall not apply to attachment suits brought against non-residents of this State, which suits may be brought in the Municipal Court when any property of the defendant is levied upon, or any garnishee resides or is found within the city of Chicago.

Sixth. When there are several defendants, one of whom resides or is found in the city of Chicago, a summons or writ may be issued to the sheriff of Cook county for any defendant residing in said county, but outside of the city of Chicago, or to the sheriff of any other county for any defendant residing in such county, and service of any summons or writ so issued shall be made in the same manner as herein required in the case of a summons or writ directed to the bailiff: Provided, however, that no judgment shall, in any such case, be rendered against any defendant served with process outside of the city of Chicago unless judgment be also rendered against a defendant served within said city of Chicago.

Seventh. The plaintiff shall file his declaration within five days after the commencement of the suit, in default whereof the suit shall be dismissed unless the court by an order entered in said suit shall extend the time for filing such declaration.

Eighth. The defendant shall, in case he shall have been served with process of summons, or with the writ five days or more prior to the return day thereof, demur or plead to the declaration or the complaint on or before the Monday succeeding such return day; but in case the summons or writ shall have been served less than five days prior to the return day the defendant shall not be required to plead to the declaration or complaint until on or before the second Monday after such return day. In case the time for filing the declaration or complaint shall be extended by the court, the time for the defendant to demur or plead to the same shall be extended until the second Monday succeeding the expiration of such extension of time. The time within which the defendant is required to demur or plead may be extended by the court in its discretion.

But all cases provided for in this section shall be commenced, prosecuted and disposed of in some branch court, held in the First District.

Section 29. That cases of the fourth class and cases of the fifth class mentioned in section two (2) of this act shall be brought and prosecuted in the district in which the defendant, if there be but one defendant, or one of the defendants, if there be more than one defendant, resides or is found, or if the defendant be a corporation having its principal office in the city of Chicago, in the district in which its principal office is located; but if the defendant be a corporation not having a principal office in the city of Chicago, suit may be brought in any district within which service of process may be had upon any officer, agent or employe of such corporation, upon whom service of process might be had if issued in a suit commenced in the circuit court. If, in any such case, there is more than one defendant and one defendant resides or is found within the district in which such suit is brought or is properly served with process therein, the process of such Municipal Court may be served upon the remaining defendant or defendants at any place within said city of Chicago. But no suit shall be brought against the city of Chicago or any other municipal corporation in any other than the First District. If, in any case where there is more than one defendant, process is duly served upon one or more defendant and returned not served as to another defendant or other defendants, the suit shall proceed as in like cases in the circuit court. But the requirement that the defendant, if there be but one defendant, or one of the defendants, if there be more than one defendant must reside or be found within the district in which such suit is brought shall not apply to attachment suits brought against non-residents of this State, which suits may be brought in any district when any property of the defendant is levied upon within such district or any garnishee resides or is found in such district, nor shall it apply to forcible entry and detainer suits in which the defendants do not reside or cannot be found within the city of Chicago, which suits may be brought in any district in which the property, the possession of which is sought to be recovered, is situated, and service of summons may be had by notice by publication in the manner required by law in cases of attachments in courts of record. When, upon the complaint of any defendant, it shall be made to appear to the Municipal Court in any district that the suit has been improperly brought therein, the court shall not be required on that account to dismiss the suit, if the Municipal Court in any district could properly have jurisdiction thereof, but in such case the court may cause such suit to be transferred to the proper district and the court in the district to which the same is transferred shall proceed therewith as if the same had been originally commenced in said district: Provided, however, that the court may, in its discretion, require the plaintiff to pay the costs of the defendant paid by him prior to such transfer: And, provided further, that whenever a trial by jury is demanded in any case, whether civil, criminal or quasi criminal, the court may, in its discretion, direct the trial of said case to be had in the First District, and for that purpose may cause said case to be transferred to the first district to be there tried and disposed of.

Section 30. That every suit at law in the Municipal Court, other than a case of the second class or a case of the third class mentioned in section two (2) of this act, shall be tried by the court without a jury unless the plaintiff, at the time he commences his suit, or the defendant, at the time he enters his appearance, shall file with the clerk a demand in writing of a trial by jury, which demand, however, may be withdrawn by the party filing the same at any time before the trial, and in every case of the third class mentioned in section two of this act, a trial by jury shall be deemed waived unless the defendant shall expressly demand such trial.

Section 31. That in all cases other than one of the second class mentioned in section two (2) of this act tried by jury in a Municipal Court each party shall be entitled to a challenge of the same number of jurors without showing cause for such challenge as are allowed in similar cases in the circuit courts and in the criminal court of Cook county, and challenges for statutory and other causes shall be allowed as in similar cases in the circuit court and in said criminal court of Cook county. It shall be the duty of the judge presiding at the trial to examine or cause to be examined all jurors called into the jury box in any case with respect to their statutory qualifications to serve as petit jurors in such case, and to permit the plaintiff, or the people, and the defendant to propound to the jurors such pertinent questions as may be necessary for the purpose of ascertaining whether the jurors are biased or prejudiced. But upon appeal or writ of error to review any judgment of said Municipal Court in any case tried therein by jury no assignment of error shall be allowed which shall call in question any ruling of the court pertaining to or connected with the impaneling of the jury, other than one improperly restricting the right of the defendant to examine the jurors as to bias or prejudice, or improperly overruling a challenge by the defendant of a juror for bias or prejudice.

Section 32. That the Municipal Court in any civil suit pending therein, at any time before the trial or final hearing thereof, may permit the filing therein of interrogatories to be answered by any party to such suit or any person for whose immediate benefit such suit is prosecuted or defended, or by the directors, officers, superintendent or managing agents of any corporation which is a party to the record in such suit, at the instance of the adverse party or parties or any of them, and to require an answer under oath to all such interrogatories as the party to be interrogated might be required to answer, if called as a witness upon the trial or hearing of such suit, but the party filing such interrogatories shall not be concluded by the answers thereto, if he shall elect to introduce the same or any or either of them upon the trial or final hearing.

Section 33. That upon the trial or hearing of any suit in the Municipal Court any party thereto, or any person for whose immediate benefit such suit is prosecuted or defended, or the directors, officers, superintendent or managing agents of any corporation which is a party to the record in such suit, may be examined upon the trial thereof as if under cross-examination at the instance of the adverse party or parties or any of them, and for that purpose may be compelled, in the same manner and subject to the same rules for examination as any other witness, to testify, but the party calling for such examination shall not be concluded thereby, but may rebut the testimony thus given by counter testimony.

Section 34. That whenever in any suit pending in the Municipal Court, evidence shall be necessary concerning any fact in support of or in opposition to any interlocutory or other motion or application, other than an application for a change of venue, the court may, in its discretion, require such evidence to be presented by the oral examination of witnesses in open court or otherwise, and may make all necessary orders for such oral examination.

Section 35. That any judge of the Municipal Court shall upon the application of either party and upon reasonable notice to the opposite party, have power to sign or otherwise make any order in any suit pending in the Municipal Court, at any place within the city of Chicago, whenever in the opinion of such judge the granting of such order at such place is in furtherance of justice and such order shall be as effective as if made in any court room of said court or in the chambers of said judge.

Section 36. That cases in the Municipal Court shall be tried in such order and the calendars of cases shall be so arranged as may be determined by the chief justice or by rules of the court adopted as herein provided.

Section 37. That in trials by jury in the Municipal Court the court shall not charge the jury as to the facts but may state the testimony and the law and the charge may, in the discretion of the court, be given orally or in writing.

Section 38. That whenever it appears in any bill of exceptions signed in any case of the first class or any case of the second class or any case of the third class, mentioned in section two (2) of this act, tried and determined in the Municipal Court, that any erroneous ruling was made by said Municipal Court against the objection of the party complaining thereof, but that no formal exception was taken by such party thereto, such erroneous ruling shall be subject to review upon appeal or writ of error to the same extent and in like manner as if it appeared that a formal exception had been taken thereto by the party complaining, and no bill of exceptions shall be held defective for the want of the seal of the judge thereto. Upon the prosecution of an appeal or writ of error to review any judgment of the Municipal Court, in any such case, the original bill of exceptions, in lieu of a certified copy thereof, shall be inserted in the transcript of the record to be filed in the supreme court or appellate court upon such appeal or writ of error, unless the Municipal Court shall otherwise direct, and upon the final determination of such appeal or writ of error, such original bill of exceptions shall be remitted to the Municipal Court.

Section 39. That no application for a change of venue in any case of the fourth class or in any case of the fifth class mentioned in section two (2) of this act, or in any criminal case punishable by fine or imprisonment otherwise than in the penitentiary, on account of the prejudice of the judge shall be allowed by the Municipal Court when the applicant names in his application more than one judge from whom such change of venue is desired, nor unless such application for a change of venue is made by petition as in like cases in the circuit courts, and such petition is filed at or before the time of the filing or entering by the defendant of his appearance in the suit in which such change of venue is asked for, and in no case shall the granting of any change of venue delay the trial of the suit, but such suit shall be tried and disposed of at the time set for the trial thereof or at the time to which the trial thereof may be postponed before some other judge of the court than the one from whom the change of venue has been granted, or in any other district in which the same may be ordered to be tried, and all orders necessary for the setting of such case for trial and for the securing of a speedy trial thereof may be made by the judge from whom said change of venue has been obtained.

Section 40. That every case of the fourth class and every case of the fifth class mentioned in said section two (2) of this act, excepting attachment suits, replevin suits, cases of distress for rent, and forcible entry and detainer suits and also quasi-criminal cases brought in the Municipal Court, shall be commenced by the filing by the plaintiff with the clerk of a praecipe for a summons, specifying the names of the parties to the suit, the amount of the plaintiff's claim and the day at which the summons shall be made returnable, which day shall be not less than five (5) nor more than fifteen (15) days from the filing of the praecipe, and a bill of particulars of the plaintiff's claim, which bill of particulars, if the suit be upon a contract, express or implied, shall consist of a statement of the account or of the nature of the demand, or, if the suit be for a tort it shall consist of a brief statement of the nature of the tort and such further information as will reasonably inform the defendant of the nature of the case he is called upon to defend, but nothing herein contained shall be construed to require the bill of particulars in any action for a tort to set forth the cause of action with the particularity required in a declaration at common law. In cases of the fourth class and in cases of the fifth class mentioned in said section two (2) of this act, the Municipal Court may adopt such rules and regulations as it may deem necessary to enable the parties, in advance of the trial, to ascertain the nature of the plaintiff's claim or claims, or of the defendant's defense or defenses.

Section 41. That upon the filing of such praecipe and bill of particulars the clerk of the Municipal Court shall issue a summons to the defendant directed to the bailiff to execute and returnable at ten o'clock a. m. sharp of the day for such return specified in the praecipe, which summons shall state the amount of the plaintiff's claim and shall be attested in like manner as a summons issued out of a court of record. Upon every such summons there shall be printed in plain type the provisions of this act pertaining to defaults in case of the non-appearance of the defendant, and setting of the case for trial in case of appearance, and such further information as may be prescribed by the chief justice.

Section 42. That every such summons issued out of the Municipal Court shall be served, if the defendant be an individual, by delivering to him a copy thereof and informing him of its contents, or, if the defendant be a corporation, service shall be made upon such corporation in the same manner as is now or hereafter may be provided by law for the service of process upon such corporation in a suit at law when issued out of a circuit court. In case said summons shall not be served upon defendant three days or more prior to the return day thereof an alias summons may be issued and a subsequent pluries summons may be issued in any case when a previous alias or pluries summons shall not have been served upon the defendant three days or more prior to the return day fixed in the previous summons. Service of such alias or pluries summons shall be made in the same manner as that above provided for the service of the original summons.

Section 43. That upon the return of any such summons duly served upon the defendant, the plaintiff shall be entitled to judgment as in case of default, unless the defendant shall either appear in person at the time specified in such summons, or shall at or before the time fixed in such summons for his appearance, file his appearance in writing in said Municipal Court. Upon such default the court shall assess the damages after hearing such evidence as the court may deem sufficient for that purpose. In case the defendant shall desire upon the trial to present any set-off or counter claim, he shall file a bill of particulars thereof with his appearance; provided, however, the court may, in its discretion, extend the time for the filing of such bill of particulars. It shall be the duty of the court at ten o'clock a. m. sharp of each day upon which the court is open for business, or as soon thereafter as is practicable, to call the cases in which the summonses are then returnable for the purpose of ascertaining whether the defendants therein have appeared in person or have entered their appearances in writing, and to give such directions with respect to such appearances as the court may find necessary or proper for the information of the parties.

Section 44. That the clerk of the Municipal Court shall keep on hand and furnish to suitors and attorneys on application printed blank forms of praecipes, summonses, entries of appearance, affidavits, bonds, attachment writs, replevin writs, petitions for changes of venue, and all other papers necessary for the use of the parties to suits in such court. Forms for such papers shall be prescribed by the chief justice of the Municipal Court, who shall also from time to time prescribe and cause to be printed forms of bills of particulars to be used in said court.

Section 45. That if in any case of the fourth class or in any case of the fifth class mentioned in said section two (2) of this act, brought in the Municipal Court, the defendant shall appear at the time specified in the summons or shall have entered his appearance in writing at or before the time so specified, the court shall, at such time, or as soon thereafter as practicable, fix a time for the trial thereof and such case shall be tried at the time so fixed or as soon thereafter as the other business of the court will permit.

Section 46. That amendments to bills of particulars, praecipes, summonses and other papers filed by either party may, in the discretion of the court, be allowed at any time.

Section 47. That the court may in any case of the fourth class or any case of the fifth class mentioned in section two (2) of this act, grant such postponements of the trial, and may make such other orders in respect thereto as the court may deem proper and necessary for the protection of the rights of the parties, and the failure of the court to try any such case at the time to which the trial has been postponed shall not operate as a discontinuance, but the same shall remain under the control of the court until the final disposition thereof.

Section 48. That the practice and proceedings in the Municipal Court, other than the mode of trial and the proceedings subsequent to the trial, in cases of attachment, replevin, distress for rent and forcible entry and detainer included within the cases of the fourth class and within the cases of the fifth class mentioned in section two (2) of this act, shall be the same, as near as may be, as that which is now prescribed by law for similar cases in courts of record, with the following exceptions:

First. There shall be no written pleadings, excepting such as are required by law in similar cases before justices of the peace, other than the affidavits in attachment and replevin, copies of the distress warrants in cases of distress for rent, and the complaint in forcible entry and detainer, and the writs shall be made returnable in like manner as the summons in other cases of such classes in the Municipal Court.

Second. In attachment cases the plaintiff at the time of the commencement of his suit and the defendant at the time of his appearing in person or of his entering his appearance in writing, if he shall desire upon the trial to present any set-off or counter-claim, shall file a bill of particulars thereof.

Third. In forcible entry and detainer cases the plaintiff may unite with his claim for possession of the property any claim for rent or damages for withholding possession of the same, providing such claim does not exceed one thousand dollars ($1,000).

Fourth. The mode of trial and all proceedings subsequent to the trial shall be the same, as near as may be, as in other cases of the fourth class and cases of the fifth class, mentioned in section two (2) of this act.

Section 49. That the practice in the Municipal Court in quasi criminal cases shall be the same as is herein prescribed for civil cases of the fourth class mentioned in section two (2) of this act, in said court, excepting as follows:

First. The first process in any suit for the violation of any municipal ordinance shall, except as hereinafter provided, be a summons. If the defendant, after being duly served with summons, fails to appear personally at the time specified in the summons, or to enter his appearance at or before such time, the court may proceed, as in case of default, or may issue a warrant for the arrest of the defendant.

Second. When the offense complained of is also a violation of any provision of the criminal code, the court may issue a warrant in the first instance for the violation of the ordinance under like circumstances under which a warrant might issue for a violation of the criminal code, and such warrant may be served at any place within the city of Chicago if the court in its discretion shall so direct.

Third. A warrant may issue in the first instance upon the affidavit of any person that an ordinance has been violated and that the person making the complaint has reasonable grounds to believe the party charged is guilty thereof and will escape unless arrested, and stating the facts upon which such belief is based, provided the judge to whom application is made for such warrant shall be satisfied, after examining under oath the party making the affidavit, that such arrest should be made, and any person arrested upon any warrant herein provided for shall, without unnecessary delay, be taken before the branch court to which such warrant is returnable and tried for the alleged offense, and such warrant may be served at any place within the city of Chicago, if the court in its discretion shall so direct.

Section 50. That upon the arrest of any person for any criminal or quasi criminal offense within the jurisdiction of the Municipal Court any judge of the Municipal Court, or any judge of the circuit or superior court of Cook county shall have power to let such person to bail and in case of the arrest of any person for any quasi criminal offense or for any offense where the punishment is by fine or imprisonment, otherwise than in the penitentiary, the chief of police or any captain, lieutenant or sergeant of police of the city of Chicago shall have power to let such person to bail. The bail bond in any such case shall be conditioned for the appearance of the person arrested before some branch court at a time fixed in such bond for such appearance, which time shall be not later than two days after the date of the bond. Any bond so taken shall be signed by one or more sureties to be approved by such judge or officer, who shall be authorized and required to administer oaths for the purpose of ascertaining the sufficiency of the sureties. All bonds so taken shall be filed with the clerk of the Municipal Court at the branch court at which the person so arrested is required to appear. The exercise of the power hereby conferred of letting to bail shall be subject to regulation by such rules as may be adopted by a majority of the judges of the Municipal Court as herein provided. But any person so arrested shall have the right to be brought immediately before the Municipal Court in the district in which he is arrested, or, if there be no judge then in attendance upon such court, to the Municipal Court in any other district at which there may be a judge then in attendance, to be dealt with by such court according to law.

Section 51. That if the method of procedure in any case within the jurisdiction of the Municipal Court is not sufficiently prescribed by this act, or by any rule of court adopted in pursuance hereof, the branch court in which the same is brought or proposed to be brought, may make such provision for the conducting and disposing of the same as may appear to the court proper for the just determination of the rights of the parties.

Section 52. That both in direct and in collateral proceedings the same presumptions shall be indulged with respect to the jurisdiction of the Municipal Court over the subject matter of suits and over the parties thereto, as are indulged with respect to the jurisdiction of circuit courts in like cases.

Section 53. That any money judgment rendered by the Municipal Court, when no execution issued thereon is outstanding, may be satisfied by the payment by the party against whom the same has been rendered of the amount thereof to the clerk of said court, who, upon payment being made, shall enter satisfaction thereof and shall, upon demand, pay over the money received by him to the person appearing of record to be entitled thereto.

Section 54. That the Municipal Court shall take judicial notice of all matters of which courts of general jurisdiction of this State are required to take judicial notice, and also of the following:

1. All general ordinances of the city of Chicago, and all general ordinances of every municipal corporation situated in whole or in part within the limits of the city of Chicago.

2. All laws of a public nature enacted by any state or territory of the United States.

Section 55. That the masters in chancery of the circuit and superior courts of Cook county shall be ex officio masters in chancery of the Municipal Court.

Section 56. That the costs in civil cases in the Municipal Court shall be as follows:

First. In a case of the first class mentioned in section two (2) of this act the plaintiff at the time of commencing his suit shall pay to the clerk in full for all services to be rendered by said clerk for the plaintiff in said suit other than the making or furnishing of transcripts of the record, the sum of eight dollars ($8.00), and if he at the same time files with the clerk a demand in writing of a trial by jury he shall pay to the clerk the further sum of six dollars ($6.00) to be applied towards the payment of the fees of jurors in said court.

Second. In a case of the second class mentioned in section two (2) of this act the plaintiff, at the time of the bringing of the transcript of the record to the Municipal Court, shall pay to the clerk in full for all services to be rendered by said clerk for the plaintiff in said suit other than the making or furnishing of transcripts of the record, the sum of eight dollars ($8.00), and if he at the same time files with the clerk a demand in writing of a trial by jury, he shall pay to the clerk the further sum of six dollars ($6.00) to be applied towards the payment of the fees of the jurors in said court.

Third. In any case of the first class or of the second class mentioned in section two (2) of this act the defendant at the time of filing his appearance, and before he shall be permitted to make any defense, shall pay to the clerk in full for all services to be rendered by said clerk for the defendant in said suit, other than the making or furnishing of transcripts of the record, the sum of three dollars ($3.00), and if he shall at the same time file with the clerk a demand in writing of a trial by jury, he shall pay to the clerk the further sum of six dollars ($6.00) to be applied towards the payment of the fees of the jurors in said court.

Fourth. In any case of the fourth class or of the fifth class mentioned in section two (2) of this act, the plaintiff, at the time of commencing his suit shall pay to the clerk in full for all services to be rendered by said clerk, if such case be other than an action of forcible entry and detainer, the sum of two dollars ($2.00) when the amount claimed by him in money or property does not exceed two hundred dollars ($200), the sum of five dollars ($5.00) when the amount claimed by him exceeds two hundred dollars ($200) but does not exceed one thousand dollars ($1,000), and the sum of two dollars ($2.00) in a case of forcible entry and detainer, and if the plaintiff at the time he commences his suit files with the clerk a demand in writing of a trial by jury, he shall pay to the clerk the further sum of six dollars ($6.00) to be applied towards the payment of the fees of jurors in said court.

Fifth. In any case of the fourth class or of the fifth class mentioned in section two (2) of this act the defendant, at the time of his appearance, shall pay to the clerk in full for all services to be rendered by said clerk, if the suit be other than an action of forcible entry and detainer and the amount claimed by the plaintiff in money or property exceeds two hundred dollars ($200) the sum of two dollars ($2.00), and if the defendant shall at the same time file with the clerk a demand in writing of a trial by jury he shall pay to the clerk the further sum of six dollars ($6.00) to be applied towards the payment of the fees of jurors in said court.

Sixth. The costs to be paid for the services of the bailiff and of the sheriffs and other costs not included in the above in cases of the first class and in cases of the second class mentioned in section two (2) of this act shall be the same as those required by law from time to time to be paid for similar services in cases in the circuit court of Cook county.

Seventh. In any case of the fourth class or of the fifth class mentioned in section two (2) of this act the party delivering to the bailiff any summons, writ of attachment, writ of replevin, subpoena, writ of execution or other process shall at the time of making such delivery pay to the bailiff the sum of one dollar ($1.00) for each defendant named in such process upon whom service thereof is to be made, and in cases of writs of attachment, replevin or execution, he shall pay to the bailiff the further sum of one dollar ($1.00) when any levy upon or seizure of property is to be made thereunder, and shall also pay to the bailiff the actual expense of seizing or caring for any property levied upon or seized thereunder.

Eighth. In any case of the fourth class or of the fifth class mentioned in section two (2) of this act, the party procuring any certified copy of the record or of any portion thereof in any case shall pay to the clerk the same fees required by law from time to time to be paid to the clerk of the circuit court of Cook county for similar services.

Ninth. In any case of the fourth class or of the fifth class mentioned in section two (2) of this act the bailiff, as commissions on moneys realized by execution, shall collect from the defendant in the execution five (5) per cent. upon the amount realized if it do not exceed one hundred dollars ($100), but if the amount realized exceeds one hundred dollars ($100) the bailiff shall collect five (5) per cent. on the first one hundred dollars ($100) and three (3) per cent. upon the excess over one hundred dollars ($100).

The amounts hereby required to be advanced when a demand in writing of a trial by jury is filed to be applied towards the payment of the fees of jurors in said court shall be paid by the clerk into the city treasury.

In any case included within the terms of this section the court may, in its discretion, order that an advance payment of costs may be waived in favor of any poor person whose financial circumstances, as made to appear to the court, are such that such advance payment would be unduly burdensome or oppressive.

Section 57. That the costs in criminal and in quasi criminal cases and proceedings in the Municipal Court, instituted in the name or by the authority of the people or in the name of any State or county officer in his official capacity, shall be as follows:

First. The clerk's fees in full for all services rendered by him shall be the sum of six dollars ($6).

Second. The bailiff's fees shall be the same as those which may now or hereafter be fixed by law for the sheriff in counties of the third class, for similar services.

All moneys collected upon judgments of the Municipal Court in such cases shall be paid to the clerk, who shall, at the end of every three months, apply the same, or so much thereof as may be necessary, to the payment of the uncollected costs in criminal and quasi criminal cases instituted in the Municipal Court in the name of the people, or in the name of any State or county officer in his official capacity, and pay over the balance, if any, to the officer entitled by law to receive the same.

Section 58. That the costs in cases in the Municipal Court instituted in the name of the city of Chicago or in the name of any officer thereof in his official capacity, shall be as follows:

First. The clerk's fees in full for all services rendered by him shall be the sum of six dollars ($6).

Second. The bailiff's fees shall be the same as those which may now or hereafter be fixed by law for the sheriff in counties of the third class for similar services.

All moneys collected upon judgments of the Municipal Court in cases for the violation of the ordinances of the city of Chicago shall be paid to the clerk, who shall pay over the same to the city of Chicago, within one week after receiving the same.

Section 59. That, the clerk and each deputy clerk shall collect for the acknowledgment and entering of memoranda of chattle mortgages and for the acknowledgment of other written instruments the same fees allowed by law to justices of the peace for similar services and the fees so collected and all costs collected in each week by the clerk and bailiff shall be paid over by them respectively to the city of Chicago on the Monday of the succeeding week, and the clerk and bailiff shall be held personally responsible for all costs required to be paid to them in advance as hereinbefore provided and the clerk shall be personally responsible for all fees required as aforesaid to be collected by him and by each deputy clerk. The clerk and the bailiff shall be required to keep complete and accurate accounts of all moneys collected by them and by their respective deputies and such accounts shall, under the direction of the chief justice of said Municipal Court, be examined and audited monthly, the expense thereof to be paid by the city.

Section 60. That the offices of justices of the peace, police magistrates and constables in and for the territory within the city of Chicago be and they are hereby abolished, and that the jurisdiction of justices of the peace in the territory of the county of Cook outside of the city of Chicago be and is hereby limited to the territory of said county outside of said city, but this section of this act shall not become operative until the first Monday of December, A. D. 1906, and on and after said date the jurisdiction hereby conferred upon the Municipal Court shall exclude the exercise of any portion of such jurisdiction by all other courts excepting courts of record, and on and after said first Monday of December, A. D. 1906, no other court than a court of record shall exercise jurisdiction in any case in which said Municipal Court is given jurisdiction by this act.

Section 61. That when the offices of justices of the peace within the city of Chicago shall be abolished the docket of each justice of the peace whose office is thus abolished shall be forthwith delivered up to the clerk of the Municipal Court, who shall preserve the same in his office kept in the First District. Executions may be issued by the clerk of said court upon any unsatisfied judgments rendered by such justice of the peace in all cases in which the same might have been issued had such office of justice of the peace not been abolished, and said Municipal Court shall allow an appeal to the circuit or superior court of Cook county from any judgment rendered by any justice of the peace within twenty (20) days prior to the first Monday of December, A. D. 1906, upon the giving by the appellant of an appeal bond with security as now required by law in cases of appeals from justices of the peace, provided such appeal is prayed at any time within twenty (20) days after the first Monday of December, A. D. 1906. In all cases not determined or finally disposed of by such justice of the peace at the time his office is abolished, such proceedings shall be had in said Municipal Court as might be had were such suits originally brought in said court, but no trial of any such case shall be had in said court without such notice to the parties thereto as the court may deem necessary. All writs issued by justices of the peace within the city of Chicago and which shall not have been returned on the first Monday of December, A. D. 1906, shall be forthwith returned to the Municipal Court, and said Municipal Court shall have full power to make such provision for the execution or other disposition of all such writs as said court may deem proper for the protection of the rights of the respective parties to the suits in which such writs have been issued.

Section 62. That it shall be the duty of the chief justice of the Municipal Court to superintend the keeping of the records of said court and to prescribe abbreviated forms of entries of orders therein, which abbreviated forms so prescribed shall have the same force and effect as if said orders were entered in full in the records of said court. When any certified transcript of the record, or of any portion thereof, of any suit or proceeding in said court is required, the same shall be written out in full from such abbreviated forms and duly authenticated according to law.

Section 63. That the orders, judgments, and decrees of the Municipal Court in cases of the first class and cases of the second class shall have the same force, be of the same effect, be liens upon real estate in the city of Chicago to the same extent and under the same circumstances, and be executed and enforced in the same manner as the judgments, orders and decrees of the circuit court of Cook county, and such judgments and decrees shall also be liens upon real estate in the county of Cook outside of the city of Chicago after certified transcripts of the same shall have been filed in the office of the recorder of Cook county, which transcripts shall contain the names of the parties to the suits, the kinds of actions, the amounts of the judgments or the general nature and effect of the decrees as the case may be, and the dates on which the judgments and decrees were rendered; provided, however, that no such orders, judgments or decrees shall be liens upon or affect registered land or any estate or interest therein until a certificate under the hand and official seal of the clerk of the Municipal Court, stating the date and purport of the judgment, decree or order, is filed in the office of the register of titles of said Cook county, and a memorial of the same is entered upon the register of the last certificate of title to be affected.

Section 64. That all other judgments of the Municipal Court shall have the same force, be of the same effect and be executed and enforced in the same manner as the judgments of the circuit court of Cook county. But no such judgment shall be a lien upon the real estate of the person against whom it is obtained, excepting from the time of the filing of a certified transcript thereof in the office of the recorder of Cook county, which transcript shall contain the names of the parties to the suit, the kind of action, the amount of the judgment and the date upon which the same was rendered provided, however, that no such judgment shall be a lien upon or affect registered land or any estate or interest therein until a certified transcript thereof is filed in the office of the register of titles of Cook county and a memorial of the same is entered upon the register of the last certificate of title to be affected. The recorder of Cook county shall provide and keep in his office for said Municipal Court well bound books for entering therein an alphabetical docket of all judgments and decrees rendered in said Municipal Court as is now required by law for docketing judgments and decrees rendered in circuit courts, and shall forthwith, after the filing of any transcript herein provided for, enter the same, together with the hour, day, month and year of the filing of such certified transcript and the general number thereof.

Section 65. That in case it shall be hereafter determined that so much of sections nine (9) and twelve (12) hereof as fixes the terms of office of the chief justice and associate judges of the Municipal Court is invalid, this act shall not on that account be adjudged wholly invalid, but the terms of office of the chief justice and associate judges of said Municipal Court shall in such case be four (4) years, and they shall hold their offices until their successors shall be elected and qualified, and on the first Tuesday after the first Monday of November, A. D. 1910, and on the first Tuesday after the first Monday of November of every fourth year thereafter there shall be elected a chief justice and twenty-four (24) associate judges of said Municipal Court as successors in office of the judges hereby required to be elected on the first Tuesday after the first Monday of November, A. D. 1906, and the terms of office of the associate judges which may be added to said Municipal Court in pursuance of section twelve (12) hereof shall be four (4) years.

Section 66. That the invalidity of any portion of this act shall not affect the validity of any other portion thereof, which can be given effect without such invalid part.

Section 67. That this act shall be submitted to a vote of the legal voters of the city of Chicago at the general election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday of November, A. D. 1905, the ballots to be used at said election in voting upon this act shall be in substantially the following form.

For consenting to the act entitled "An Act in relation to a Municipal Court in the city of Chicago."
Against consenting to the act entitled "An Act in relation to a Municipal Court in the city of Chicago "

If a majority of the legal voters of said city voting on the question at such election shall vote in favor of consenting to this act, the same shall immediately thereupon take effect and become operative.

Mr. Pendarvis moved that the House refuse to concur with the Senate in the adoption of Senate amendments to House Bill No. 422.

The motion prevailed,

And the House refused to concur. Ordered that the Clerk inform the Senate thereof.

The hour having arrived, the time heretofore fixed, for the special consideration of Senate Bill No. 296, in the order of second reading,

Senate Bill No. 296, a bill for "An Act defining motor vehicles and providing for the registration of the same, and uniform rules regulating the use and speed thereof."

Was taken up and read at large a second time,

Whereupon the Committee on License offered the following amendment and moved its adoption:

AMENDMENT No. 1.

Amend Senate Bill No. 296, in the House, as printed, by striking out the figures "twenty-two (22)" after the word "section" page twelve (12) and insert in lieu thereof "twenty-three (23)" and insert the following section to be known as section twenty-two (22) of said bill:

In any action brought to recover any damages, either to person or property, caused by running such motor vehicle at a greater rate of speed than designated in section ten (10) the plaintiff or plaintiffs shall be deemed to have made out a prima facie case by showing the fact of such injury, and that such person or persons driving such motor vehicle or vehicles was at the time of the injury running the same at a speed in excess of that mentioned in section ten (10).

And the amendment was adopted.

Mr. Arnold offered the following amendment and moved its adoption:

AMENDMENT No. 2.

Amend Senate Bill No. 296 by striking out the words, "and other motor vehicles," in line 6 page 1 of the printed bill.

And the amendment was adopted.

Mr. Arnold offered the following amendment and moved its adoption:

AMENDMENT No. 3.

Amend Senate Bill No. 296 by striking out the words "the township, town" in line 7, section 10a, page 5 of printed bill and insert in place of the words so stricken out the following word, "any."

And the amendment was adopted.

Mr. Lindly offered the following amendment and moved its adoption:

AMENDMENT No. 4.

Amend Senate Bill No. 296 by inserting in the nineteenth line of section 13 on page 7 of the printed bill after the words, "for the public safety" the following words, "nor from setting aside certain streets by ordinance for the exclusive use of horse drawn vehicles and excluding automobiles therefrom in the same manner and to the same extent as they might lawfully have done before the passage of this act."

And the amendment was adopted.

Mr. Isermann offered the following amendment and moved its adoption:

AMENDMENT No. 5.

Amend Senate Bill No. 296 by striking out in section 17 all words after the word "interference" in line 8 of said section.

And the amendment was adopted.

Mr. Heintz offered the following amendment and moved its adoption:

AMENDMENT No. 6.

Amend Senate Bill No. 296, in House, by striking out all of said bill after the enacting clause and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

Short Title. That the short title of this act shall be the "motor vehicle law." Except as otherwise herewith provided, it shall be controlling, (1) upon the registration and numbering of motor vehicles and chauffeurs, (2) on their use of the public highways, and (3) on the penalties for the violation of any of the provisions of this act.

Section 2. Definitions. The words and phrases used in this act shall, for the purposes of this act, unless the same be contrary to, or inconsistent with the context, be construed as follows: (1) "motor vehicle" shall include all vehicles propelled by any power other than muscular power, excepting such motor vehicles as run only upon rails or tracks, provided that nothing herein contained shall, except as provided by section 15 of this act, apply to motor cycles, motor bicycles, traction engines or road rollers; (2) "public highways" shall include any highway, county road, state road, public street, avenue, alley, park, parkway, driveway or public place in any county, city, village, incorporated town or town; (3) "closely built up" shall mean, (a) the territory of a city, village, incorporated town or town contiguous to a public highway which is at that point built up with structures devoted to business, (b) the territory of a city, village, incorporated town or town contiguous to a public highway not devoted to business, where for not less than one-quarter of a mile the dwelling houses on such highway average less than one hundred feet apart, and also (c) the territory outside of a city, incorporated town or village contiguous to a public highway within a distance of one-half mile from any postoffice, provided, that for a distance of at least one-quarter of a mile within such limits the dwelling houses on such highway average less than one hundred feet apart, and provided further, that the local authorities having charge of such highway shall have placed conspicuously thereon signs of sufficient size to be easily readable by a person using the highway, bearing the words "slow down to six miles," and also an arrow pointing in the direction where the speed is to be reduced; (4) "local authorities" shall include all officers of counties, cities, villages, incorporated towns, towns or road districts, as well as all boards, committee and other public officials of such counties, cities, villages, incorporated towns, towns or road districts; (5) "chauffeur" shall mean any person operating a motor vehicle as mechanic, employe or for hire.

Section 3. Filing Statement. Every person hereafter acquiring a motor vehicle shall, for every vehicle owned by him, file in the office of the Secretary of State a statement of his name and address, with a brief description of the vehicle to be registered, including the name of the maker, factory number, style of vehicle and motor power, on a blank to be prepared and furnished by such Secretary for that purpose; the filing fee shall be two dollars.

Section 4. Registration and Record. The Secretary of State shall thereupon file such statement in his office, register such motor vehicle in a book or index to be kept for that purpose, and assign it a distinctive number. The Secretary of State shall as often as he deems necessary, print and mail to the clerks of all counties, cities, villages and incorporated towns in the State, lists of registrations made in accordance herewith together with the numbers of the motor vehicles and the names and addresses of the owners thereof.

Section 5. Registration Seal. The Secretary of State shall forthwith on such registration, and without other fee, issue and deliver to the owner of such motor vehicle a seal of aluminum or other suitable metal, which shall be circular in form, approximately two inches in diameter, and have stamped thereon the words "Registered motor vehicle, No. _____, Illinois motor vehicle law," with the registration number inserted therein; which seal shall thereafter at all times be conspicuously displayed on the motor vehicle, to which such number has been assigned.

Section 6. Owners Previously Registered. If the vehicle has been previously registered, the certificate issued thereon shall be returned to the Secretary of State and in lieu thereof such Secretary shall issue to said owner a registration seal containing the number of such previous registration, upon payment of a fee of one dollar. Upon the sale of a motor vehicle, the vender except a manufacturer or dealer, shall within ten days, return to the Secretary of State the registration seal affixed to such vehicle.

Section 7. Display of Registration Number. Every motor vehicle shall also at all times have the number assigned to it by the Secretary of State displayed on the back of such vehicle in such manner as to be plainly visible, the number to be in Arabic numerals, black on white ground, each not less than three inches in height, and each stroke to be of a width not less than half an inch, and also as a part of such number the letters "Ill." in black on white ground, such letters to be not less than three inches in height.

Section 8. Registration by Manufacturers or Dealers. A manufacturer of or dealer in motor vehicles shall register one vehicle of each style or type manufactured or dealt in by him, and be entitled to as many duplicate registration seals for each type or style so manufactured or dealt in as he may desire on payment of an additional fee of fifty cents for each duplicate seal. If a registration seal and the corresponding number shall thereafter be affixed to and displayed on every vehicle of such type or style as in this section provided, while such vehicle is being operated on the public highways, it shall be deemed a sufficient compliance with sections three, five, seven and ten of this act, until such vehicle shall be sold or let for hire. Nothing in this section shall be construed to apply to a motor vehicle employed by a manufacturer or dealer for private use or for hire.

Section 9. Fictitious Seal or Number. No motor vehicle shall be used or operated upon the public highways after this act takes effect which shall display thereon a registered seal or number belonging to any other vehicle, or a fictitious seal or number. No motor vehicle shall at any time while on the public highways display more than one number.

Section 10. Unregistered Vehicle Not to be Operated. No motor vehicle shall be used or operated upon the public highways after this act takes effect, unless the owner shall have complied in all respects with sections, three, five, six seven and eight of this act, except that any person purchasing a motor vehicle from a manufacturer, dealer or other person after this act goes into effect shall be allowed to operate such motor vehicle upon the public highways for a period of ten days after the purchase and delivery thereof, provided that during such period such motor vehicle shall bear the registration number and seal of the previous owner under which it was operated or might have been operated by him.

Section 11. Exemption of Non-Resident Owners. The provisions of section three, four, five, six, seven and eight of this act shall not apply to motor vehicles owned by non-residents of this State, provided, the owners thereof have complied with any law requiring the registration of owners of motor vehicles in force in the State, territory or federal district of their residence, and the registration number showing the initial or abbreviation of the name of such State, territory or federal district shall be displayed on such vehicle substantially as in this act provided.

Section 12: Speed Permitted. No person shall operate a motor vehicle on a public highway at a rate of speed greater than is reasonable and proper, having regard to the traffic and use of the highway, or so as to endanger the life or limb of any person, or the safety of any property; or in any event on any public highway where the territory contiguous thereto is closely built up, at a greater rate than one mile in ten minutes, or in a city or village at a greater rate than one mile in six minutes, or elsewhere at a greater rate than one mile in three minutes; subject, however, to the other provisions of this act.

Section 13. Speed at Crossings, Etc. Upon approaching a bridge, dam, sharp curve, or steep descent, and also in traversing such bridge, dam, curve or descent, a person operating a motor vehicle shall have it under control and operate it at a rate of speed of not exceeding one mile in fifteen minutes; and upon approaching a crossing of intersecting highways at a speed not greater than is reasonable and proper, having regard to the traffic then on such highway and the safety of the public, and in no event at a greater speed than one mile in ten minutes.

Section 14. Approaching Horses, Etc. Upon approaching a person walking in the roadway of a public highway, or a horse or horses, or other draft animals, being ridden, led or driven, thereon, a person operating a motor vehicle shall give reasonable warning of its approach, and use every reasonable precaution to ensure the safety of such person or animal, and, in case of horses or other draft animals, to prevent frightening the same.

Section 15. Meeting and Passing Horses. A person operating a motor vehicle or motor cycle or motor bicycle shall, at request or on signal by putting up the hand or otherwise, from a person riding, leading or driving a horse or horses or other draft animals in the opposite direction, shall bring such motor vehicle, cycle or bicycle immediately to a stop, and remain stationary so long as may be reasonable to allow such horse or animal to pass, and in case such horse or animal appears badly frightened or the person operating such motor vehicle is requested so to do, such person shall cause the motor of such vehicle, cycle or bicycle to cease running so long as shall be necessary to prevent accident; and before attempting to pass any horse or horses or other draft animals traveling in the same direction the operator of such motor vehicle shall signal the person riding, leading or driving such horse or other animals and repeat such signal until the attention of such person is attracted, and give time for further precautions to be taken as are necessary to protect life and property.

Section 16. Giving Name and Address. In case of accident to a person or property on the public highway, in the presence of a motor vehicle being operated thereon the person operating such vehicle, shall stop, and, upon request of a person injured, or any person present, give such person his name and address, and, if not the owner, the name and address of the owner of such motor vehicle and the number and make of the same.

Section 17. Any person operating a motor vehicle upon a public highway in this State in a race shall upon conviction be fined in a sum not exceeding two hundred ($200.00) dollars.

Section 18. Rules of the Road. Whenever a person operating a motor vehicle shall meet on a public highway any other person riding or driving a horse or horses or other draft animals, or any other vehicle, the person so operating such motor vehicle shall seasonably turn the same to the right of the center of such highway so as to pass without interference. Any such person so operating a motor vehicle shall at the intersection of public highways, keep to the right of the intersection of the centers of such highways when turning to the right and pass to the right of such intersection when turning to the left. Nothing in this section shall, however, be construed as limiting the meaning or effect of the provisions of sections twelve, thirteen, fourteen, fifteen, sixteen and seventeen of this act. No motor vehicle shall be permitted to stand on any public highway with the machinery running, unless there be an attendant with said motor vehicle. No person in an intoxicated condition shall operate a motor vehicle on any public highway.

Section 19. Brakes, Lamps, Horn, Etc. Every motor vehicle while in use on a public highway shall be provided with good and efficient brakes, and also with a suitable bell, horn or other signal and be so constructed as to exhibit, during the period from one hour after sunset to one hour before sunrise, two lamps showing white lights visible within a reasonable distance in the direction toward which such vehicle is proceeding, showing the registered number of the vehicle in separate Arabic numerals, and the letters "Ill." not less than one inch in height and each stroke to be not less than one-quarter of an inch in width, and also a red light visible in the reverse direction.

Section 20. Local Ordinances Prohibited. Subject to the provisions of this act, local authorities shall have no power to pass, enforce or maintain any ordinance, rule or regulation requiring of any owner or operator of a motor vehicle any license or permit to use the public highways, or excluding or prohibiting any motor vehicle whose owner has complied with sections three, four, five, six, seven and eight of this act from the free use of such highways, except such driveways, speedway or road as has been or may be expressly set apart by law or ordinance for the exclusive use of horses and light carriages, or except as herein provided, in any way affecting the registration or numbering of motor vehicles or prescribing a slower rate of speed than herein specified at which such vehicles may be operated, or the use of the public highways, contrary to or inconsistent with the provisions of this act; and all such ordinances, rules or regulations now in force are hereby declared to be of no validity or effect; provided, however, that the local authorities of cities, villages and incorporated towns may limit by ordinance, rule or regulation hereafter adopted the speed of motor vehicles on the public highways, on condition that such city, village or incorporated towns shall also have placed conspicuously on each main public highway where the city, village or incorporated town line crosses the same and on every main highway where the rate of speed changes, signs of sufficient size to be easily readable by a person using the highway, bearing the words "Slow down to ——— miles" (the rate being inserted) and also an arrow pointing in the direction where the speed is to be reduced or changed, and provided further, that nothing in this act contained shall be construed as limiting the power of local authorities to make, enforce and maintain further ordinances, rules or regulations affecting motor vehicles which are offered to the public for hire.

Section 21. Parks, Parkways and Cemeteries Excepted. Local authorities may, notwithstanding the provisions of this act, make, enforce and maintain such reasonable ordinances, rules or regulations concerning the speed at which motor vehicles may be operated in any parks or parkways within or belonging to a city, village or incorporated town, but in that event, must, by signs at each entrance of such park and along such parkway, conspicuously indicate the rate of speed permitted or required, and may exclude motor vehicles from parks or parkways and from cemeteries or grounds used for the burial of the dead.

Section 22. No Effect on Right to Damages. Nothing in this act shall be construed to curtail or abridge the right of any person to prosecute a civil action for damages by reason of injuries to person or property resulting from the negligent use of the highways by a motor vehicle or its owner or his employe or agent: "Provided, that in all actions brought to recover damages either to person or property, caused by the operating of any motor vehicle upon the public highways of this State in any manner contrary to the provisions of this act, the plaintiff or plaintiffs shall be deemed to have made out a prime facie case by showing the fact of such injury, and that the person operating the motor vehicle was, at the time of the injury, operating the same in a manner contrary to some of the provisions of this act. And provided further, that the person or persons owning such motor vehicle shall be liable for all damage caused by the operating of the same in any manner contrary to the provisions of this act."

Section 23. Filing Chauffeur's Statement. Every person hereafter desiring to operate a motor vehicle as a chauffeur shall file in the office of the Secretary of State on a blank to be supplied by such Secretary, a statement which shall include his name and address and the trade-name and motive power of the motor vehicle or vehicles he is able to operate; and shall pay a registration fee of two dollars.

Section 24. Chauffeur's Registration and Record. The Secretary of State shall thereupon file such statement in his office, register such chauffeur in a book or index to be kept for that purpose, and assign him a number.

Section 25. Chauffeur's Badge. The Secretary of State shall forthwith, upon such registration and without other fee, issue and deliver to such chauffeur a badge of aluminum or other suitable metal, which shall be oval in form, and the greater diameter of which shall not be more than two inches, and such badge shall have stamped thereon the words; "Registered chauffeur, No. _____, Illinois Motor Vehicle Law," with the registration number inserted therein; which badge shall thereafter be worn by such chauffeur pinned upon his clothing in a conspicuous place at all times, while he is operating a motor vehicle upon the public highways. If the operator or chauffeur has previously been registered in the office of the Secretary of State, the certificate heretofore issued to him shall be returned to such secretary who shall issue to said operator or chauffeur, in lieu thereof, a chauffeur's badge upon the payment of a fee of one dollar.

Section 26. Fictitious Badge. No chauffeur, having registered as herein provided, shall voluntarily permit any other person to wear his badge, nor shall any person while operating a motor vehicle wear any badge belonging to any person, or a fictitious badge.

Section 27. Unregistered Chauffeur Cannot Operate. No person shall operate a motor vehicle as a chauffeur upon the public highways after this act takes effect, unless such person shall have complied in all respects with the requirements of this section.

Section 28. Penalties for Excessive Speed, et cetera. The violation of any of the provisions of sections seven, nine, ten, twelve, thirteen, fourteen, fifteen, sixteen, eighteen, nineteen, twenty-three, twenty-five, twenty-six, or twenty-seven of this act, or of any ordinance, rule or regulation adopted by local authorities in pursuance of sections twenty or twenty-one of this act, shall be deemed a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine not exceeding one hundred dollars for the first offense, and punishable by a fine of not less than fifty dollars nor more than one hundred dollars, or imprisonment not exceeding thirty days, or both, for a second offense, and punishable by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than two hundred and fifty dollars and imprisonment not exceeding thirty days for a third or subsequent offense.

Section 29. Penalties for Other Violations. The violation of any other provision of this act shall be punished by a fine not exceeding twenty-five dollars for the first offense, a fine not less than twenty-five dollars nor more than fifty dollars for a second offense, and a fine not less than fifty dollars nor more than one hundred dollars, or imprisonment not exceeding ten days, or both, for a third or subsequent offense.

Section 30. Release from Custody, Bail, Etc. In case the owner of a motor vehicle shall be taken into custody because of a violation of any provision of this act, he shall be forthwith taken before an accessible justice of the peace or police magistrate, and be entitled to an immediate hearing; and if such hearing cannot then be had, be released from custody on giving his personal undertaking to appear in answer for such violation, at such time and place as shall then be indicated, secured by the deposit of a sum equal to the maximum fine for the offense with which he is charged, or in lieu thereof, by leaving the motor vehicle, being operated by such person, with such officer; or, in case such officer is not accessible, be forthwith released from custody on giving his name and address to the officer making such arrest, and depositing with such officer a sum equal to the maximum fine for the offense for which such arrest is made, or in lieu thereof, by leaving the motor vehicle, being operated by such person, with such officer, provided, that in such case the officer making such arrest shall give a receipt in writing for such sum or vehicle and notify such person to appear before the most accessible magistrate, naming him, on that or the following day, specifying the place and hour. In case security shall be deposited, as in this section provided, it shall be returned to the person depositing forthwith on such person being admitted to bail and returning any receipt or other voucher given at the time of such deposit. In case such undertaking with security or such deposit shall not be made by an owner so taken into custody, the provisions of Division 3 of the Criminal Code shall apply.

Section 31. Acts Repealed. All acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith or contrary hereto are, so far as they are inconsistent or contrary, hereby repealed.

And the question being, "Shall the bill, as amended, be engrossed for a third reading?" it was decided in the affirmative.

A message from the Senate by Mr. Osgood, Secretary:

Mr. Speaker—I am instructed to inform the House of Representatives that the Senate has refused to recede from their amendments to House Bill No. 422, a bill for "An Act in relation to municipal courts in the city of Chicago," which amendments are as follows:

AMENDMENT No. 1.

Amend by striking out the title and insert in lieu thereof as a new title the following:

A bill for "An Act in relation to a municipal court in the city of Chicago."

AMENDMENT No. 2.

Amend by striking out all after the enacting clause, and insert in lieu thereof the following:

Section 1. That there shall be established in and for the city of Chicago a municipal court which shall be styled "The Municipal Court of Chicago," hereinafter designated and referred to as the Municipal Court and the jurisdiction of which shall be exercised in the manner hereafter prescribed by branch courts each of which shall exercise all the powers in this act declared to be vested in the Municipal Court.

Section 2. That said Municipal Court shall have jurisdiction within the city of Chicago, in the following cases:

First. All actions on contracts, express or implied, when the amount claimed by the plaintiff exceeds one thousand dollars ($1,000) and which, for convenience, will be hereinafter referred to and designated as cases of the first class.

Second. All suits of every kind and nature, whether civil or criminal, or whether at law or in equity, which may be transferred to it by change of venue, or otherwise, by the circuit court of Cook county, or by the superior court of Cook county, or by the criminal court of Cook county, for trial and disposition, and which, for convenience, will be hereinafter designated and referred to as cases of the second class.

Third. All criminal cases in which the punishment is by fine or imprisonment otherwise than in the penitentiary, and which, for convenience, will be hereinafter designated and referred to as cases of the third class.

Fourth. All those classes of suits and proceedings, whether civil or quasi criminal, of which justices of the peace are now given jurisdiction by law, in all of which classes of suits and proceedings said municipal court shall have jurisdiction when the amount sought to be recovered, whether by way of damages, penalty, or otherwise, if the suit or proceeding be for the recovery of money only, or the value of the personal property claimed, if the suit or proceeding be brought for the recovery of personal property, does not exceed one thousand dollars ($1,000); provided, however, that in any action upon a bond, the amount sought to be recovered thereon and not the penalty of the bond shall determine the jurisdiction, and that when payments are to be made by installments, an action may be brought in the Municipal Court for any installment not exceeding one thousand dollars ($1,000) as it becomes due, and which, for convenience, will be hereinafter designated and referred to as cases of the fourth class.

Fifth. All other suits at law, for the recovery of money only, when the amount claimed does not exceed one thousand dollars ($1,000), and which, for convenience, will be hereinafter designated and referred to as cases of the fifth class.

Section 3. That in all cases of the first class and in all cases of the second class the issues shall be made up in said court by the same forms of pleadings, as near as may be, in use in similar cases in the circuit courts; that all cases of the third class shall be prosecuted by complaint or by information in accordance with such rules as may be hereinafter prescribed or provided for, or in cases not herein otherwise provided for, by such rules of practice as may be prescribed by law for similar cases in the criminal court of Cook county or before justices of the peace; and that in all cases of the fourth class and in all cases of the fifth class the issues shall be determined without other forms of written pleadings than those hereinafter expressly prescribed or provided for.

Section 4. That said court shall be held in districts, which until otherwise provided, shall be five in number and their territorial limits shall be as follows:

Of the First District the territorial limits shall be the territory bounded on the east by Lake Michigan, on the north by the city limits, on the west by the center line of Western avenue from the city limits on the north to the center line of Fifty-fifth street, thence on the south by the center line of Fifty-fifth street to the center line of State street, thence on the west by the center line of State street to the center line of Sixty-third street, thence on the south by the center line of Sixty-third street to the center line of Cottage Grove avenue, thence on the west by the center line of Cottage Grove avenue to the center line of Seventy-first street, and thence on the south by the center line of Seventy-first street to Lake Michigan, and such territory shall be known as the First District.

Of the Second District the territorial limits shall be the territory bounded on the south by the city limits, on the east by the city limits and Lake Michigan, on the north by the center line of Seventy-first street, and on the west by the center line of Cottage Grove avenue, and such territory shall be known as the Second District.

Of the Third District the territorial limits shall be the territory bounded on the west and south by the city limits, on the east by the center line of Cottage

Grove avenue from the city limits on the south to the center line of Sixty-third street, thence on the north by the center line of Sixty-third street to the center line of State street, thence on the east by the center line of State street to the center line of Fifty-fifth street, thence on the north by the center line of Fifty-fifth street to the city limits on the west, and such territory shall be known as the Third District.

Of the Fourth District the territorial limits shall be the territory bounded on the south by the center line of Fifty-fifth street, on the east by the center line of Western avenue, on the north by the center line of Lake street and on the west by the city limits, and such territory shall be known as the Fourth District.

Of the Fifth District the territorial limits shall be the territory bounded on the south by the center line of Lake street, on the east by the center line of Western avenue, and on the north and west by the city limits, and such territory shall be known as the Fifth District.

The number and boundaries of the districts may be changed, from time to time, by orders signed by a majority of the judges of the Municipal Court, and spread upon the records thereof, which orders shall be published for three successive weeks, once in each week, in some newspaper of general circulation in the city of Chicago, and which shall take effect respectively within thirty days after the last publication thereof; provided, however, no such change in the number or boundaries of districts shall become effective unless the order therefor shall have been approved by the city council of the city of Chicago. As many branch courts shall be held in each district as may be determined by the chief justice of said Municipal Court to be necessary for the prompt and proper disposition of the business of said court, provided however, that at least one branch court shall be held in each district. Such branch court may be given such designation by numbers or otherwise as may be determined by the Chief Justice.

Section 5. That said branch courts shall be held at such places in said city of Chicago as may be provided for that purpose by the corporate authorities thereof. If no place be provided by the corporate authorities of said city for the holding of any branch court, or if the place so provided become unfit, said branch court may, by an order signed by the majority of the judges of said Municipal Court, and entered upon the records of said branch court, adjourn to or convene at a suitable place for holding said branch court, procured for that purpose by said judges, within the district in which the same is located and at such place may hold said branch court, until a suitable place therefor be furnished by said corporate authorities.

Section 6. That said court shall have seals for each district and may from time to time, as may be necessary, renew the same. The expense of said seals and renewing the same shall be paid by the city of Chicago.

Section 7. That all blanks, books, papers, stationery and furniture necessary to the keeping of the records of the proceedings of such Municipal Court, and the transaction of the business thereof, shall be furnished the officers of such court at the expense of the city.

Section 8. That said Municipal Court shall consist of twenty-five (25) judges, one of whom shall be chief justice and the remaining twenty-four (24) of whom shall be associate judges. Each branch shall be presided over by a single judge of the Municipal Court. The chief justice, in addition to the exercise of all the other powers of a judge of said court, shall have the general superintendence of the business of said court; he shall preside at all meetings of the judges, and he shall assign the associate judges to duty in the branch courts, from time to time, as he may deem necessary for the prompt disposition of the business thereof, and it shall be the duty of each associate judge to attend and serve at any branch court to which he may be so assigned, but the chief justice shall only assign such number of judges to the trial and disposition of cases of the first class and cases of the second class mentioned in section two (2) of this act from time to time, as may not be needed for the prompt disposition of the other business of the court. The chief justice shall also superintend the preparation of the calendars of cases for trial in said court and shall make such classification and distribution of the same upon different calendars as he shall deem proper and expedient. Each associate judge shall at the commencement of each month make to the chief justice, under his official oath, a report in writing of the duties performed by him during the preceding month, which report shall specify the number of days' attendance in court of such judge during such month, and the branch courts upon which he has attended, and the number of hours per day of such attendance, for which the chief justice shall cause suitable blanks to be prepared and furnished to the associate judges. Each judge shall be entitled to vacations, which shall not exceed thirty-six days in all in any one year and which shall be taken at such times as may be determined by the chief justice. The chief justice must give his attention faithfully to the discharge of the duties especially pertaining to his office and to the performance of such additional judicial work as he may be able to perform. Each associate judge must perform his share of the labors and duties appertaining to the office. At least one associate judge must be in attendance in one branch court in each district, six hours of each day, except Sunday, a public holiday, or a day upon which the inhabitants of the city of Chicago generally refrain from business, and each associate judge, while in the court room or in chambers, and not actually engaged in the performance of other official duties, must act upon any application for his official action, properly made to him. One branch court in the First District shall be kept open, and at least one judge assigned for that purpose by the chief justice, shall be in attendance thereat, each day, excepting Sunday or a public holiday, from nine o'clock a. m. to ten o'clock p. m., excepting two hours' intermission, for the transaction of such business as may come before it. It shall be the duty of the chief justice and the associate judges to meet together at least once in each month, excepting the month of August, in each year, at such hour and place as may be designated by the chief justice, and at such other times as may be required by the chief justice, for the consideration of such matters pertaining to the administration of justice in said court as may be brought before them. At such meetings they shall receive and investigate, or cause to be investigated, all complaints presented to them pertaining to the said court, and to the officers thereof, and shall take such steps as they deem necessary or proper with respect thereto, and they shall have power and it shall be their duty to adopt or cause to be adopted all such rules and regulations for the proper administration of justice in said court as to them may seem expedient. The salary of the chief justice shall be seven thousand five hundred dollars ($7,500) per annum, and the salary of an associate judge shall be six thousand dollars ($6,000) per annum, payable in monthly installments out of the city treasury.

Section 9. That the chief justice and the associate judges of the Municipal Court provided for in the preceding section shall be elected on the first Tuesday after the first Monday of November, A. D., 1906; that the chief justice shall hold his office for the term of six (6) years and until his successor shall be elected and qualified; that of the said associate judges so to be elected eight (8) shall be elected for the term of two (2) years; eight (8) for the term of four (4) years, and eight (8) for the term of six (6) years and until their respective successors shall be elected and qualified, and on the first Tuesday after the first Monday of November, A. D. 1908, and on the first Tuesday after the first Monday of November of every sixth year thereafter, and on the first Tuesday after the first Monday of November, A. D. 1910, and on the first Tuesday after the first Monday of November every sixth year thereafter there shall be elected eight (8) associate judges of said Municipal Court and on the first Tuesday after the first Monday of November, A. D. 1912, and every sixth year thereafter there shall be elected a chief justice and eight (8) associate judges of said Municipal Court as successors in office of the chief justice and associate judges of the Municipal Court by this act required to be elected, each of whom shall hold his office for the term of six (6) years and until his successor shall be elected and qualified. The judges so required to be elected shall enter upon the discharge of their duties on the first Monday of December following their election. Vacancies in the office of chief justice or associate judge of the Municipal Court shall be filled by election at the regular municipal, judicial or other general election which shall occur next after a period of thirty (30) days from the time such vacancies respectively occur, but where the unexpired term does not exceed one year, the vacancy shall be filled by appointment by the Governor. Whenever a vacancy occurs in the office of chief justice, or whenever the chief justice shall be absent from the city of Chicago, or incapacitated from acting, the associate judges shall select one of their number to act as chief justice until such vacancy shall be filled by election or appointment as above provided for, or until the return of the chief justice, or until his incapacity ceases.

Section 10. That no person shall be eligible to the office of chief justice or of associate judge of the Municipal Court unless he shall be at least thirty years of age and a citizen of the United States, nor unless he shall have resided in the county of Cook and been there engaged, either in active practice as an attorney and counsellor at law or in the discharge of the duties of a judicial office, five years next preceding his election, or in one of said occupations during a portion of said time and in the other the remaining portion thereof, and shall, at the time of his election, be a resident of the city of Chicago.

Section 11. That every chief justice and associate justice of such Municipal Court, before he enters upon the duties of his office, shall take and subscribe the following oath or affirmation:

"I do solemnly swear (or affirm, as the case may be) that I will support the Constitution of the United States and the Constitution of the State of Illinois, and that I will faithfully discharge the duties of the office of chief justice (or associate judge) of the Municipal Court of Chicago according to the best of my ability."

Said oath shall be filed in the office of the Secretary of State.

Section 12. That whenever two-thirds in number of the judges of the Municipal Court shall transmit to the city council of the city of Chicago a certificate signed by them that in the opinion of said judges the business of said Municipal Court is such as to require an increase in the number of the associate judges of said Municipal Court, said city council may, by ordinance or ordinances, provide for an increase of not more than nine in the number of said judges, who shall be elected, one-third for two years, one-third for four years, and one-third for six years, at the next ensuing general election. The judges elected in accordance with such ordinance or ordinances shall hold their offices for the said respective periods for which they shall have been elected and until their successors shall be elected and qualified, and every two years thereafter their respective successors shall be elected for the full term of six years. But, after the number of associate judges has been increased to thirty-three (33) no subsequent increase thereof shall be made by the city council.

Section 13. That the judges of said Municipal Court may interchange with judges of other city courts, and said respective judges may hold court for each other and perform each other's duties when they find it necessary or convenient.

Section 14. That there shall be a clerk of said Municipal Court, whose term of office shall be six years and until his successor shall be elected and qualified and who shall be elected on the first Tuesday after the first Monday of November, A. D. 1906, and every six years thereafter. He shall perform with respect to said Municipal Court, the duties usually performed by clerks of courts of record. He shall give his personal attention to the performance of the duties of his office. He shall maintain an office in each district and each office shall be kept open for the transaction of business from eight o'clock a. m. to six o'clock p. m. of each working day during the year. Until otherwise provided by the rules which may be adopted under the provisions of this act, the powers, duties and liabilities, the oath of office and the bond and conditions thereof of such clerk shall be the same, as near as may be, as those prescribed by law for clerks of courts by the act entitled "An Act to revise the law in relation to clerks of courts," approved March 25, 1874, and in force July 1, 1874. His salary shall be five thousand dollars ($5,000) per annum, and shall be paid in monthly installments out of the city treasury. He shall be commissioned by the Governor.

Section 15. That said clerk shall appoint such number of deputies as may be determined, from time to time, by a majority of the judges of the Municipal Court by orders signed by them and spread upon the records of said court. At least one deputy clerk shall be assigned to duty in each branch court. The salaries of deputy clerks shall be fixed, from time to time, by orders signed by a majority of the judges of the Municipal Court and spread upon the records of the court, and shall be payable out of the city treasury in monthly instalments, provided, however, that the salary of the chief deputy clerk shall not exceed two thousand five hundred dollars ($2,500) per annum, and that the salary of no other deputy clerk shall exceed eighteen hundred dollars ($1,800) per annum. Such number of deputy clerks so appointed as the judges may deem necessary shall be competent shorthand reporters, capable of correctly taking down stenographically and transcribing the proceedings of courts; and shall perform such duties with respect to attending upon and taking down stenographic reports of the proceedings of said court as may be required by the judges, and for making and furnishing transcripts of their stenographic reports aforesaid, said deputy clerks shall be allowed to make such reasonable charge, not exceeding fifteen cents per each one hundred words, to the parties to whom such transcripts are furnished, as may be determined by the judges, and the judges may allow said deputy clerks to retain, as additional compensation for their services one-half of the charges so collected, the balance of such charges to be accounted for by such deputy clerks in the same manner as costs collected by them. Such deputy clerks shall take the same oath or affirmation required of the clerk of said Municipal Court and shall give bonds to be approved by the chief justice of said court, conditioned, as near as may be, like the bond required of the clerk. Any deputy clerk shall be subject to removal at any time by an order signed by a majority of the judges of the Municipal Court and spread upon the records of said court. The number of deputy clerks may be reduced at any time by an order signed by a majority of the judges of said Municipal Court and spread upon the records of said court. It shall be the duty of deputy clerks to render to parties to suits in cases of the fourth class and in cases of the fifth class mentioned in section two (2) of this act, such assistance and give them such information as may enable them to properly commence suits or to enter their appearances when sued, which duty shall be regulated and defined by instructions to be prepared by the chief justice.

Section 16. That there shall be a bailiff of said Municipal Court whose term of office shall be six years and until his successor shall be elected and qualified and who shall be elected on the first Tuesday after the first Monday of November, A. D. 1906, and every six years thereafter. He shall perform, with respect to said Municipal Court, the duties usually performed by sheriffs in respect to attendance upon, and service and execution of the process, and obedience of the lawful orders and directions of, a circuit court. He shall give his personal attention to the performance of the duties of his office. He shall maintain an office in each district and each office shall be kept open in each district for the transaction of business from 8 o'clock a. m. to 6 o'clock p. m. of each working day during the year.

Until otherwise provided by the rules which may be adopted under the provisions of this act, the powers, duties and liabilities, the oath of office, and the bond and conditions thereof of such bailiff shall be the same, as near as may be, as those prescribed by law for sheriffs with respect to attendance upon, and service and execution of the process, and obedience of the lawful orders and directions of, a circuit court. His salary shall be five thousand dollars ($5,000) per annum and shall be paid in monthly installments out of the city treasury. He shall be commissioned by the Governor.

Section 17. That said bailiff shall appoint such number of deputies as may be determined, from time to time, by a majority of judges of the Municipal Court by orders signed by them and spread upon the records of said court. At least one deputy bailiff shall be assigned to duty in each branch court. The salaries of deputy bailiffs shall be fixed, from time to time, by orders signed by a majority of the judges of the Municipal Court and spread upon the records of the court and shall be payable out of the city treasury in monthly installments: Provided, however, that the salary of the chief deputy bailiff shall not exceed two thousand five hundred dollars ($2,500) per annum, and that the salary of no other deputy bailiff shall exceed twelve hundred dollars ($1,200) per annum. Such deputy bailiffs shall take the same oath or affirmation required of the bailiff of said Municipal Court and shall give bonds to be approved by the chief justice of said court conditioned, as near as may be, like the bond required of the bailiff. The bailiff and deputy bailiffs of the Municipal Court shall be ex officio police officers of the city of Chicago. Any deputy bailiff shall be subject to removal at any time by an order signed by a majority of the judges of the Municipal Court and spread upon the records of said court. The number of deputy bailiffs may be reduced at any time by an order signed by a majority of the judges of said Municipal Court and spread upon the records of said court. Every police officer of the city of Chicago shall be ex officio a deputy bailiff of the Municipal Court, and shall perform, from time to time, such duties in respect to criminal and quasi criminal cases, including cases pertaining to alleged violations of city ordinances pending in said court, as may be required of him by said court or any judge thereof.

Section 18. That neither the clerk nor the bailiff nor any deputy clerk or deputy bailiff of said Municipal Court shall receive, aside from the salary and the costs of this act required to be paid to him in his official capacity, any money, property, or other valuable thing, as a gratuity or otherwise, for the performance of any duty imposed upon him by virtue of his office, or for the performance of any work of any kind or character in any manner connected therewith. It shall be the duty of the judges of said Municipal Court to remove from office any deputy clerk or deputy bailiff who shall violate either of the provisions of this section. No clerk or bailiff, or deputy clerk or deputy bailiff, of the Municipal Court shall be appointed receiver or guardian ad litem in any suit therein pending.

Section 19. That until otherwise determined in the manner hereinafter provided, and except as by this act is otherwise prescribed, the practice in the Municipal Court shall be the same, as near as may be, as that which is now prescribed by law for similar suits or proceedings in circuit courts, excepting that in cases of the fourth class and cases of the fifth class mentioned in section two (2) of this act the issues shall be determined without other forms of written pleadings, than those hereinafter expressly prescribed or provided for. Said Municipal Court shall be the sole judge of the applicability to the proceedings of said court of the rules of practice prescribed by law for similar cases in the circuit courts and its decisions in respect thereto shall not be subject to review upon appeal or writ of error: Provided, however, that upon appeal or writ of error the Supreme Court or the Appellate Court, as the case may be, may grant relief from any such decision in any case where, in the opinion of the Supreme Court or Appellate Court, such relief is necessary to prevent a failure of justice.

Section 20. That the judges of said Municipal Court shall have power to adopt, in addition to or in lieu of the provisions herein contained prescribing the practice in said Municipal Court or of any portion or portions of said provisions, such rules regulating the practice, in said court as they may deem necessary or expedient for the proper administration of justice therein. The adoption of said rules shall be accomplished by an order signed by a majority of said judges, which order, when made, shall be forthwith spread upon the records of the Municipal Court and shall be printed in pamphlet form at the expense of the city: Provided, however, that no rule or rules inconsistent with those expressly provided for by this act shall become effective and be in force until after the lapse of thirty (30) days from the approval thereof by the Supreme Court. Application to the Supreme Court for such approval may be made by the chief justice of the Municipal Court, after notice of such application shall have been published once each week, for three consecutive weeks, in some newspaper of general circulation published in the city of Chicago, specifying the time at which such application shall be made. Upon such application the Supreme Court shall review the said rule or rules so adopted and may either confirm the order adopting the same or may modify or set aside the same, and the Supreme Court may, in its discretion substitute for the rule or rules so adopted by said judges of said Municipal Court or for any portion thereof, such other rules as the Supreme Court may deem proper, and may in its discretion of its own motion or otherwise make any order respecting the rules of said Municipal Court which it may deem proper. The Supreme Court and the Appellate Courts in cases brought to them from the Municipal Court by appeal or writ of error shall take judicial notice of the rules of practice from time to time in force in said Municipal Court.

Section 21. That there shall be no stated terms of the Municipal Court, but said court shall be always open for the transaction of business. Every judgment, order or decree of said court, final in its nature, shall, for the period of thirty days after the entry thereof, be subject to be vacated, set aside or modified, in the same manner and to the same extent as a judgment, decree or order of a circuit court during the term at which the same was rendered in such circuit court. After the lapse of thirty days any such judgment, decree or order shall not be vacated, set aside or modified, excepting upon appeal or writ of error, or by bill in equity: Provided, however, that all errors in fact in the proceedings in such case, which could have been corrected at common law by the writ of error coram nobis, may be corrected by motion or the judgment may be set aside, in the manner provided by law for similar cases in the circuit courts.

Section 22. That the final orders, judgments and decrees of the Municipal Court in cases of the first class, cases of the second class and cases of the third class mentioned in section two (2) of this act, may be reviewed, upon error or appeal, by the Supreme Court in all criminal cases above the grade of misdemeanors, cases in which a franchise or freehold, or the validity of a statute or construction of the Constitution is involved, and in all cases relating to the revenue or in which the State is interested as a party or otherwise, and by the Appellate Court in all other cases. The practice in cases of appeals from or writs of error to said Municipal Court in said cases shall, except as in this act, or by rules of said court adopted in pursuance hereof, may be otherwise provided, be the same, as near as may be, as the practice in cases of appeal from and writs of error to circuit courts in similar cases. But no appeal shall be allowed in any case unless the same be prayed for within twenty days after the entry of the order, judgment or decree appealed from, and no assignment of error in the Supreme Court or in the Appellate Court in any such case shall be allowed which shall call in question the decision of the Municipal Court in respect to any matter pertaining to the practice in said court: Provided, however, that the Supreme Court or the Appellate Court, as the case may be, may grant relief from any error of the Municipal Court in respect to a matter of practice therein in any case where, in the opinion of the Supreme Court or Appellate Court, such relief is necessary to prevent a failure of justice.

Section 23. That the final orders and judgments of the Municipal Court in cases of the fourth class and cases of the fifth class mentioned in section two (2) of this act, shall be reviewed by writ of error only. Such writ of error shall be sued out of the Supreme Court in all cases in which a franchise, a freehold or the validity of a statute or the construction of the Constitution is involved, and out of the Appellate Court in all other cases. The time within which a writ of error may be sued out in any such case shall be limited to thirty days after the entry of the final order or judgment complained of. The manner of prosecuting such writ of error shall be as follows:

First. Any party to any such case against whom there has been rendered any final order or judgment of the Municipal Court and who shall desire to obtain a review of such final order or judgment by appeal or writ of error, may obtain from the Municipal Court a stay of execution upon such order or judgment for ninety days after the entry thereof by the giving of a bond with a sufficient surety or sureties, to be approved by a judge of the Municipal Court, conditioned for the performance by such party of, or his compliance with, such order or judgment, or his payment of the money thereby required to be paid and all costs which may be awarded the opposite party in the Supreme Court or the Appellate Court, as the case may be, in case a writ of error to review such order or judgment shall not be sued out within thirty days from the date thereof, or in case, upon the suing out and prosecution of such writ of error, the order or judgment shall be affirmed by the Supreme Court or the Appellate Court, as the case may be.

Second. No other or further stay of proceedings or execution in any such case shall be allowed by the Municipal Court, but the Supreme Court or the Appellate Court, or any judge thereof, may allow a supersedeas as in other cases, but upon the allowance of any supersedeas, when any bond has been given as above provided, no additional bond shall be required and such supersedeas shall be operative until the final determination of such writ of error.

Third. If, upon application to the Supreme Court or Appellate Court, or to any judge thereof, for a supersedeas the same shall be denied, such order or judgment shall stand affirmed, and no further proceedings shall be had in said Supreme Court or Appellate Court with respect thereto, unless the Supreme Court or Appellate Court, or the judge denying such supersedeas, shall otherwise order.

Fourth. The party in whose favor any final order or judgment has been entered shall be entitled to sue out a writ of error from the Supreme Court or the Appellate Court, as the case may be, by depositing with the clerk of the court from which said writ of error is sued out the sum of twenty dollars ($20) as security to the opposite party for such costs as may be awarded such opposite party by the Supreme Court or the Appellate Court, as the case may be, upon the final determination of such writ of error.

Fifth. The party suing out any writ of error shall not be required to serve upon the opposite party any scire facias to hear errors, but in lieu thereof shall, within five days after the issuance of the writ of error, file the same with the clerk of the said Municipal Court, and make to the Supreme Court or the Appellate Court, as the case may be, proof of such filing, and such writ of error so filed shall be notice to the opposite party of the suing out and prosecution of such writ of error.

Sixth. Upon application made at any time within sixty days after the entry of any final order or judgment it shall be the duty of the judge by whom such final order or judgment was entered, to sign and place on file in the case in which the same was entered, if so requested by either of the parties to the suit, either a correct statement, to be prepared by the party requesting the signing of the same, of the facts appearing upon the trial thereof, and of all questions of law involved in such case, and the decisions of the court upon said questions of law, or a correct stenographic report, the expense of procuring which shall be paid by the party requesting the signing of the same, of the proceedings at the trial, as such party may elect, the original of which statement or stenographic report, together with a certified transcript of the judgment, shall be certified to the Supreme Court or Appellate Court, as the case may be, as the record to be considered upon the review of such order or judgment by writ of error.

Seventh. No order or judgment so sought to be reviewed shall be reversed unless the Supreme Court or Appellate Court, as the case may be, shall be satisfied from said statement or stenographic report signed by said judge that such order or judgment is contrary to the law and the evidence or that such order or judgment resulted from substantial errors of said Municipal Court directly affecting the matters at issue between the parties, in which last mentioned case the Supreme Court or Appellate Court, as the case may be, may enter such order or judgment as, in its opinion, the Municipal Court ought to have entered, or it may reverse the said order or judgment and remand the case to the Municipal Court for further proceedings.

Eighth. No assignment of error in the Supreme Court or in the Appellate Court in any such case shall be allowed which shall call in question the decisions of such Municipal Court in respect to any matter pertaining to the practice in such court, nor shall any exceptions to the rulings and decisions of the Municipal Court upon the trial be necessary to the right of either party to a review of such rulings and decisions in the Supreme Court or Appellate Court upon their merits, but it shall be the duty of the Supreme Court or the Appellate Court, as the case may be, to decide such case upon its merits as they may appear from such statement or stenographic report signed by the judge: Provided, however, that the Supreme Court or Appellate Court, as the case may be, may grant relief from any error of the Municipal Court in respect to a matter of practice therein in any case where, in the opinion of the Supreme Court or the Appellate Court, such relief is necessary to prevent a failure of justice.

Section 24. That in any case transferred to said Municipal Court by the circuit or superior court of Cook county for trial and disposition, said Municipal Court shall exercise the same powers as the court from which said case has been transferred might have exercised had said case not been so transferred. The circuit court of Cook county, or the superior court of Cook county, may, upon the application of either party for a change of venue, and shall upon the request of both parties to any suit at law or in equity, pending therein, transfer said suit to the Municipal Court for trial and disposition. The criminal court of Cook county may in its discretion, upon the request of the State's Attorney or of any defendant, transfer to the Municipal Court for trial and disposition any case therein pending and shall have power to make all orders which it may deem necessary to accomplish such transfer and secure the attendance of the parties and witnesses upon said Municipal Court until the final disposition of the case, and said Municipal Court, when any criminal case shall have been so transferred to it, shall exercise all the powers with respect to the trial and disposition of said case which the said criminal court of Cook county might have exercised had said case not been so transferred. All judgments of conviction in criminal cases in said Municipal Court where the punishment inflicted is death or imprisonment, shall be carried into execution in the same manner as is provided by law for similar cases in said criminal court of Cook county. The prosecution of all criminal cases in the Municipal Court shall be conducted by or under the supervision of the State's Attorney of Cook county, but in any case in which the State's Attorney is disqualified from acting, or is unable to act, the court may appoint some attorney at law of Cook county to act as prosecuting attorney in such case. In all cases transferred as aforesaid to said Municipal Court, the practice in respect to the trial and disposition thereof shall be the same as that prevailing in the respective courts from which the same have been transferred, unless the parties shall consent that the trial and disposition thereof shall be governed by the rules of practice prevailing in said Municipal Court in cases commenced therein.

Section 25. That the petit jurors for the trial of cases in said Municipal Court shall be provided by the jury commissioners of the county of Cook in the same manner and from the same lists, as near as may be, as petit jurors are provided for the circuit, superior and criminal courts of Cook county. The names of the necessary number of petit jurors required from time to time in said Municipal Court shall be furnished by said jury commissioners upon demand to the clerk of the Municipal Court and the venires for such jurors shall be directed to and served by the sheriff of Cook county at the expense of said county, and the fees of the said jurors shall be paid out of the city treasury. The number of petit jurors to be summoned from time to time shall be determined by the chief justice.

Section 26. That it shall be the duty of the chief justice of the Municipal Court to cause to be interrogated all petit jurors summoned for service in the Municipal Court, and to cause to be enquired into the qualifications of said jurors, and to reject from service as jurors all persons who do not appear to possess the qualifications required by law, and to cause the summoning of persons competent to serve as jurors.

Section 27. That all criminal cases in the Municipal Court in which the punishment is by fine or imprisonment otherwise than in the penitentiary, may be prosecuted by information of the Attorney General or State's Attorney, or some other person, and when an information is presented by any person other than the Attorney General or State's Attorney, it shall be verified by affidavit of such person that the same is true, or that the same is true as he is informed and believes. Before an information is filed by any person other than the Attorney General or State's Attorney, one of the judges of the Municipal Court shall examine the information and may examine the person presenting the same and require other evidence and satisfy himself that there is probable cause for filing the same and so endorse the same. Every information shall set forth the offense with reasonable certainty, substantially as required in an indictment, and the proceedings thereon shall be the same, as near as may be, as upon indictment in the criminal court of Cook county, excepting as is by this act otherwise provided. But criminal cases in which the punishment is by fine only not exceeding five hundred dollars ($500) may in the discretion of the court, be prosecuted by complaint as is provided by law for the prosecution of criminal cases before justices of the peace.

Any person committed for a criminal or supposed criminal offense and not admitted to bail and not tried within four months after the date of arrest shall be set at liberty by the court, unless the delay shall happen on the application of the prisoner or unless the court is satisfied that due exertion has been made to procure the evidence on the part of the people, and that there is reasonable grounds to believe that such evidence may be procured within the next sixty days in which case the court may continue the case for such time as the court may deem necessary not exceeding said sixty days: Provided however, that if said person be not tried within said sixty days no further continuance shall be granted and said person shall be set at liberty by the court.

Section 28. That, until otherwise provided by the rules of the Municipal Court and except as is herein otherwise prescribed, cases of the first class mentioned in section two (2) of this act shall be commenced and prosecuted in said Municipal Court in the same manner in which similar suits and proceedings are required to be commenced and prosecuted in the circuit courts, and excepting also in the following particulars:

First. The summons, when the first process is a summons, or the writ, when the first process is a writ, shall be directed to the bailiff to execute and shall be returnable upon some Monday at least ten days, and not more than thirty days, after the date thereof.

Second. Service of such summons or writ shall be made by delivering a copy thereof to the defendant, if an individual, and informing him of the contents thereof, but if any defendant be a corporation, the service shall be made in the manner provided by law for similar cases in the circuit courts.

Third. Notice to the defendant by publication may be given under like circumstances and in the same manner as is provided by law for similar cases in the circuit courts, but the notice published, in lieu of stating the time of the return of the summons or writ, shall state the date on or before which the defendant is required to appear, which date shall be some Monday not less than forty nor more than sixty days after the date of the first publication of notice, as the plaintiff may require.

Fourth. No such suit shall be commenced in the Municipal Court unless the defendant, if there be but one defendant, resides or is found within the city of Chicago, or if the defendant be a corporation, unless its principal office is within said city; but if the defendant be a corporation not having a principal office in the city of Chicago, such suit may be brought in the Municipal Court whenever service of process may be had within the city upon any officer, agent or employe of such corporation upon whom service of process might be had if issued in a suit commenced in the circuit court.

Fifth. The provisions of paragraph fourth above, shall not apply to attachment suits brought against non-residents of this State, which suits may be brought in the Municipal Court when any property of the defendant is levied upon, or any garnishee resides or is found within the city of Chicago.

Sixth. When there are several defendants, one of whom resides or is found in the city of Chicago, a summons or writ may be issued to the sheriff of Cook county for any defendant residing in said county, but outside of the city of Chicago, or to the sheriff of any other county for any defendant residing in such county, and service of any summons or writ so issued shall be made in the same manner as herein required in the case of a summons or writ directed to the bailiff: Provided, however, that no judgment shall, in any such case, be rendered against any defendant served with process outside of the city of Chicago unless judgment be also rendered against a defendant served within said city of Chicago.

Seventh. The plaintiff shall file his declaration within five days after the commencement of the suit, in default whereof the suit shall be dismissed unless the court by an order entered in said suit shall extend the time for filing such declaration.

Eighth. The defendant shall, in case he shall have been served with process of summons, or with the writ five days or more prior to the return day thereof, demur or plead to the declaration or the complaint on or before the Monday succeeding such return day; but in case the summons or writ shall have been served less than five days prior to the return day the defendant shall not be required to plead to the declaration or complaint until on or before the second Monday after such return day. In case the time for filing the declaration or complaint shall be extended by the court, the time for the defendant to demur or plead to the same shall be extended until the second Monday succeeding the expiration of such extension of time. The time within which the defendant is required to demur or plead may be extended by the court in its discretion.

But all cases provided for in this section shall be commenced, prosecuted and disposed of in some branch court, held in the First District.

Section 29. That cases of the fourth class and cases of the fifth class mentioned in section two (2) of this act shall be brought and prosecuted in the district in which the defendant, if there be but one defendant, or one of the defendants, if there be more than one defendant, resides or is found, or if the defendant be a corporation having its principal office in the city of Chicago, in the district in which its principal office is located; but if the defendant be a corporation not having a principal office in the city of Chicago, suit may be brought in any district within which service of process may be had upon any officer, agent or employee of such corporation, upon whom service of process might be had if issued in a suit commenced in the circuit court. If, in any such case, there is more than one defendant and one defendant resides or is found within the district in which such suit is brought or is properly served with process therein, the process of such Municipal Court may be served upon the remaining defendant or defendants at any place within said city of Chicago. But no suit shall be brought against the city of Chicago or any other municipal corporation in any other than the First District. If, in any case where there is more than one defendant, process is duly served upon one or more defendant and returned not served as to another defendant or other defendants, the suit shall proceed as in like cases in the circuit court. But the requirement that the defendant, if there be but one defendant, or one of the defendants, if there be more than one defendant must reside or be found within the district in which such suit is brought shall not apply to attachment suits brought against non-residents of this State, which suits may be brought in any district when any property of the defendant is levied upon within such district or any garnishee resides or is found in such district, nor shall it apply to forcible entry and detainer suits in which the defendants do not reside or cannot be found within the city of Chicago, which suits may be brought in any district in which the property, the possession of which is sought to be recovered, is situated, and service of summons may be had by notice by publication in the manner required by law in cases of attachments in courts of record. When, upon the complaint of any defendant, it shall be made to appear to the Municipal Court in any district that the suit has been improperly brought therein, the court shall not be required on that account to dismiss the suit, if the Municipal Court in any district could properly have jurisdiction thereof, but in such case the court may cause such suit to be transferred to the proper district and the court in the district to which the same is transferred shall proceed therewith as if the same had been originally commenced in said district: Provided, however, that the court may, in its discretion, require the plaintiff to pay the costs of the defendant paid by him prior to such transfer: And, provided further, that whenever a trial by jury is demanded in any case, whether civil, criminal or quasi criminal, the court may, in its discretion, direct the trial of said case to be had in the First District, and for that purpose may cause said case to be transferred to the first district to be there tried and disposed of.

Section 30. That every suit at law in the Municipal Court, other than a case of the second class or a case of the third class mentioned in section two (2) of this act, shall be tried by the court without a jury unless the plaintiff, at the time he commences his suit, or the defendant, at the time he enters his appearance, shall file with the clerk a demand in writing of a trial by jury, which demand, however, may be withdrawn by the party filing the same at any time before the trial, and in every case of the third class mentioned in section two of this act, a trial by jury shall be deemed waived unless the defendant shall expressly demand such trial.

Section 31. That in all cases other than one of the second class mentioned in section two (2) of this act tried by jury in a Municipal Court each party shall be entitled to a challenge of the same number of jurors without showing cause for such challenge as are allowed in similar cases in the circuit courts and in the criminal court of Cook county, and challenges for statutory and other causes shall be allowed as in similar cases in the circuit court and in said criminal court of Cook county. It shall be the duty of the judge presiding at the trial to examine or cause to be examined all jurors called into the jury box in any case with respect to their statutory qualifications to serve as petit jurors in such case, and to permit the plaintiff, or the people, and the defendant to propound to the jurors such pertinent questions as may be necessary for the purpose of ascertaining whether the jurors are biased or prejudiced. But upon appeal or writ of error to review any judgment of said Municipal Court in any case tried therein by jury no assignment of error shall be allowed which shall call in question any ruling of the court pertaining to or connected with the impaneling of the jury, other than one improperly restricting the right of the defendant to examine the jurors as to bias or prejudice, or improperly overruling a challenge by the defendant of a juror for bias or prejudice.

Section 32. That the Municipal Court in any civil suit pending therein, at any time before the trial or final hearing thereof, may permit the filing therein of interrogatories to be answered by any party to such suit or any person for whose immediate benefit such suit is prosecuted or defended, or by the directors, officers, superintendent or managing agents of any corporation which is a party to the record in such suit, at the instance of the adverse party or parties or any of them, and to require an answer under oath to all such interrogatories as the party to be interrogated might be required to answer, if called as a witness upon the trial or hearing of such suit, but the party filing such interrogatories shall not be concluded by the answers thereto, if he shall elect to introduce the same or any or either of them upon the trial or final hearing.

Section 33. That upon the trial or hearing of any suit in the Municipal Court any party thereto, or any person for whose immediate benefit such suit is prosecuted or defended, or the directors, officers, superintendent or managing agents of any corporation which is a party to the record in such suit, may be examined upon the trial thereof as if under cross-examination at the instance of the adverse party or parties or any of them, and for that purpose may be compelled, in the same manner and subject to the same rules for examination as any other witness, to testify, but the party calling for such examination shall not be concluded thereby, but may rebut the testimony thus given by counter testimony.

Section 34. That whenever in any suit pending in the Municipal Court, evidence shall be necessary concerning any fact in support of or in opposition to any interlocutory or other motion or application, other than an application for a change of venue, the court may, in its discretion, require such evidence to be presented by the oral examination of witnesses in open court or otherwise, and may make all necessary orders for such oral examination.

Section 35. That any judge of the Municipal Court shall upon the application of either party and upon reasonable notice to the opposite party, have power to sign or otherwise make any order in any suit pending in the Municipal Court, at any place within the city of Chicago, whenever in the opinion of such judge the granting of such order at such place is in furtherance of justice and such order shall be as effective as if made in any court room of said court or in the chambers of said judge.

Section 36. That cases in the Municipal Court shall be tried in such order and the calendars of cases shall be so arranged as may be determined by the chief justice or by rules of the court adopted as herein provided.

Section 37. That in trials by jury in the Municipal Court the court shall not charge the jury as to the facts but may state the testimony and the law and the charge may, in the discretion of the court, be given orally or in writing

Section 38. That whenever it appears in any bill of exceptions signed in any case of the first class or any case of the second class or any case of the third class, mentioned in section two (2) of this act, tried and determined in the Municipal Court, that any erroneous ruling was made by said Municipal Court against the objection of the party complaining thereof, but that no formal exception was taken by such party thereto, such erroneous ruling shall be subject to review upon appeal or writ of error to the same extent and in like manner as if it appeared that a formal exception had been taken thereto by the party complaining, and no bill of exceptions shall be held defective for the want of the seal of the judge thereto. Upon the prosecution of an appeal or writ of error to review any judgment of the Municipal Court, in any such case, the original bill of exceptions, in lieu of a certified copy thereof, shall be inserted in the transcript of the record to be filed in the supreme court or appellate court upon such appeal or writ of error, unless the Municipal Court shall otherwise direct, and upon the final determination of such appeal or writ of error, such original bill of exceptions shall be remitted to the Municipal Court.

Section 39. That no application for a change of venue in any case of the fourth class or in any case of the fifth class mentioned in section two (2) of this act, or in any criminal case punishable by fine or imprisonment otherwise than in the penitentiary, on account of the prejudice of the judge shall be allowed by the Municipal Court when the applicant names in his application more than one judge from whom such change of venue is desired, nor unless such application for a change of venue is made by petition as in like cases in the circuit courts, and such petition is filed at or before the time of the filing or entering by the defendant of his appearance in the suit in which such change of venue is asked for, and in no case shall the granting of any change of venue delay the trial of the suit, but such suit shall be tried and disposed of at the time set for the trial thereof or at the time to which the trial thereof may be postponed before some other judge of the court than the one from whom the change of venue has been granted, or in any other district in which the same may be ordered to be tried, and all orders necessary for the setting of such case for trial and for the securing of a speedy trial thereof may be made by the judge from whom said change of venue has been obtained.

Section 40. That every case of the fourth class and every case of the fifth class mentioned in said section two (2) of this act, excepting attachment suits, replevin suits, cases of distress for rent, and forcible entry and detainer suits and also quasi-criminal cases brought in the Municipal Court, shall be commenced by the filing by the plaintiff with the clerk of a praecipe for a summons, specifying the names of the parties to the suit, the amount of the plaintiff's claim and the day at which the summons shall be made returnable, which day shall be not less than five (5) nor more than fifteen (15) days from the filing of the praecipe, and a bill of particulars of the plaintiff's claim, which bill of particulars, if the suit be upon a contract, express or implied, shall consist of a statement of the account or of the nature of the demand, or, if the suit be for a tort it shall consist of a brief statement of the nature of the tort and such further information as will reasonably inform the defendant of the nature of the case he is called upon to defend, but nothing herein contained shall be construed to require the bill of particulars in any action for a tort to set forth the cause of action with the particularity required in a declaration at common law. In cases of the fourth class and in cases of the fifth class mentioned in said section two (2) of this act, the Municipal Court may adopt such rules and regulations as it may deem necessary to enable the parties, in advance of the trial, to ascertain the nature of the plaintiff's claim or claims, or of the defendant's defense or defenses.

Section 41. That upon the filing of such praecipe and bill of particulars the clerk of the Municipal Court shall issue a summons to the defendant directed to the bailiff to execute and returnable at ten o'clock a. m. sharp of the day for such return specified in the praecipe, which summons shall state the amount of the plaintiff's claim and shall be attested in like manner as a summons issued out of a court of record. Upon every such summons there shall be printed in plain type the provisions of this act pertaining to defaults in case of the non-appearance of the defendant, and setting of the case for trial in case of appearance, and such further information as may be prescribed by the chief justice.

Section 42. That every such summons issued out of the Munic'pal Court shall be served, if the defendant be an individual, by delivering to him a copy thereof and informing him of its contents, or, if the defendant be a corporation, service shall be made upon such corporation in the same manner as is now or hereafter may be provided by law for the service of process upon such corporation in a suit at law when issued out of a circuit court. In case said summons shall not be served upon defendant three days or more prior to the return day thereof an alias summons may be issued and a subsequent pluries summons may be issued in any case when a previous alias or pluries summons shall not have been served upon the defendant three days or more prior to the return day fixed in the previous summons. Service of such alias or pluries summons shall be made in the same manner as that above provided for the service of the original summons.

Section 43. That upon the return of any such summons duly served upon the defendant, the plaintiff shall be entitled to judgment as in case of default, unless the defendant shall either appear in person at the time specified in such summons, or shall at or before the time fixed in such summons for his appearance, file his appearance in writing in said Municipal Court. Upon such default the court shall assess the damages after hearing such evidence as the court may deem sufficient for that purpose. In case the defendant shall desire upon the trial to present any set-off or counter claim, he shall file a bill of particulars thereof with his appearance; provided, however, the court may, in its discretion, extend the time for the filing of such bill of particulars. It shall be the duty of the court at ten o'clock a. m. sharp of each day upon which the court is open for business, or as soon thereafter as is practicable, to call the cases in which the summonses are then returnable for the purpose of ascertaining whether the defendants therein have appeared in person or have entered their appearances in writing, and to give such directions with respect to such appearances as the court may find necessary or proper for the information of the parties.

Section 44. That the clerk of the Municipal Court shall keep on hand and furnish to suitors and attorneys on application printed blank forms of praecipes, summonses, entries of appearance, affidavits, bonds, attachment writs, replevin writs, petitions for changes of venue, and all other papers necessary for the use of the parties to suits in such court. Forms for such papers shall be prescribed by the chief justice of the Municipal Court, who shall also from time to time prescribe and cause to be printed forms of bills of particulars to be used in said court.

Section 45. That if in any case of the fourth class or in any case of the fifth class mentioned in said section two (2) of this act, brought in the Municipal Court, the defendant shall appear at the time specified in the summons or shall have entered his appearance in writing at or before the time so specified, the court shall, at such time, or as soon thereafter as practicable, fix a time for the trial thereof and such case shall be tried at the time so fixed or as soon thereafter as the other business of the court will permit.

Section 46. That amendments to bills of particulars, praecipes, summonses and other papers filed by either party may, in the discretion of the court, be allowed at any time.

Section 47. That the court may in any case of the fourth class or any case of the fifth class mentioned in section two (2) of this act, grant such postponements of the trial, and may make such other orders in respect thereto as the court may deem proper and necessary for the protection of the rights of the parties, and the failure of the court to try any such case at the time to which the trial has been postponed shall not operate as a discontinuance, but the same shall remain under the control of the court until the final disposition thereof.

Section 48. That the practice and proceedings in the Municipal Court, other than the mode of trial and the proceedings subsequent to the trial, in cases of attachment, replevin, distress for rent and forcible entry and detainer included within the cases of the fourth class and within the cases of the fifth class mentioned in section two (2) of this act, shall be the same, as near as may be, as that which is now prescribed by law for similar cases in courts of record, with the following exceptions:

First. There shall be no written pleadings, excepting such as are required by law in similar cases before justices of the peace, other than the affidavits in attachment and replevin, copies of the distress warrants in cases of distress for rent, and the complaint in forcible entry and detainer, and the writs shall be made returnable in like manner as the summons in other cases of such classes in the Municipal Court.

Second. In attachment cases the plaintiff at the time of the commencement of his suit and the defendant at the time of his appearing in person or of his entering his appearance in writing, if he shall desire upon the trial to present any set-off or counter-claim, shall file a bill of particulars thereof.

Third. In forcible entry and detainer cases the plaintiff may unite with his claim for possession of the property any claim for rent or damages for withholding possession of the same, providing such claim does not exceed one thousand dollars ($1,000).

Fourth. The mode of trial and all proceedings subsequent to the trial shall be the same, as near as may be, as in other cases of the fourth class and cases of the fifth class, mentioned in section two (2) of this act.

Section 49. That the practice in the Municipal Court in quasi criminal cases shall be the same as is herein prescribed for civil cases of the fourth class mentioned in section two (2) of this act, in said court, excepting as follows:

First. The first process in any suit for the violation of any municipal ordinance shall, except as hereinafter provided, be a summons. If the defendant, after being duly served with summons, fails to appear personally at the time specified in the summons, or to enter his appearance at or before such time, the court may proceed, as in case of default, or may issue a warrant for the arrest of the defendant.

Second. When the offense complained of is also a violation of any provision of the criminal code, the court may issue a warrant in the first instance for the violation of the ordinance under like circumstances under which a warrant might issue for a violation of the criminal code, and such warrant may be served at any place within the city of Chicago if the court in its discretion shall so direct.

Third. A warrant may issue in the first instance upon the affidavit of any person that an ordinance has been violated and that the person making the complaint has reasonable grounds to believe the party charged is guilty thereof and will escape unless arrested, and stating the facts upon which such belief is based, provided the judge to whom application is made for such warrant shall be satisfied, after examining under oath the party making the affidavit, that such arrest should be made, and any person arrested upon any warrant herein provided for shall, without unnecessary delay, be taken before the branch court to which such warrant is returnable and tried for the alleged offense, and such warrant may be served at any place within the city of Chicago, if the court in its discretion shall so direct.

Section 50. That upon the arrest of any person for any criminal or quasi criminal offense within the jurisdiction of the Municipal Court any judge of the Municipal Court, or any judge of the circuit or superior court of Cook county shall have power to let such person to bail and in case of the arrest of any person for any quasi criminal offense or for any offense where the punishment is by fine or imprisonment, otherwise than in the penitentiary, the chief of police or any captain, lieutenant or sergeant of police of the city of Chicago shall have power to let such person to bail. The bail bond in any such case shall be conditioned for the appearance of the person arrested before some branch court at a time fixed in such bond for such appearance, which time shall be not later than two days after the date of the bond. Any bond so taken shall be signed by one or more sureties to be approved by such judge or officer, who shall be authorized and required to administer oaths for the purpose of ascertaining the sufficiency of the sureties. All bonds so taken shall be filed with the clerk of the Municipal Court at the branch court at which the person so arrested is required to appear. The exercise of the power hereby conferred of letting to bail shall be subject to regulation by such rules as may be adopted by a majority of the judges of the Municipal Court as herein provided. But any person so arrested shall have the right to be brought immediately before the Municipal Court in the district in which he is arrested, or, if there be no judge then in attendance upon such court, to the Municipal Court in any other district at which there may be a judge then in attendance, to be dealt with by such court according to law.

Section 51. That if the method of procedure in any case within the jurisdiction of the Municipal Court is not sufficiently prescribed by this act, or by any rule of court adopted in pursuance hereof, the branch court in which the same is brought or proposed to be brought, may make such provision for the conducting and disposing of the same as may appear to the court proper for the just determination of the rights of the parties.

Section 52. That both in direct and in collateral proceedings the same presumptions shall be indulged with respect to the jurisdiction of the Municipal Court over the subject matter of suits and over the parties thereto, as are indulged with respect to the jurisdiction of circuit courts in like cases.

Section 53. That any money judgment rendered by the Municipal Court, when no execution issued thereon is outstanding, may be satisfied by the payment by the party against whom the same has been rendered of the amount thereof to the clerk of said court, who, upon payment being made, shall enter satisfaction thereof and shall, upon demand, pay over the money received by him to the person appearing of record to be entitled thereto.

Section 54. That the Municipal Court shall take judicial notice of all matters of which courts of general jurisdiction of this State are required to take judicial notice, and also of the following:

1. All general ordinances of the city of Chicago, and all general ordinances of every municipal corporation situated in whole or in part within the limits of the city of Chicago.

2. All laws of a public nature enacted by any state or territory of the United States.

Section 55. That the masters in chancery of the circuit and superior courts of Cook county shall be ex officio masters in chancery of the Municipal Court.

Section 56. That the costs in civil cases in the Municipal Court shall be as follows:

First. In a case of the first class mentioned in section two (2) of this act the plaintiff at the time of commencing his suit shall pay to the clerk in full for all services to be rendered by said clerk for the plaintiff in said suit other than the making or furnishing of transcripts of the record, the sum of eight dollars ($8.00), and if he at the same time files with the clerk a demand in writing of a trial by jury he shall pay to the clerk the further sum of six dollars ($6.00) to be applied towards the payment of the fees of jurors in said court.

Second. In a case of the second class mentioned in section two (2) of this act the plaintiff, at the time of the bringing of the transcript of the record to the Municipal Court, shall pay to the clerk in full for all services to be rendered by said clerk for the plaintiff in said suit other than the making or furnishing of transcripts of the record, the sum of eight dollars ($8.00), and if he at the same time files with the clerk a demand in writing of a trial by jury, he shall pay to the clerk the further sum of six dollars ($6.00) to be applied towards the payment of the fees of the jurors in said court.

Third. In any case of the first class or of the second class mentioned in section two (2) of this act the defendant at the time of filing his appearance, and before he shall be permitted to make any defense, shall pay to the clerk in full for all services to be rendered by said clerk for the defendant in said suit, other than the making or furnishing of transcripts of the record, the sum of three dollars ($3.00), and if he shall at the same time file with the clerk a demand in writing of a trial by jury, he shall pay to the clerk the further sum of six dollars ($6.00) to be applied towards the payment of the fees of the jurors in said court.

Fourth. In any case of the fourth class or of the fifth class mentioned in section two (2) of this act, the plaintiff, at the time of commencing his suit shall pay to the clerk in full for all services to be rendered by said clerk, if such case be other than an action of forcible entry and detainer, the sum of two dollars ($2.00) when the amount claimed by him in money or property does not exceed two hundred dollars ($200), the sum of five dollars ($5.00) when the amount claimed by him exceeds two hundred dollars ($200) but does not exceed one thousand dollars ($1,000), and the sum of two dollars ($2.00) in a case of forcible entry and detainer, and if the plaintiff at the time he commences his suit files with the clerk a demand in writing of a trial by jury, he shall pay to the clerk the further sum of six dollars ($6.00) to be applied towards the payment of the fees of jurors in said court.

Fifth. In any case of the fourth class or of the fifth class mentioned in section two (2) of this act the defendant, at the time of his appearance, shall pay to the clerk in full for all services to be rendered by said clerk, if the suit be other than an action of forcible entry and detainer and the amount claimed by the plaintiff in money or property exceeds two hundred dollars ($200) the sum of two dollars ($2.00), and if the defendant shall at the same time file with the clerk a demand in writing of a trial by jury he shall pay to the clerk the further sum of six dollars ($6.00) to be applied towards the payment of the fees of jurors in said court.

Sixth. The costs to be paid for the services of the bailiff and of the sheriffs and other costs not included in the above in cases of the first class and in cases of the second class mentioned in section two (2) of this act shall be the same as those required by law from time to time to be paid for similar services in cases in the circuit court of Cook county.

Seventh. In any case of the fourth class or of the fifth class mentioned in section two (2) of this act the party delivering to the bailiff any summons, writ of attachment, writ of replevin, subpoena, writ of execution or other process shall at the time of making such delivery pay to the bailiff the sum of one dollar ($1.00) for each defendant named in such process upon whom service thereof is to be made, and in cases of writs of attachment, replevin or execution, he shall pay to the bailiff the further sum of one dollar ($1.00) when any levy upon or seizure of property is to be made thereunder, and shall also pay to the bailiff the actual expense of seizing or caring for any property levied upon or seized thereunder.

Eighth. In any case of the fourth class or of the fifth class mentioned in section two (2) of this act, the party procuring any certified copy of the record or of any portion thereof in any case shall pay to the clerk the same fees required by law from time to time to be paid to the clerk of the circuit court of Cook county for similar services.

Ninth. In any case of the fourth class or of the fifth class mentioned in section two (2) of this act the bailiff, as commissions on moneys realized by execution, shall collect from the defendant in the execution five (5) per cent. upon the amount realized if it do not exceed one hundred dollars ($100), but if the amount realized exceeds one hundred dollars ($100) the bailiff shall collect five (5) per cent. on the first one hundred dollars ($100) and three (3) per cent. upon the excess over one hundred dollars ($100).

The amounts hereby required to be advanced when a demand in writing of a trial by jury is filed to be applied towards the payment of the fees of jurors in said court shall be paid by the clerk into the city treasury.

In any case included within the terms of this section the court may, in its discretion, order that an advance payment of costs may be waived in favor of any poor person whose financial circumstances, as made to appear to the court, are such that such advance payment would be unduly burdensome or oppressive.

Section 57. That the costs in criminal and in quasi criminal cases and proceedings in the Municipal Court, instituted in the name or by the authority of the people or in the name of any State or county officer in his official capacity, shall be as follows:

First. The clerk's fees in full for all services rendered by him shall be the sum of six dollars ($6).

Second. The bailiff's fees shall be the same as those which may now or hereafter be fixed by law for the sheriff in counties of the third class, for similar services.

All moneys collected upon judgments of the Municipal Court in such cases shall be paid to the clerk, who shall, at the end of every three months, apply the same, or so much thereof as may be necessary, to the payment of the uncollected costs in criminal and quasi criminal cases instituted in the Municipal Court in the name of the people, or in the name of any State or county officer in his official capacity, and pay over the balance, if any, to the officer entitled by law to receive the same.

Section 58. That the costs in cases in the Municipal Court instituted in the name of the city of Chicago or in the name of any officer thereof in his official capacity, shall be as follows:

First. The clerk's fees in full for all services rendered by him shall be the sum of six dollars ($6).

Second. The bailiff's fees shall be the same as those which may now or hereafter be fixed by law for the sheriff in counties of the third class for similar services.

All moneys collected upon judgments of the Municipal Court in cases for the violation of the ordinances of the city of Chicago shall be paid to the clerk, who shall pay over the same to the city of Chicago, within one week after receiving the same.

Section 59. That, the clerk and each deputy clerk shall collect for the acknowledgment and entering of memoranda of chattle mortgages and for the acknowledgment of other written instruments the same fees allowed by law to justices of the peace for similar services and the fees so collected and all costs collected in each week by the clerk and bailiff shall be paid over by them respectively to the city of Chicago on the Monday of the succeeding week, and the clerk and bailiff shall be held personally responsible for all costs required to be paid to them in advance as hereinbefore provided and the clerk shall be personally responsible for all fees required as aforesaid to be collected by him and by each deputy clerk. The clerk and the bailiff shall be required to keep complete and accurate accounts of all moneys collected by them and by their respective deputies and such accounts shall, under the direction of the chief justice of said Municipal Court, be examined and audited monthly, the expense thereof to be paid by the city.

Section 60. That the offices of justices of the peace, police magistrates and constables in and for the territory within the city of Chicago be and they are hereby abolished, and that the jurisdiction of justices of the peace in the territory of the county of Cook outside of the city of Chicago be and is hereby limited to the territory of said county outside of said city, but this section of this act shall not become operative until the first Monday of December, A. D. 1906, and on and after said date the jurisdiction hereby conferred upon the Municipal Court shall exclude the exercise of any portion of such jurisdiction by all other courts excepting courts of record, and on and after said first Monday of December, A. D. 1906, no other court than a court of record shall exercise jurisdiction in any case in which said Municipal Court is given jurisdiction by this act.

Section 61. That when the offices of justices of the peace within the city of Chicago shall be abolished the docket of each justice of the peace whose office is thus abolished shall be forthwith delivered up to the clerk of the Municipal Court, who shall preserve the same in his office kept in the First District. Executions may be issued by the clerk of said court upon any unsatisfied judgments rendered by such justice of the peace in all cases in which the same might have been issued had such office of justice of the peace not been abolished, and said Municipal Court shall allow an appeal to the circuit or superior court of Cook county from any judgment rendered by any justice of the peace within twenty (20) days prior to the first Monday of December, A. D. 1906, upon the giving by the appellant of an appeal bond with security as now required by law in cases of appeals from justices of the peace, provided such appeal is prayed at any time within twenty (20) days after the first Monday of December, A. D. 1906. In all cases not determined or finally disposed of by such justice of the peace at the time his office is abolished, such proceedings shall be had in said Municipal Court as might be had were such suits originally brought in said court, but no trial of any such case shall be had in said court without such notice to the parties thereto as the court may deem necessary. All writs issued by justices of the peace within the city of Chicago and which shall not have been returned on the first Monday of December, A. D. 1906, shall be forthwith returned to the Municipal Court, and said Municipal Court shall have full power to make such provision for the execution or other disposition of all such writs as said court may deem proper for the protection of the rights of the respective parties to the suits in which such writs have been issued.

Section 62. That it shall be the duty of the chief justice of the Municipal Court to superintend the keeping of the records of said court and to prescribe abbreviated forms of entries of orders therein, which abbreviated forms so prescribed shall have the same force and effect as if said orders were entered in full in the records of said court. When any certified transcript of the record, or of any portion thereof, of any suit or proceeding in said court is required, the same shall be written out in full from such abbreviated forms and duly authenticated according to law.

Section 63. That the orders, judgments, and decrees of the Municipal Court in cases of the first class and cases of the second class shall have the same force, be of the same effect, be liens upon real estate in the city of Chicago to the same extent and under the same circumstances, and be executed and enforced in the same manner as the judgments, orders and decrees of the circuit court of Cook county, and such judgments and decrees shall also be liens upon real estate in the county of Cook outside of the city of Chicago after certified transcripts of the same shall have been filed in the office of the recorder of Cook county, which transcripts shall contain the names of the parties to the suits, the kinds of actions, the amounts of the judgments or the general nature and effect of the decrees as the case may be, and the dates on which the judgments and decrees were rendered; provided, however, that no such orders, judgments or decrees shall be liens upon or affect registered land or any estate or interest therein until a certificate under the hand and official seal of the clerk of the Municipal Court, stating the date and purport of the judgment, decree or order, is filed in the office of the register of titles of said Cook county, and a memorial of the same is entered upon the register of the last certificate of title to be affected.

Section 64. That all other judgments of the Municipal Court shall have the same force, be of the same effect and be executed and enforced in the same manner as the judgments of the circuit court of Cook county. But no such judgment shall be a lien upon the real estate of the person against whom it is obtained, excepting from the time of the filing of a certified transcript thereof in the office of the recorder of Cook county, which transcript shall contain the names of the parties to the suit, the kind of action, the amount of the judgment and the date upon which the same was rendered provided, however, that no such judgment shall be a lien upon or affect registered land or any estate or interest therein until a certified transcript thereof is filed in the office of the register of titles of Cook county and a memorial of the same is entered upon the register of the last certificate of title to be affected. The recorder of Cook county shall provide and keep in his office for said Municipal Court well bound books for entering therein an alphabetical docket of all judgments and decrees rendered in said Municipal Court as is now required by law for docketing judgments and decrees rendered in circuit courts, and shall forthwith, after the filing of any transcript herein provided for, enter the same, together with the hour, day, month and year of the filing of such certified transcript and the general number thereof.

Section 65.. That in case it shall be hereafter determined that so much of sections nine (9) and twelve (12) hereof as fixes the terms of office of the chief justice and associate judges of the Municipal Court is invalid, this act shall not on that account be adjudged wholly invalid, but the terms of office of the chief justice and associate judges of said Municipal Court shall in such case be four (4) years, and they shall hold their offices until their successors shall be elected and qualified, and on the first Tuesday after the first Monday of November, A. D. 1910, and on the first Tuesday after the first Monday of November of every fourth year thereafter there shall be elected a chief justice and twenty-four (24) associate judges of said Municipal Court as successors in office of the judges hereby required to be elected on the first Tuesday after the first Monday of November, A. D. 1906, and the terms of office of the associate judges which may be added to said Municipal Court in pursuance of section twelve (12) hereof shall be four (4) years.

Section 66. That the invalidity of any portion of this act shall not affect the validity of any other portion thereof, which can be given effect without such invalid part.

Section 67. That this act shall be submitted to a vote of the legal voters of the city of Chicago at the general election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday of November, A. D. 1906, the ballots to be used at said election in voting upon this act shall be in substantially the following form.

For consenting to the act entitled "An Act in relation to a Municipal Court in the city of Chicago."
Against consenting to the act entitled "An Act in relation to a Municipal Court in the city of Chicago "

If a majority of the legal voters of said city voting on the question at such election shall vote in favor of consenting to this act, the same shall immediately thereupon take effect and become operative.

Ordered that the title be as aforesaid; and that the Clerk inform the Senate thereof, and ask their concurrence therein.

A message from the Senate by Mr. Paddock, Secretary:

Mr. Speaker—I am directed to inform the House of Representatives that he Senate has adopted the following preamble and joint resolution, in the adoption of which I am instructed to ask the concurrence of the House of Representatives, to-wit:

SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION No. 18.

WHEREAS, Abraham Lincoln, illustrious son of Illinois and sixteenth president of the United States, stands preeminent among the great men of the world's history. Born in obscurity, bearing the burden of poverty, with no opportunities except those of his own making, he rose to the most exalted heights. His life, from rail-splitter to president, splendidly exemplified the possibilities of American citizenship. His gentle, generous nature, his unpretentious honesty, his over-mastering sense of justice, are parts of a character that constitute one of the finest legacies of mankind. He led his country through its darkest hour; he lived to see the Union "one and inseparable;" and today the South vies with the North in reverence to his memory. He died a martyr to the cause of human liberty, leaving a name that must be forever an unfailing star of hope to the oppressed of every land.

WHEREAS, It is the custom of all nations to honor their distinguished dead by appropriate and enduring monuments; and

WHEREAS, The capital of this nation possesses no memorial to this most illustrious man; therefore, be it

Resolved, by the Senate, the House of Representatives concurring herein, That this General Assembly favors the erection by the government of the United States, at Washington, D. C., of a monument to Abraham Lincoln—one that shall be commensurate with the grandeur of the man—one that shall rank among the great monuments of the world, standing as long as this government shall endure as a memorial in honor of the man who gave his life that "government of the people, by the people, for the people might not perish from the earth."

Resolved, further, That for this purpose we hereby instruct our Senators and request our Representatives in Congress to use all honorable means to secure an appropriation by the Congress of the United States of three million dollars.

Adopted April 26, 1905.

J. H. PADDOCK.

Secretary of the Senate.

Mr. Oglesby moved that the House concur in the adoption of Senate Joint Resolution No. 18.

The motion prevailed,

And Senate Joint Resolution No. 18 was adopted.

Ordered that the Clerk inform the Senate thereof.

A message from the Senate by Mr. Paddock, Secretary:

Mr. Speaker—I am directed to inform the House of Representatives that the Senate has adopted the following preamble and joint resolution, in the adoption of which I am instructed to ask the concurrence of the House of Representatives, to-wit:

SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 19.

WHEREAS, The Illinois State Commission to the Lewis and Clark Centennial and American-Pacific Exposition and Oriental Fair to be held in Portland, Oregon, during the present year has decided to reproduce a fac-simile of the Lincoln Home at said Exposition and has requested of the Board in charge of the Illinois State Historical Library the loan of certain articles, pictures, relics and documents now in possession of said Board, and,

WHEREAS, It seems desirable that the request be granted; therefore

Resolved, by the Senate, the House of Representatives concurring herein, That the Board in charge of the Illinois State Historical Library be, and are hereby authorized to loan to the Illinois State Commission to the Lewis and Clark Centennial and American-Pacific Exposition and Oriental Fair for the exhibit at said Exposition, such historical relics, documents, etc., under their control as said Commission may deem necessary for said exhibit, provided, that said Commission shall return, at the conclusion of said Exposition, to the custody of the Illinois State Historical Library Board all such articles, relics, documents, etc., in as good condition as when taken away and without expense to said Board.

Resolved, That such additional historical matter collected by the Illinois Commission for making said exhibit shall, at the close of the Exposition, be the property of the State and shall be placed in the Illinois Historical Library at Springfield, Illinois.

Adopted April 26, 1905.

J. H. PADDOCK,
Secretary of the Senate.

Having been printed, was taken up and read at large a second time;

Thereupon, the Committee on Appropriations offered the following amendments and moved their adoption:

AMENDMENT No. 1.

Amend the title of House Bill No. 63, by striking out of said title all after the word "established" and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "and create at the University of Illinois the bureau to be known as a State geological survey, defining its duties and providing for the preparation and publication of its reports and maps to illustrate the natural resources of the State and making appropriations therefor."

AMENDMENT No. 2.

Amend House Bill No. 63, by striking out all after the enacting clause in said bill and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "That there be and is hereby created and established at the University of Illinois a bureau to be known as a State Geological Survey, which shall be under the direction of a commission to be known as a State Geological Commission, composed of the Governor (who shall be ex-officio chairman of said commission) the President of the University of Illinois and one other competent person to be appointed by the Governor, who shall hold office for the term of four years and until his successor is appointed and qualified.

Section 2. The said commissioners shall serve without compensation, but shall be reimbursed for actual expenses incurred in the performance of their official duties, and said commissioners shall have general charge of such bureau, and shall appoint a director, who may, with the approval of the board, appoint such assistance and employees as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of this act.

Section 3. The director appointed under the provisions of this act, and the assistants and employees appointed by him, as hereinbefore provided, shall receive such salaries or compensation as may be determined by the Board of Commissioners.

Section 4. The said bureau shall have for its objects and duties the following: (1) A study of the geological formations of the State with special reference to its economic products: i. e. coals, ores, clays, building stones, cement, materials suitable for use in the construction of roads, gas, mineral and artesian water and other mineral resources. (2) The preparation of geological and other necessary maps to illustrate the resources of the State. (3) The preparation of reports, with necessary illustrations and maps, which shall include both a general and detail description of the geological and mineral resources of the State. (4) The consideration of such other scientific and economic questions as in the judgment of the commissioners shall be deemed of value to the people.

Section 5. The regular and special reports of the said bureau shall be printed and distributed or sold, as the commissioners shall deem best for the interests of the People of the State, and as they may direct; and all moneys obtained by the sale of said reports shall be paid into the State Treasury.

Section 6. The printing of said reports and of the necessary supplies of stationery, blank books and other printed matter necessary for the purposes of said Bureau shall be and form a part of the State printing contract and as such, be under the direction and supervision of the Board of Commissioners of State Contracts; provided, however, that the cost thereof shall not exceed the sum of Five Thousand (5,000) dollars per annum.

Section 7. The directors shall present to the Governor an annual report showing the progress and condition of said Bureau, together with such other information as the Commissioners may deem necessary and useful.

Section 8. All materials collected, after having served the purposes of the Bureau, shall be distributed by the Director to the educational institutions of the State in such manner as the Commissioners may determine to be of the greatest advantage to the educational interests of the State, or if deemed advisable, the whole or part of such material may be placed on permanent exhibition in the State Museum of Natural History at Springfield or in the Museum of the University of Illinois.

Section 9. The sum of twenty-five thousand (25,000) dollars per annum or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby appropriated out of any money in the State Treasury, not otherwise appropriated, to provide for the payment of actual expenses incurred by the said Commissioners in the performance of their official duties hereunder, and for other expenses or obligations authorized by them, and for the payment of the salary of the Director appointed by said Commissioners, and for the payment of the salaries or other compensation of the assistants and employes that may be appointed hereunder; and the Auditor of Public Accounts is hereby authorized and instructed to draw his warrant on the Treasury for the allowance of said expenses and salaries upon the presentation of proper vouchers approved by the Governor.

Section 10. The said Commissioners are hereby authorized to arrange with the Director or the representative of the United States Geological Survey in regard to co-operation between the said United States Geological Survey and the said State Geological Commission in the preparation and completion of a contour topographic survey and map or maps of this State and said Commission may accept or reject the work of said United States Geological Survey.

Section 11. In order to carry out the provisions of this act, it shall be lawful for any person or persons employed hereunder, to enter and cross all lands within this State, provided that in so doing no damage is done to private property.

Section 12. The Commission may expend in the prosecution of such co-operative work a sum equal to that which shall be expended thereon by the United States Geological Survey, provided that not more than Ten Thousand (10,000) Dollars be expended in this work in one year.

Section 13. That it shall be the duty of the University of Illinois to give thorough and reliable instruction in the geology of clay working materials, their origin, classification, physical and chemical properties, and their behavior under such influences as are met with during the processes of manufacture, and to provide for this purpose such instructor, laboratories, apparatus, and all illustrative material as may be necessary to make this instruction practical; and to carry out the provisions of this section there is hereby appropriated the sum of Five Thousand (5,000) Dollars annually; and the Auditor of Public Accounts is hereby authorized to draw his warrants on the State Treasurer for the sum appropriated in this section upon order of the chairman of the Board of Trustees of the University of Illinois, countersigned by the Secretary, and with the corporate seal of the University.

Section 14. All previous enactments which conflict with the provisions of this act, are hereby repealed.

And the foregoing amendments Nos. 1 and 2 were adopted.

There being no further amendments the foregoing amendments were ordered printed.

And the question being, "Shall the bill be engrossed for a third reading?" it was decided in the affirmative.

By unanimous consent, Mr. Trautmann called up House Bill No. 328 in the order of second reading, Section 3. It shall be the duty of the Board of Prison Industries of Illinois to attend to the disposition and distribution of all the products of the skill and labor of said convicts and prisoners. They shall particularly be charged with the duty of seeing that under no circumstances, shall any of the products of the labor of said convicts or prisoners mentioned in this act, be sold upon the open market, except as hereinafter provided. They shall see that the said products do not enter into conflict with any of the established industries of the State, except as hereinafter provided. It shall be their duty at all times, to inform themselves, so far as possible, of the industrial conditions of the State of Illinois, and to see that the labor of said convicts and prisoners do not enter into competition with the products of free labor, except as hereinafter provided.

Section 5. The Board of Prison Industries of Illinois, or the Commissioners of said penitentiaries, or either of them, or the Board of Managers of said reformatory, shall not, nor shall any other authority whatsoever, make any contract by which the labor or time of any prisoner or convict in any penitentiary or reformatory of this State or the product or profit of his work shall be contracted, let, farmed out, given or sold, to any person, firm, association or corporation; except that the said prisoners or convicts in said penal and reformatory institutions may work for, and the products of their labor may be disposed of to the State, or for or to any public institution owned or managed and controlled by the State.

Section 6. The wardens, superintendents, managers and officials of all reformatories and penitentiaries in the State shall, so far as practicable, cause all the prisoners in said institutions, who are physically capable thereof, to be employed at useful labor, not to exceed eight hours of each day, other than Sundays, and public holidays, but such useful labor shall be either for the purpose of production of supplies for said institution, or for the State, or for any public institution owned or managed and controlled by the State, or for the purpose of industrial training and instruction, or for the making of crushed rock for road material, and for the improvement of public grounds owned by the State, or use in and upon public buildings owned by the State, or for agricultural pursuits for the support of the inmates of the State institutions, or partly for one and partly for the other of such purposes, or a combination of all said industries and employments: Provided, however, that it shall be the policy of the State to use in such industries, no more machinery or motive power, other than hand and foot power, than may be required to successfully carry this act into effect; and provided further, that the Board of Managers of the said Illinois State Reformatory at Pontiac, may use all or any part of the eight hours provided herein for the labor of the convicts, in the giving of useful instruction to the inmates of said reformatory.

Section 7. The labor of the prisoners of the first grade in each of said penitentiaries and reformatories shall be directed with reference to fitting the prisoner to maintain himself by honest industry after his discharge from imprisonment, as a primary or sole object of such labor, and such prisoners of the first grade may be so employed at hard labor for industrial training and instruction, even though no useful or salable products result from their labor, but only in case such industrial training or instruction can be more effectively given in such manner. Otherwise, and so far as consistent with the primary object of the labor of prisoners of the first grade as aforesaid, the labor of such prisoners shall be so directed as to produce the greatest amount of useful products, articles and supplies needed and used in the said institutions, and in the buildings and offices of the State, or in any public institution owned and managed and controlled by the State, or said labor may be for the State.

Section 8. The labor of prisoners of the second grade in said penitentiaries and reformatories shall be directed primarily to labor for the State, or to the production and manufacture of useful articles and supplies for said institutions, or for any public institutions owned or managed and controlled by the State.

Section 9. The labor of prisoners of the third grade in said penitentiaries and reformatories shall be directed to such exercises as shall tend to the preservation of health, or they shall be employed in labor for the State, or in the manufacture of such articles and supplies as are needed and used in the said institutions, and in the public institutions owned or managed and controlled by the State.

Section 10. All convicts, sentenced to State penitentiaries and reformatories in this State shall be employed for the State, or in productive industries for the benefit of the State, or for the use of public institutions owned or managed and controlled by the State, which shall be under rules and regulations for the distribution and diversification thereof, to be established by the Board of Prison Industries of Illinois.

Section 11. The labor of convicts in penitentiaries and reformatories in this State after the necessary labor for the manufacture of all needed supplies for said institutions shall be primarily devoted to the State and the public institutions thereof, and the manufacture of supplies for the State and the public institutions thereof, and secondly to the school and road districts of the State and the public institutions thereof, but provided that if the demands of the State, the State institutions and the school and road districts thereof as herein provided shall not be sufficient to furnish employment to all the prisoners of the penal and reformatory institutions of the State then the board of prison industries may and are hereby authorized to dispose of the surplus product of such labor to the best advantage of the State, but provided further that not more than forty per cent (40%) of said prisoners in the penal and reformatory institutions shall be employed in the manufacture of products of industries heretofore established which may be disposed of other than to the State, State institutions and school and road districts of the State.

Section 12. Crushed or other manufactured road material created by the labor of such convicts or prisoners shall be furnished free at such penitentiary or reformatory institution upon the requisition of the State Highway Commission, but upon the express agreement that such material shall be placed in a permanent public road way.

Section 14. The Board of Prison Industries of Illinois and the Superintendents of Reformatories and wardens of penitentiaries respectively are authorized and directed to cause to be manufactured by the convicts in the penitentiaries and reformatories such articles as are needed and used therein and also such as are required by the State and in the buildings, offices and public institutions owned or managed and controlled by the State including articles and materials to be used in the erection of the building. All such articles manufactured in the penitentiaries and reformatories and not required for use therein may be furnished to the State or for or to any public institution owned or managed and controlled by the State at and for such prices as shall be fixed and determined as hereinafter provided upon the requisition of the proper official, trustee or manager thereof. No articles so manufactured shall be purchased from any other source for the State, or public institutions of the State, unless said board of prison industries of Illinois shall certify that the same cannot be furnished upon such requisition, and no claim therefor shall be audited or paid without such certificate.

Section 15. On October 1st and quarterly thereafter in each year the proper officials in the State and of the institutions of the State shall report to the said board of prison industries of Illinois estimates for the ensuing year of the amount of supplies of different kinds required to be purchased by them that can be furnished by the penal institutions of the State. The said board of prison industries of Illinois is authorized to make regulations for said reports to provide for the manner in which requisitions shall be made for supplies, and to provide for the proper diversification of the industries of said penal institution.

Section 16. The president of the board of prison industries of Illinois, the president of the State Board of Public Charities, and the Auditor of Public Accounts of Illinois are hereby constituted a board to be known as the Board of Classification, said board shall fix and determine the prices at which all labor performed and all articles manufactured and furnished to the State or to the public institutions thereof shall be furnished, which prices shall be uniform to all. The prices shall be as near the usual market price for such labor and supplies as possible, the State board of prison industries shall devise and furnish to all such institutions a proper form for such requisition and the Auditor of Public Accounts shall devise and furnish a proper system of accounts to be kept for all such transactions. So far as practicable all supplies used in such buildings, offices and public institutions shall be uniform for each class and of the style patterns, designs and qualities that can be manufactured in the penal and reformatory institutions of this State.

"Twenty-first. Removals and Reduction. Removals from the classified service, or reduction in grade of compensation, or both, may be made in any department of the service by the head of such department, for any cause which will promote the efficiency of the service; but only on written specifications by the officer making the removal or reduction; and the person sought to be removed or reduced shall have notice and shall be served with a copy of the specifications, and be allowed reasonable time for answering the same in writing; and a copy of the notice, specifications, answer, and of the order of removal or reduction shall be filed with the Civil Service Commission. The said Commission shall investigate any removal or reduction which it has reason to believe has not been made in accordance with the provisions of this section, and it may in any case investigate any removal or reduction, and then in accordance with its findings approve or disapprove the same. The finding and the decision of the said Commission shall in every case be final, and shall be certified to the appointing officer, and shall be forthwith enforced by such officer. A copy of said papers in each case shall be made a part of the record of the division of the service in which the removal or reduction is made. Nothing in this act shall limit the power of any officer to suspend a subordinate, without pay, for cause assigned in writing, for a reasonable period, not exceeding thirty days.

In the course of an investigation of charges each member of the Civil Service Commission shall have the power to administer oaths, and shall have the power to secure by its subpoena, both the attendance and testimony of witnesses, and the production of books and papers relevant to such investigation.

The bill having received the votes of a constitutional majority of the members elected, was declared passed.

Ordered that the title be as aforesaid, and that the Clerk inform the Senate thereof, and ask their concurrence therein.

The Speaker laid before the House the following communication:
Mr. Speaker and Members of the House of the 44th General Assembly,

Sirs: In view of the fact that your Committee upon Credentials, appointed to examine my certificate of election raised the question as to the salary I would be entitled to, if any, by commanding the State Auditor to investigate my legal status before issuing the voucher for the sum of $1,050.00, I desire to communicate to the House that the Auditor has decided, after consultation with the Attorney General that under the law I am entitled to the sum of $1,050.00 as a new member of the House, elected April 4th. Notwithstanding the decision of the Auditor fixing my legal right to the $1,050.00 in question, I feel that accepting the same would be morally wrong, I therefore desire to officially renounce and release all claim thereto, and that it may appear of record I respectfully request that this waiver be spread upon the Journal of the House. I am, sirs,

Most respectfully yours,

FRANK D. COMERFORD.

By unanimous consent, Mr. Mitchell offered the following resolution and moved its adoption:

AMENDMENT No. 2.

Amend printed bill by inserting in line 9 of section 1, between the words "the" and "consent" the following "advice and."

AMENDMENT No. 3.

Amend printed bill by striking out all in lines 12 and 13 of section 2 the words in parentheses as follows ("other than the three commissioners first appointed.")

AMENDMENT No. 4.

Amend printed bill by striking out in line 13 of section 6 the word "services" and insert in lieu thereof the word "service."

AMENDMENT No. 5.

Amend section 10, on page 6, of printed bill, by striking out the first paragraph and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"Section 10. Appointments to Classified Service. The head of a department, office or institution in which a position classified under this act is to be filled shall notify said commission of that fact and said commission shall certify to the appointing officer the names and addresses of three candidates standing highest upon the register for the class or grade to which said position belongs, and the head of such department, office or institution shall select one of the three so certified and after a candidate has been certified three times by the commission and shall not have been accepted by the head of a department, office or institution his name shall be stricken from the register."

AMENDMENT No. 6.

Amend printed bill by striking out all of section 12 and insert in lieu thereof the following:

"Section 12. No officer or employe in the classified Civil Service of the State who shall have been appointed under said rules shall be removed, discharged, or reduced in rank or pay because of his religious or political opinion or affiliation.

"No removal shall be made by any appointing power from the classified Civil Service, except for just cause, and for reasons given in writing to the Commission, and the persons sought to be removed shall have notice and be furnished a copy of such reasons and be allowed a reasonable time, not less than three nor more than seven days, for personally answering the same in writing. Copy of such reason, notice, and answer and of the order of removal shall be made a part of the record of the proper department or office; and the reasons for any change in rank or compensation within the classified service shall also be made a part of the records of the proper department or office.

"It is understood that the term 'just cause' as used in this section, is intended to mean any cause, other than one merely political or religious, which will promote the efficiency of the service; and nothing contained in this section shall be construed to require the examination of witnesses or any trial or hearing."

AMENDMENT No. 7.

AMENDMENT No. 1.

Amend the title so that the same shall read as follows:

A bill for "An Act to amend an act entitled, 'An Act to revise the law in relation to mortgages of real and personal property,' approved March 26, 1874, as amended by subsequent acts."

AMENDMENT No. 2.

Amend by striking out all after the enacting clause and insert in lieu thereof the following:

That sections 2 and 3 of the act entitled, "An Act to revise the law in relation to mortgages of real and personal property," approved March 26, 1874, as amended by subsequent acts be and the same is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

Section 2. Such instruments shall be acknowledged before a justice of the peace or the county judge of the county where the mortgagor resides, or before the clerk or any deputy clerk of any municipal court in such county; or if the mortgagor is not a resident of the State at the time of making the acknowledgment, then before any officer authorized by law to take acknowledgment of deeds. Provided, however, that in counties having a population of more than 200,000, such instrument, if the mortgagor is a resident of the State at the time of making the acknowledgment, shall be acknowledged before a justice of the peace of the town or precinct where the mortgagor resides, or if there be no justice of the peace in such town or precinct such instrument shall be acknowledged before the clerk or any deputy clerk of the municipal court in the district in which the mortgagor resides, or, if there be no such clerk or deputy clerk, before the county judge of the county in which the mortgagor resides, the certificate of acknowledgment may be in the following form:

This (name of instrument) was acknowledged before me by (name of grantor) (when the acknowledgment is made of a resident, insert the words, "and entered by me") this..... day of, 19....

Witness my hand and seal.

(Name of Officer.)

(Seal.)

Section 3. If the acknowledgment is by a resident of this State, the justice of the peace, clerk or deputy clerk of the municipal court or county judge, shall enter in his docket, or in some book kept for that purpose, a memorandum thereof substantially as follows:

A. B. (Name of Mortgagor) to C. D. (Name of Mortgagee); mortgage of (here insert description of the property as in the mortgage.)

Acknowledged this.....day of, 19....

And the amendments were adopted.

Pending discussion,

Mr. Lindly moved to reconsider the vote by which amendments Nos. 1 and 2 to Senate Bill No. 360 had been heretofore adopted.

The motion prevailed,

And the vote was deemed reconsidered.

Whereupon, Mr. Lindly moved to postpone the further consideration of Senate Bill No. 360 in the order of second reading until tomorrow.

The motion prevailed,

WHEREAS, The citizens along these several streams are desirous of procuring such legislation as will enable the owners of the lands adjacent to these rivers to improve the same; and,

WHEREAS, Unless these improvements are made from the outlet to their heads the improvements cannot be successfully and judiciously made anywhere between the head and mouth of such streams; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, By the Senate the House of Representatives concurring herein, That any two or more counties, or any two or more cities, interested in the improvement of these streams, be requested to organize in their respective counties, and upon these respective streams, and appoint such committees as may be deemed advisable in the premises, to make an investigation of the situation along these respective streams, and make an estimate of what improvements could be judiciously made, and where required to be made, and the probable expense of making the same, and tabulate their respective work in such particulars, and prepare a statement to be submitted to the next General Assembly, respecting the proposed improvements, and what legislation, in their judgment is necessary to bring about the desired result; that such committees be authorized to make these respective investigations at their own expense and submit the same to the next legislature through their respective Representatives and Senators; and, be it further

Resolved, That the General Assembly recommend that the respective boards of supervisors of the several counties interested, and the city councils interested, in this work, make reasonable appropriations to pay the expenses of these various committees.

Mr. Shanahan moved that the House concur with the Senate in the adoption of the foregoing resolution.

The motion prevailed,

And the House concurred with the Senate in the adoption of the foregoing Senate Joint Resolution No. 16.

Ordered that the Clerk inform the Senate thereof.

The Speaker took from his table and laid before the House Senate Joint Resolution No. 14, reported from the Senate March 30, 1905, which resolution is as follows:

SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION No. 14.

Resolved, By the Senate of the State of Illinois, the House of Representatives concurring therein: That permission and authority are hereby granted to the Union County Traction and Power Company, for itself, its successors and assigns, to enter upon and construct, maintain and operate in, along, upon and across the northwest quarter, and the east half of the southwest quarter, and a part of the west half of the southeast quarter, all in section 17, and township 12, south of range 1 west of the third principal meridian, in the County of Union, and State of Illinois, now owned by the State of Illinois and occupied by the Southern Illinois Hospital for the Insane, a single track standard gauge railway with necessary side tracks, switches and turnouts, the said railway to enter the hospital grounds at a point opposite the southeast corner of said hospital grounds where the present hospital fence joins the west line of the public highway; thence in a northerly direction inside of the fence, following the present line of the hospital fence for a distance of approximately 1,600 feet, the general course of said line of railway from the point where the hospital fence joins the public highway is north 26° east 175 feet; thence north 4° west 910 feet; thence north 8° west 255 feet; thence north 11° 30 minutes west 230 feet; thence due north 147 feet; thence north 50° west 30 feet; at which point the hospital fence and public highway turns sharply to the northeast, and the line of the railway will continue its course crossing the property of the hospital in a course north 3° west 675 feet; thence north 22° 45 minutes west 588 feet; thence north 89° west a distance of 300 feet, at which point the line will make a circular loop around the abandoned reservoirs of the hospital. On the northeast corner of this loop a branch line will be run passing along the side of the boiler house; thence along the ice plant; thence along the corners of the main ward buildings to a point opposite the second boiler house, as at present located. The line through the grounds will follow the general course of the roadway passing approximately 9 feet from the present boiler house, 19 feet from the kitchen, 29 feet from the ice plant, and 22 feet from the ward buildings, then following the general course of the roadway but located approximately 40 feet to the side of the roadway, and will extend to the second boiler house, passing approximately 30 feet from the corner of the ward buildings and outside of the present roadway. Said railway shall extend from and connect with the railway to be constructed by said Union County Traction and Power Company, in, upon and along the public highway abutting upon said premises and known as the Lime Kiln road, and shall extend thence through and across said premises in accordance with the foregoing description, and shall be located and constructed under the supervision and with the approval of the trustees of said Southern Illinois Hospital for the Insane. Be it further

Resolved, That said railway may be operated by electricity or other motive power, except steam, and that power and authority are hereby granted and conferred upon the trustees of said Southern Illinois Hospital for the Insane to regulate the operation of said railway and the speed of cars and trains over and upon the same while in or upon said premises, and that the rights and privileges hereby granted shall continue and remain in full force and effect for a period of twenty years from the passage of this resolution: Provided, however, that unless the railway hereby authorized shall be completed and in operation within two years from the date and passage of this resolution, all rights hereby granted shall cease and determine.

Mr. Oglesby moved that the House concur with the Senate in the adoption of the foregoing resolution.

The motion prevailed,

And the House concurred with the Senate in the adoption of the foregoing Senate Joint Resolution No. 14.

Ordered that the Clerk inform the Senate thereof.

The bill having received the votes of a constitutional majority of the members elected, was declared passed.

Ordered that the title be as aforesaid, and that the Clerk inform the Senate thereof, and ask their concurrence therein.

By unanimous consent, the Speaker called up Senate Bill No. 256,

A bill for "An Act to amend sections 17, 20 and 21 of an act to revise the law in relation to State contracts," approved March 31, 1874, in force July 1, 1874, as amended by an act approved June 6, 1889, in force July 1, 1889, and an act approved April 21, 1899, in force July 1, 1899,"

Having been printed, and having heretofore been read at large a second time, and amendment No. 1 having heretofore been adopted, was again taken up.

There being no further amendments the foregoing amendment was ordered printed and engrossed.

And the question being, "Shall the bill, as amended, be ordered to a third reading?" it was decided in the affirmative.

By unanimous consent, Mr. Pedersen, from the Committee on Engrossed and Enrolled Bills, reported that a House Bill of the following title has been correctly engrossed and returned herewith.

HOUSE BILL No. 10.

A bill for an act to regulate the business of all persons, co-partnerships, associations, organizations or corporations which are now, or shall hereafter, be engaged in the business as home co-operative companies, or in the business of issuing contracts of agreements whether in the nature of a bond, debenture, certificate or otherwise providing for the redemption or fulfilling of such contracts or agreements as by an accumulation of a fund or funds from contributions made by the subscribers to or the holder of such contracts or agreements or providing for the maturing or fulfilling of such contracts or agreements in the order of their issue, or in some other fixed or arbitrarily determined order, or providing for the payment of money or the granting or giving of any consideration greater in value than the amount paid in upon such contract, together with the actual net earnings accrued and accumulated thereon, or the providing for the loaning of the funds contributed by the subscribers to or the holders of such contracts or agreements to such subscriber or the holder in any fixed or arbitrarily determined order or manner or for the making of loans or advances from such funds to or for such subscribers or holders to be repaid in installments except all persons, co-partnerships, associations, organizations or corporations doing business under the provisions of the statutes provided for the regulation of bond investment, trust or insurance companies or banks, savings fund, building and loan, fiduciary relief or fraternal orders, associations or companies, with an emergency clause.

And the foregoing House Bill No. 10 was placed in the order of House Bills on third reading.

By unanimous consent, Mr. Pedersen, from the Committee on Engrossed and Enrolled Bills, reported that House Bills of the following titles have been correctly engrossed and returned herewith:

HOUSE BILL No. 593.

A bill for "An Act to prohibit the scalping and sale of tickets for more than the price printed thereon for theaters, circuses, and places of public entertainment or amusement, and declaring the same a misdemeanor.

HOUSE BILL No. 594.

A bill for "An Act to prohibit owners, lessees, occupants, and managers of theaters, circuses, places of public entertainment and amusement from selling of seats for theaters, circuses, and places of public entertainment and amusement and making same a misdemeanor.

HOUSE BILL No. 347.

A bill for "An Act to amend section 42 of an act entitled, "An Act concerning local improvements."

And the foregoing House Bills Nos. 593, 594 and 347 were placed in the order of House Bills on third reading.

By unanimous consent the Speaker called up Senate Bill No. 383 in the order of second reading, and Senate Bill No. 383, a bill for "An Act to provide for the creation of forest preserve districts,"

Having been printed and having heretofore been read at large a second time, was again taken up in the order of second reading.

The pending question being, the consideration of Mr. Lindly's motion to reconsider the vote by which amendment No. 1 to Senate Bill No. 383 was lost.

Pending discussion.

Mr. Lindly withdrew his motion.

Mr. Browne offered the following amendment and moved its adoption:

AMENDMENT No. 5.

Amend by inserting after the word "territory" in line 2 of printed bill the following, "entirely within a county having a population of 200,000 or more."

Pending discussion.

Mr. Browne withdrew amendment No. 5.

Mr. Browne moved to reconsider the vote by which amendment No. 1 was ordered to lie upon the table.

Objections being heard,

Mr. Browne moved that the rules be suspended for that purpose.

The motion was lost,

And the House refused to suspend the rules.

Mr. Burke offered the following amendment and moved its adoption:

AMENDMENT No. 6.

Amend Senate Bill No. 383 in the House by inserting after the word "city" in line 3 of section one (1) of said bill as printed the following, "containing less than 100,000 inhabitants and."

Mr. Breidt moved to lay the foregoing amendment upon the table.

The motion prevailed.

And amendment No. 6 was ordered to lie upon the table.

Mr. Burke offered the following amendment and moved its adoption:

AMENDMENT No. 7.

Amend Senate Bill No. 383 in the House by striking out in line 11, section 3 of said bill all after the word "commissioners" and insert in lieu thereof the words "not to exceed twenty-five hundred dollars ($2,500) per annum.

And the amendment was adopted.

Mr. Burke offered the following amendment and moved its adoption:

AMENDMENT No. 8.

Amend Senate Bill No. 383 in the House by adding after the word "commissioners" in line 6 of section 2 of said bill as printed the following, "not more than three (3) of whom shall be of the same political faith."

And the amendment was lost.

Mr. McGoorty offered the following amendment and moved its adoption:

AMENDMENT No. 9.

Amend Senate Bill No. 383 in the House by adding thereto an additional section which shall be known as section 11:

"Section 11. This act shall not be in force until the question of its adoption shall first have been submitted to the electors of this state and approved by a majority of those voting thereon at the next general election."

And the amendment was lost.

Mr. Rinaker offered the following amendment and moved its adoption:

AMENDMENT No. 10.

Amend Senate Bill No. 383 in the House by striking out all of section 7 in the printed bill.

And the amendment was lost.

Mr. McKinley, of Cook, offered the following amendment and moved its adoption.

AMENDMENT No. 11.

Amend Senate Bill No. 383 in House by striking out all of lines 6 to the end of line 9 in section 9.

And the amendment was lost.

Mr. Browne offered the following amendment and moved its adoption:

AMENDMENT No. 12.

Amend Senate Bill No. 383 in House by striking out section 6 of said bill.

And the amendment was lost.

Pending discussion,

Mr. Lindly moved the previous question.

And the question being, "Shall the main question be now put?" it was decided in the affirmative.

And the question being, "Shall the bill, as amended, be ordered to a third reading?" it was decided in the affirmative.

And the foregoing amendments Nos. 3, 4 and 7 were ordered printed and engrossed.

By unanimous consent, Mr. Lindly called up Senate Bill No. 360 in the order of second reading,

And Senate Bill No. 360, a bill for "An Act to amend an act entitled, 'An Act to revise the law in relation to mortgages of real and personal property,' approved March 26, 1874,"

Having been printed and having heretofore been read at large on yesterday a second time, was taken together with the amendments heretofore reconsidered.

The question being, "Shall amendment No. 1 heretofore reconsidered be adopted?"

AMENDMENT No. 1.

Amend the title so that the same shall read as follows:

A bill for "An Act to amend an act entitled, 'An Act to revise the law in relation to mortgages of real and personal property,' approved March 26, 1874, as amended by subsequent acts."

And the amendment was adopted.

The question now being upon the adoption of amendment No. 2 heretofore offered which amendment is as follows:

AMENDMENT No. 2.

Amend by striking out all after the enacting clause and insert in lieu thereof the following:

"That sections 2 and 3 of an act entitled, 'An Act to revise the law in relation to mortgages of real and personal property,' approved March 26, 1874, as amended by subsequent acts, be and the same is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

Section 2. Such instruments shall be acknowledged before a justice of the peace or the county judge of the county where the mortgagor resides or before the clerk or any deputy clerk of any municipal court in such county, or if the mortgagor is not a resident of the State at the time of making the acknowledgment then before any officer authorized by law to take acknowledgment of deeds. Provided, however, that in counties having a population of more than 200,000 such instrument if the mortgagor is a resident of the State of making the acknowledgment shall be acknowledged before a justice of the peace of the town or precinct where the mortgagor resides, or if there be no justice of the peace in such town or precinct such instrument may be acknowledged before the clerk or any deputy clerk of the municipal court of the district in which the mortgagor resides, or if there be no such clerk before the county judge of the county in which the mortgagor resides. The certificate of acknowledgment may be in the following form: (name of instrument) was acknowledged before me by (name of mortgagor) when the acknowledgment is made of a resident insert the words "I, (name of mortgagor) do hereby acknowledge" (name of instrument) "this day of 19....." my hand and seal.

(Name of Officer.)

SEAL.]

If the acknowledgment is made by a resident of this State the mortgagor, he may enter in his docket or in some book kept for that purpose a certificate thereof substantially as follows:

I, (name of mortgagor) do hereby acknowledge to C. D. (name of mortgagee); mortgage of (description of the property as in the mortgage.) made this day of, 19....

for consideration, and I have offered the following amendment to amendment No. 2, and adopted:

AMENDMENT No. 3.

J. H. PADDOCK,
Secretary of the Senate.

A message from the Senate by Mr. Wells, Assistant Secretary:

Mr. Speaker—I am directed to inform the House of Representatives that the Senate has concurred with the House in the passage of a bill of the following title:

HOUSE BILL No. 277.

A bill for "An Act to provide for the holding and regulation of primary elections,"

Together with the attached amendments thereto, in the adoption of which amendments I am instructed to ask the concurrence of the House of Representatives.

Passed by the Senate May 4, 1905.

J. H. PADDOCK,
Secretary of the Senate.

Strike out all after the enacting clause and insert the following:

Section 1. That hereafter the nomination for candidates for Governor, Representatives in Congress, Members of the General Assembly, all county officers and all officers of any city, village or incorporated town organized under any general or special act of this State, by all political parties as defined in this act shall be made by means of a primary election under the provisions hereof. This act shall not apply to cities, villages or incorporated towns having a population of less than 1,000, as ascertained by the last preceding Federal census. Provided, further, this act shall not apply to the nominations of candidates for judges of the Supreme and circuit courts, to county commissioners in counties not under township organization.

Section 2. Nothing in this act contained shall be construed to prevent nomination of candidates for any office or offices by petition, by any party as herein defined, pursuant to the provisions of sections 4, 5 and 6 of an act entitled, "An Act to provide for the printing and distribution of ballots at public expense, and for the nomination of candidates for public office, to regulate the manner of holding elections, and to enforce the secrecy of the ballot," approved June 22, 1891, in force July 1, 1891: Provided, that the petition for such nomination shall be filed with the proper officers, on or before 12 o'clock noon of the day previous to the day fixed for the primary election under the provisions of this act.

Section 3. A political party under the provisions of this act shall be held to mean a party which, at the last preceding presidential election, cast for its candidates for electors at least ten per cent of the total votes cast at said election.

No political party which, at the last preceding presidential election, cast for its candidates' presidential electors less than ten per cent of the total vote of the State shall be allowed to place the names of its candidates, or any of them, upon any primary ballot.

Section 4. Each election precinct now established, or which may hereafter be established, for the purpose of a general election, shall constitute a primary district under this act: Provided, that where an election precinct is or hereafter may be divided into election districts, each election district shall constitute a primary district under this act.

Section 5. A primary election, under this act, shall be held in each primary district, at the regularly established place for holding general elections, on the last Saturday in April, A. D. 1906, and on the last Saturday in April every two years thereafter, except that the primaries for cities, villages and incorporated towns shall be held on the first Saturday of March in the years in which their officers are to be elected. The polls of said primary election shall be open from 12 m. o'clock to 7 p. m. o'clock.

Section 6. At least thirty days before a primary election, the county central committee of each political party shall hold a meeting, a notice of which shall be sent to each member of said committee at least one week prior to the date of said meeting. And at said meeting the said county central committee shall first determine whether or not the several county officers shall be nominated at the primary election, or by the delegates chosen at such primary to the county convention, but in case the names of all candidates for county offices shall be printed in a vertical column on the primary ballot and the candidate who shall receive the highest number of votes shall have the vote of all the delegates from the primary district as hereinafter provided. And if the said committee shall determine that said officers shall be nominated by primary ballot at such primary, they shall next determine whether said officers shall be nominated by a majority or plurality vote at such primary, and said committee shall also file in the county clerk's office of the respective county, a call for the county convention of its party. Said call shall state the time and place of holding the county convention, the offices for which candidates will be nominated at said primary; the total number of delegates which shall compose the convention, and the number of delegates to which each primary district will be entitled in the convention. And said call, if the county candidates are to be nominated at such primary, shall state whether the nominations for said county officers shall be made by a majority or plurality vote. The decision of said committee on the question of making the nominations at the primary election and whether by a majority or plurality vote shall be ascertained by a yea and nay roll call of the committee, which roll call shall be certified to by the chairman and secretary of the committee to the county clerk and filed with the call for such convention. No committeeman shall be permitted to name a proxy or to vote thereby, but every such committeeman, if unable to be personally present, shall notify the committee in writing how his vote shall be cast on the question of nominating by a majority or plurality vote at said primary; the chairman of the county committee shall publicly read and announce such vote of such absent committeeman and the same shall be recorded on the roll call in like manner as those who are present, and said call shall be signed by the chairman and attested by the secretary of the county central committee. In case there shall be in any county of the State more than one county central committee claiming to be the reglar committee, then, in that case, the county central committee that was selected by the nominating convention of 1904, and whose candidates were placed on the official ballot shall be recognized as the county central committee to make this call: Provided, that each primary district shall be entitled to at least one delegate to each county convention.

Section 7. All county conventions shall be held on the Thursday next following a primary election as herein provided.

Section 8. "At least fifteen days before each primary election, the county clerk of each county, or the clerk of any city, village or incorporated town, as the case may be, shall prepare a printed or partly printed and partly written notice of such primary election for each primary district in his county, village or incorporated town embraced in this act, which notice shall state the time and place for holding the primary election, the hours during which the polls will be open, the offices for which candidates will be voted for at such primary election, the political parties entitled to participate therein, and the number of delegates which the primary district is entitled to in the county convention of each political party, and shall publish such notice in at least one newspaper (if there be one published in the territory where such primary election is held), and shall also mail two copies of said notice to each primary election judge. And it shall be the duty of the several primary election judges to post said notices in public and conspicuous places in their respective primary districts at least ten days before the primary election in all counties, cities, villages or incorporated towns, as herein provided. The clerk thereof shall prepare such primary election call in accordance with the requirements of this section.

Section 9. The judges of such primary elections shall be appointed by the county judge of the respective counties on the recommendation of the various county committees of the various political parties to a place on such primary ballot: Provided, that not more than two such judges of primary election shall be appointed from the same political party.

Section 10. If, at the time for the opening of a primary election, one of the primary judges be absent or refuses to act, the judges present shall appoint some qualified elector of the primary district to act in his place. If two of the primary judges be absent or refuse to act, the judge present shall fill the vacancies in the same manner as herein provided. If all three primary judges be absent or refuse to act, the primary electors present who reside in the primary district, shall select three of their number, not more than two of whom in any case shall be of the same political party, to act as primary judges. The judges so selected and appointed shall take the same oath, have the same powers, perform the same duties, and be subject to the same penalties as regularly constituted primary election judges.

Section 11. Previous to any votes being received the primary election judges shall severally subscribe and take an oath or affirmation in the following form, to-wit:

"I do solemnly swear (or affirm, as the case may be) that I will support the Constitution of the United States, and the Constitution of the State of Illinois, and will faithfully and honestly discharge the duties of primary election judge according to the best of my ability, and that I have resided in this primary district for one year next preceding the primary election and am entitled to vote at this primary election."

All persons subscribing the oath as aforesaid, and all persons actually serving as primary election judges at any primary election, whether sworn in or not, shall be deemed to be and are hereby declared to be officers of the county court of their respective counties; and such persons shall be liable to punishment by such court in a proceeding for contempt for any misbehavior as such primary election judge, to be tried in open court on oral testimony, in a summary manner, without pleadings; but such trial or punishment for contempt of court shall not be any bar to any criminal proceeding against such primary election judges for any violation of this act.

Section 12. In case there shall be no justice of the peace or notary public present at the opening of a primary election, or in case such justice of the peace or notary public shall be appointed one of the primary election judges, it shall be lawful for the primary election judges to administer the oath or affirmation to each other.

Section 13. The primary election judges except as otherwise provided in this act, shall perform the same duties, have the same powers, and be subject to the same penalties as judges and clerks of general elections, under the general election laws of this State.

Section 14. The primary election judges shall receive the same pay, and shall be paid by the same authorities and in the same manner as judges under general election laws of this State: Provided, all such election officers shall receive but one per diem each for their services as primary election officers.

Section 15. The judges of election shall permit each different ticket of delegates to be represented by a challenger, chosen by a majority of those named for delegates on any particular ticket. Said challengers shall be protected in the discharge of their duties by the judges of election and peace officers. Said challengers shall be permitted to remain within the polling place in such position as will enable them to see each person as he offers his vote and said challengers may remain within the polling place throughout the canvass of the vote and until the returns are signed. The challengers shall be permitted to remain so near that they can see the judges and clerks are faithfully performing their duties. All challengers shall be qualified primary electors in their respective districts and shall have the same powers as challengers at general elections.

Section 16. Section 21 of "An Act to provide for the printing and distribution of ballots at public expense and for the nomination of candidates for public offices, to regulate the manner of holding elections and to enforce the secrecy of the ballot, approved June 22, 1891, in force July 1, 1891, as amended by an act approved June 19, 1893, in force July 1, 1893," is hereby made applicable to primary elections held under the provisions of this act.

Section 17. Primary election ballot boxes shall be the same as those furnished and used for the general election purposes under the general election laws of this State.

Section 18. The county clerk of each county, or the clerk of any city, village or incorporated town shall furnish the primary election judges of each primary district all necessary supplies, including registry poll books and tally sheets.

Section 19. The registry poll books shall be substantially in the following form:

REGISTRY POLL BOOK

This is to certify that the above and foregoing is a correct list of primary voters at an primary election held on the.....day of.....A. D., in the.....Primary District, of County of....., State of Illinois. That at said primary election the undersigned judges served as required by law and are entitled to pay therefor.

.....

Judges of Primary Election.

Dated, 19....

.....

Said registry poll books shall otherwise be in form and shall contain the same certifications as nearly as may be as the poll books used in the regular elections, and shall be signed and attested in the same manner, as nearly as may be, as poll books used for the purposes of regular elections.

Section 20. Tally sheets for each political party participating in the primary election in each primary district shall be furnished by the county clerk or the city, village or incorporated town clerk as aforesaid and shall be substantially in the following form:

"Tally sheets for.....(name of political party) for the..... primary district, in the.....of....., county of....., State of Illinois, for a primary election held on the day of..... A. D. 19...."

The names of the candidates shall be placed on the tally sheets of each political party by the primary clerks in the order in which they appear on the primary ballot. Sufficient blank spaces shall be left in said tally sheets for all candidates whether for primary committeemen or any offices.

Section 21. Any member of a political party desiring or intending to become a candidate for the nomination for a county office before the county convention of his party or for the nomination for any office in any city, village or incorporated town primary election, shall, not less than twenty days before the primary election next preceding said county convention, or the time now fixed by law for holding any municipal primary election, file in the county clerk's office of his county, or the office of the clerk of the city, village or incorporated town, a statement of his intention substantially in the following form:

"I, of, in the County of, and State of Illinois, certify that I am a member of and affiliate with the party, and I hereby declare my intention of becoming a (describe the office) candidate for the nomination for.... before the next county convention of County, and I hereby request that my name be placed upon the official primary ballot of said party.

....."

Each candidate for each county office, or any city, village or incorporated town office, provided for in this act of the respective parties shall also file a petition in the office of the county clerk or of the clerk of the city, village or incorporated town, containing at least five per cent of the lawful voters of the party in the district or territory in which he desires to be a candidate, to be based upon the last preceding presidential election.

Section 22. Any candidate for the nomination for Governor shall have his name printed on the primary ballot of his political party, in each county by filing in the office of the Secretary of State not less than thirty days before the primary election a written request substantially as follows:

"I, of the county of, in the State of Illinois, certify that I am a member of and affiliate with the party; that I am a candidate for the nomination for Governor before the next State convention of the State of Illinois and I hereby request that my name be placed upon the primary ballot of the party in each county for that office.

Any candidate for the nomination for United States Senator shall have his name printed on the primary ballot of his political party in each county by filing in the office of the Secretary of State not less than thirty (30) days before the primary election a written request substantially in form as the foregoing request provided for by candidates for Governor. The vote upon such candidates for United States Senator shall be had for the sole purpose of ascertaining the sentiment of the voters in the respective parties.

Each candidate for Governor and for United States Senator shall further file with the Secretary of State a petition signed by not fewer than 5,000 legal voters, members of the party in which he is a candidate for nomination.

Not less than 25 days before the primary election the Secretary of State shall certify to the county clerk of each county the names of all candidates for nomination for Governor and United States Senator, together with their political affiliations, as specified in the written requests on file in his office. Each candidate for Governor and for United States Senator of the respective parties shall pay to the Secretary of State a filing fee of one hundred (100) dollars.

Section 23. Any candidate for the nomination of Representative in Congress, or member of the General Assembly, shall have his name printed on the primary ballot of his party, in each county in his congressional or senatorial district, by filing in the county clerk's office of the county where such candidate resides and filing copies thereof in the other counties in said district not less than twenty (20) days before the primary election a written request substantially in the following form:

"I,, of the County of, in the State of Illinois, certify that I am a member of and affiliate with the party; that I shall be a candidate for the nomination for (describe office) before the next convention of the District of Illinois, and I hereby request that my name be placed upon the official primary ballot of the party, in county.

The candidates mentioned in this section shall pay the following fees: Each congressional candidate, $100; each candidate for senator, $50; each candidate for member of House of Representatives, $25; and fees shall be equally divided among the respective counties of the district and each candidate for county office, except coroner, and surveyor, shall pay to the county clerk of his county a fee of $50.

Section 24. No candidate for the nomination for any office shall have his name printed on any primary ballot except in the manner provided for in this act.

Section 25. The method of voting at a primary election shall be by ballot; which ballot shall conform to the requirements hereinafter made. The county clerk or the clerk of any city, village or incorporated town shall furnish paper at cost to any person or persons who may desire to use the same for primary election ballots at his own expense.

Section 26. The primary election ballot of each political party shall be separately printed upon paper of uniform quality, texture and size, and in black ink, but no two party primary ballots shall be printed upon paper of the same color or tint. The county clerk or the clerk of any city, village or incorporated town shall publicly announce the color of the primary ballots of the respective parties at least fifteen (15) days before a primary election.

7. The primary election ballot of each political party for each election district shall be arranged and printed substantially in the following:

losing of the polls proclamation shall be made in like manner that lll be closed in half an hour.

9. Before voting begins the primary ballot box shall be empty, be opened and shown to those present to be empty, after which locked and the key delivered to one of the primary judges, and it removed from public view from the time it is shown to be empty the close of the polls.

0. No person shall vote at any primary election unless he be a citizen of the United States of the age of 21 years or over, or was an inhabitant of this State on the first day of April in the year of our Lord, 1848, or received a certificate of naturalization before any court of record prior to the day of the election.

first day of January in the year of our Lord, 1870, and unless next preceding such primary election he has resided in the State of Illinois not less than one year, in the county in which such primary election is held not less than ninety days, and in the primary district in which such primary election is held not less than thirty days and unless further he declares his party affiliation as required by this act.

Section 31. Any person desiring to vote shall state his name, residence and party affiliation to the primary judges, one of whom shall thereupon announce the same in a distinct tone of voice sufficiently loud to be heard by those present in polling place. If the person desiring to vote is not challenged, one of the primary judges may offer to him one ballot of each kind containing the names of candidates of the political party with which he declares himself affiliated. No person who refuses to state his party affiliation, or who shall have signed a nominating petition as now authorized below shall be allowed to vote at a primary election.

The judges shall receive from any person or persons, and permit to be freely and equally exposed in separate and orderly piles, within the polling place, near the ballot box, and within reach of the voters, a sufficient supply of each of the various ballots provided for in this act, and shall, upon request, furnish to each and every person qualified to vote one of each of the primary ballots of the party with which such person declares himself affiliated.

Section 32. Whenever a person offering to vote at a primary election is challenged, the person so challenged shall make and subscribe an affidavit in the following form, which shall be presented to and retained by the primary judges and returned by them with the registry poll books.

"State of Illinois, }
County of } ss.

I,, do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I am a citizen of the United States of the age of 21 years or over," or "that I was an elector on the first day of April, A. D. 1848," or "that I obtained a certificate of naturalization before a court of record in this State prior to the first day of January, A. D. 1870," as the case may be; "that I have resided in this State one year, in this county ninety days and in this primary district thirty days, next preceding this primary election; and have not signed any nominating petition; that I now reside at (insert street and number, if any) in this primary district; and have not voted at this primary election; that I am a member of and affiliate with the party.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this day of
A. D.

AFFIDAVIT OF WITNESS.

In addition to such affidavit, the person so challenged shall produce the affidavit of one householder of the primary district, who shall be a qualified voter at such primary election, and who shall be personally known or proved to the judges to be a householder in the primary district, which affidavit shall be in the following form:

"State of Illinois, }
County of } ss.

I,, do solemnly swear that I am a householder of this primary district and entitled to vote at this primary election; that I am acquainted with (name of party challenged), whose right to vote at this primary election has been challenged; that said (name of party challenged) is an actual bona fide resident of this primary district, and has re-thirty days, and as I verily believe, in this county ninety days, state one year next preceding this primary election; that I verily (name of party challenged) is a member of and affiliate of party.

and sworn to before me this day of

The voter shall forthwith and without leaving the polling place go to one of the voting booths and prepare his ballot, unless the same has been prepared prior to entering the booth, by making a cross "X" in the space provided for and opposite the name of each candidate of his choice for whom he wishes to be filled.

Before leaving the booth the voter shall fold his ballot in such a manner as to conceal the marks on such ballot. He shall then hand such ballot to one of the judges of election, who shall thereupon endorse on the back of the ballot, so folded, and deposit the same ballot in the ballot box.

The judges shall thereupon enter in the registry poll books the name of the voter, his residence and party affiliation.

Any primary voter who shall declare upon oath that he cannot read or write the English language, or by reason of any physical disability he is unable to mark his ballot, shall, upon request, be assisted in marking his ballot in the same manner as is provided by the general election laws of this State.

After the opening of the polls at a primary election, no adjournment shall be had nor recess be taken until all the votes cast at such election shall have been counted and canvassed.

The votes shall be canvassed in the room or place where the election is held and the primary judges shall not allow the ballot box, the ballots or the registry poll books or any of the tally sheets to be removed or carried away from such room or place until the canvass of the election is completed and the returns carefully enveloped and sealed up. The judges and challengers of each party shall have the right to be present during the canvass of the votes by the primary judges.

Immediately upon closing the polls, the primary judges shall immediately canvass the votes polled in following manner:

First, they shall count the whole number of ballots in the ballot box. If the number of ballots exceed the number of names entered on the registry poll books, they shall carefully examine the ballots and reject those upon which the initials of a primary judge do not appear.

Second, if the remaining ballots exceed the number of votes entered on the registry poll books, the judges of primary election shall proceed to ascertain the names entered on the registry poll books under each party affiliation.

Third, the judges shall thereupon arrange the ballots of each political party in piles, and count the ballots of each political party separately.

Fourth, if the number of ballots of any political party exceed the number of names of such political party entered on the registry poll books the ballots of such political party shall be folded and replaced in the ballot box and the box shall be well shaken and again opened, and one of the judges, who shall be designated by lot, shall draw out so many of the ballots of such political party as shall be equal to such excess.

Fifth, the primary judges shall then proceed to count the votes of each political party separately; and as the primary judges shall open and read the tally sheets the judge shall carefully and correctly mark down upon the tally sheets the votes which each candidate of the respective party whose name is printed or written on the ballot has received, in a separate column prepared for that purpose, with the name of such candidate, delegate, committeeman, etc., the name of his political party, and the name of the office to be filled at the head of such column.

Section 39. As soon as the ballots of a political party have been read and the votes of said political party counted, as provided herein, the clerks shall foot up the tally sheets so as to show the total number of votes cast for each candidate of said political party, including the candidates for primary committeemen and delegates to the county convention, and the total number of votes cast by said political party and certify the same to be correct, and shall also deliver the same to the county clerk.

Thereupon the judges shall set down in the registry poll books, under the name of said political party, the name of each candidate voted for, written at full length, the title of the office to be filled, the total number of votes which said candidate received, and the total number of votes cast by said political party at said primary election, and the judges shall certify the same to be true and correct; said entry in the registry poll books to be made substantially in the following form:

..... (Name) Party.

"At the primary election held in this primary district on the..... day of, A. D. 19...., the respective candidates whose names were written or printed on the primary ballot of said..... Party, received respectively the following votes:

Name of Candidate.	Title of Office.	Number of Votes.
John Smith	Governor	100
Samuel Jones	Governor	70
Frank Martin	County Clerk	150
William Preston	County Clerk	200
Thomas Johnson	Primary Committeeman	70
Frederick Johns	Primary Committeeman	60

And so for each delegate.

Total number of votes cast by said.....Party

We hereby certify the above and foregoing to be true and correct.

Dated.....

Primary Judges."

Section 40. After the votes of a political party shall have been counted and set down, the tally sheets footed, and the entry blank made in the registry poll books, as above provided, and the ballots of said political party shall be strung separately upon a strong thread, wire or twine in the order in which they have been read, and shall thereupon be carefully sealed up in an envelope, which envelope shall be endorsed as follows: "Primary Ballots of..... (name) Party of the..... Primary District, in the..... of, County of..... and State of Illinois," below which endorsement each one of the judges shall write his name.

The judges shall continue until all the votes of each and every county shall have been counted, set down, the sheets footed, the envelope made, and the ballots strung and sealed up, as herein provided.

The primary judges shall make out, upon forms to be furnished by the clerk, or by the clerk of any city, village or incorporated town, twenty-four hours after the canvass has been completed, deliver of election to the candidate for primary committeeman of each county receiving the highest number of votes of his respective party; which certificate shall show the total number of votes cast for each party in the primary district for each candidate for primary committeeman. In case of a tie of such vote, the judges shall cast lots to determine which shall be committeeman. The county clerk of each county or the clerk of any city, village or incorporated town shall cause to be delivered to all primary committeemen of the respective parties, so elected, a copy of the county committee or the secretary of the city, village or incorporated town committee of the respective parties not later than 9 o'clock of the Wednesday next following a primary election.

The term of office of each precinct or district committeeman shall be for the two years next succeeding the date of his election. The committeeman of each party elected within each county or within each city or incorporated town shall constitute the county, city, village or incorporated town committee of such party, who shall within ten days after election select a chairman and such other officers of the committee as they may determine.

The number of committee members for each county on a congressional or senatorial committee shall be determined and selected by the delegates to the next congressional or senatorial conventions, respectively.

The congressional and senatorial committeemen, shall within ten (10) days after the first congressional and senatorial conventions held in their respective counties after their election, select a chairman of their respective county and such other officers as they may determine. The county clerk and its officers of any county constituting a senatorial district, shall constitute the official committee of such senatorial district.

A vacancy occurring in either committee shall be filled by the respective party provided any such vacancy shall be filled by a resident of the precinct or territory in which such vacancy occurs.

Within twenty-four hours after the canvass has been completed, the primary judges shall issue credentials, forms for that purpose to be used by the county clerk, to each one of the requisite number of delegates of each party for delegates to the county convention receiving the highest number of votes of their respective party. That is to say, where a county in a primary district is entitled to one delegate, credentials shall be issued to the candidate of said party for the delegate receiving the highest number of said party's votes. Where a political party is entitled to two, three, or to six delegates, to the county convention, credentials shall be issued to the three candidates, or to six candidates (as the case may be), each receiving the highest number of said party's votes. And the number corresponding with the number of delegates to the county convention to which each political party of the primary district is entitled. In case of a tie, the judges shall cast lots to determine to what delegates credentials shall be issued.

The primary judges shall state the total number of votes received by each candidate of each respective party in the primary district, and also the name of the candidate of the respective party for each county office receiving the highest number of votes of his party in the primary district.

The credentials shall entitle the delegate named therein to a seat in the county convention of the respective party.

. As soon as the returns are all in, the county, or city, village or town clerk, with the assistance of two justices of the peace, of itical parties (if possible) shall, without delay, open all the certify tabulated statements thereof separately for each political tabulated statement of the returns of each political party shall propriate columns and under proper headings the total number of v the respective party in each primary district in the county, or other municipality, and the total number of votes cast for each candidate of the respective party in each primary district in the county, or other municipality. The county clerk, or other clerk, shall deliver a copy of the tabulated statement of the returns of each political party to the secretary of the county, or city, village or incorporated town committee of the respective political parties, not later than 12 o'clock M. of the Wednesday following the primary election.

And it is hereby made the duty of the secretary of the county central, or other managing committee of each political party to deliver the same to the next ensuing city, village or incorporated town or county, senatorial or congressional conventions of his party in his respective district, or municipality.

The county clerk of each county shall cause to be delivered to the Secretary of State within eight days next following such county convention, the total vote cast for each candidate of the respective party, for Governor and United States Senator in the respective county. The Secretary of State shall cause to be delivered to the Secretary of State convention of the respective parties next following such primary election, upon the assembling of such State convention for the respective parties, the total vote by the counties, for each candidate for Governor of the respective parties. It shall be the duty of the secretaries respectively of the county, senatorial, congressional and State conventions, to read to the convention before any candidate is put in nomination, the total vote, by counties, received by each candidate of the respective party voted for upon the primary ballot provided for in this act.

Section 50. Any candidate whose name appears upon the primary ballot of any political party in any primary district, may contest the primary election held in any municipality or in any or all primary districts in any county as to the office for which he was a candidate for nomination, by filing with the clerk of the county court of the respective county a petition in writing setting forth the grounds of contest, which petition shall be verified by affidavit of the petitioner.

Jurisdiction is hereby vested in the county courts in term time, and in the judges thereof in vacation, to hear and determine primary election contests.

When a petition to contest a primary election shall be filed in the office of the clerk of the county court, said petition shall forthwith be presented to the judge thereof, who shall note thereon the day of presentation and shall also note thereon the day when he will hear the same, which shall be before the next following county convention after such primary election, and in case of a city, village or incorporated town primary election, it shall be determined in sufficient time to enable the successful candidate or candidates to have their names printed upon the ballots for the election ensuing after such primary, and shall order issuance of summons to each defendant named in his petition.

Summons shall forthwith issue to each defendant named in the petition and shall be served in the same manner as is provided in cases of chancery.

The case may be heard and determined by the county court in term time, or by the judge thereof in vacation at any time, not less than two days after service of process and shall have preference in the order of hearing to all other cases.

The petitioner shall give a bond with security to be approved by the clerk of the court conditioned for the payment of all costs.

If, in the opinion of the court in which the petition is filed, the grounds for contest alleged are insufficient in law, the petition shall be dismissed. If the grounds alleged in the petition are sufficient the court shall proceed in a summary manner and may hear evidence, examine the returns, recount the ballots and make such orders and enter such judgments, as justice may require, and judgment of said court shall be final.

Section 51. No State convention shall hereafter be held in any year before the first day of May, and not later than the 15th of May. All senatorial conventions shall hereafter be held on the Wednesday next following the day county conventions are held, except where a county is a senatorial convention, in which case the senatorial convention shall be held on the same day as the county convention, and the delegates to the county convention shall nominate the candidates; and all congressional conventions shall be held on the following Wednesday after the day set for the holding of the county conventions as above provided.

2. No candidate for the nomination for any office, who has not been elected to any office, shall be nominated by any convention, unless he has received a four-fifths vote of all its members, or a majority of all its members, in case of a vacancy, by death or otherwise, any convention may, by a four-fifths vote of all its members, select any qualified person as candidate for any office: Provided, that in case of a vacancy upon the ticket, or otherwise, after the convention has adjourned, said vacancy shall be filled by the county central, senatorial, congressional or State committee, if any; and it is hereby made the duty of the proper officer upon the receipt of the resignation or knowledge of the death of any candidate, to notify in writing the appropriate chairman.

3. If any one or more delegates to a county convention from any primary district be absent, the delegates from said primary district present in said convention shall cast the full vote of the delegation from said district. If all the delegates to the county convention from any primary district are absent, such primary district shall have no vote in said convention.

4. Any delegate in any county convention shall have the right to challenge the vote of the delegation of any primary district on the ground that the vote of said delegation, as announced, is not in accordance with the vote and instructions of said primary district at any election, as evidenced by the certificate of returns from said district. And whenever the vote of a delegation as aforesaid is challenged, the chairman of the convention shall examine the certificate of returns to ascertain whether or not the grounds for challenge are well founded. The secretary of the convention shall record the vote of said delegation and the result of the challenge in accordance with the vote and instructions of the primary district at any election.

5. The delegates of each party for each county, to all State, congressional and senatorial conventions, shall be chosen and selected by the action of the respective party of said county, and not otherwise. No delegate, other than a candidate for a county office, who shall receive a majority of the number of votes cast in the county in said primary shall be entitled to receive and shall have cast for him the vote of all the delegates from that county in the nominating convention.

6. Section 61. When a vacancy shall occur in any elective office and a special election shall become necessary to fill the same, the managing committee of the several political parties for the territorial area in which such vacancy occurs, shall nominate the candidate or candidates for the respective parties.

Section 62. Any State convention, the congressional or senatorial conventions of any congressional or senatorial district and any county convention of any party, shall have power to direct the respective official committee to fill any vacancy or vacancies which may occur on the ticket nominated by each respective convention.

Section 63. No delegate to any convention held under the provisions of this act shall have any power or authority to name or appoint any proxy or substitute to vote for or in his stead, and no proxy or substitute appointed by any delegate shall be binding or effective on any convention or conventions held under the provisions of this act.

Section 64. It is hereby made the duty of the grand jury of each county, at each and every term, to inquire into all violations of this act.

Section 65. Provided, that in all counties of this State, having a population of one hundred and twenty-five thousand or over, the following sections only shall apply, except as hereinafter provided.

Section 66. That in every county, city, village or incorporated town respectively in this State to which this act shall apply as hereinafter provided, the primary elections for delegates to constitute the various conventions of political parties or organizations of such county, city, village or town, or any part thereof, held for the nomination of candidates for public office in this State, and any part thereof, and for the Congress of the United States, whose names are to be printed on the official election ticket and distributed at public expense in such county, city, village or town, or any part thereof, shall hereafter be held under and subject to this act. A convention to nominate candidates for public office for by the electors of the entire State shall be known as a "State convention;" a convention to nominate candidates for public office to be voted for by the electors of an entire county shall be known as a "county convention;" a convention to nominate candidates for public office to be voted for by the electors of an entire city, village or incorporated town shall be known as a "city, village or town convention," respectively; a convention to nominate candidates for public office to be voted for by the electors of an entire township shall be known as a "township convention;" a convention to nominate candidates for public office to be voted for by the electors of an entire ward shall be known as a "ward convention;" all other nominating conventions in this State shall be known as "district conventions."

A nominating convention shall be held within the boundaries of the county or district for which its nominations are to be made and at the time stated in the call. A majority of the delegates entitled to a seat at the convention shall be necessary to constitute a quorum. The chairman of the county central or managing committee shall call the county convention and shall preside until the temporary officers are chosen. The chairman of the city central committee shall designate a committeeman who shall preside at all district conventions within his district to order, which said committeeman shall be a resident of the district over which said convention is called. The chairman of the township committee shall preside until the temporary officers are chosen. All convention officers shall be delegates and shall be elected upon a roll-call, such roll-call to be by wards and districts, and by the chairman of such ward or district delegation. In case of a tie in the vote of any ward or district is challenged or disputed when then the roll of delegates of such ward or district shall be called, and the delegates receiving the votes of a majority of the delegates shall be elected the officers of the convention. No adjournment or recess of the convention shall be taken before completing the nominations it was called to make, except upon a ye and nay vote taken upon a roll-call as

7. Any political party or organization which at the last preceding election for President in this State polled at least twenty per cent of the votes cast in the particular county, city, village or incorporated town, or any part thereof, respectively, for which the application is being made, shall be entitled under this act to hold a primary election on the last day of February immediately preceding any regular spring or summer election, which primary election shall affect only the nominations for the offices to be filled at the particular spring or summer elections next and the primary following such primary election day; and such political party or organization, qualified as stated in this section, shall be entitled also to hold a primary election on the last Saturday of April, immediately preceding any regular summer or autumn elections; which last mentioned primary election shall affect only the nominations for the offices to be filled at the particular summer or autumn elections next and immediately following such primary election day: Provided, that such primary election day and the day of nomination shall be subject to the provisions of section 7 of the act entitled, "An Act to provide for printing and distribution of ballots at public expense, and for the nomination of candidates for public office, to regulate the manner of holding elections, and to enforce the secrecy of the ballot," force July 1, 1891; all political parties shall hold their primary elections on the same day.

Section 68. The political party or organization entitled under this act to hold a primary election at least twenty days before such primary election day shall file with the board of election commissioners within whose jurisdiction they are; and in such portions of the county as lie beyond the jurisdiction of said board of election commissioners, with the county clerk, and also with the county clerk where there is no board of election commissioners, a call or application in writing, which shall set forth:

First—The name of such political party and the address of the headquarters of the central committee or managing committee of such political party.

Second—The name, place and time of every convention for the nomination of candidates for public office for which such primary election is called.

Third—The description of each of the various primary election districts, together with the names of the three persons for judges of election and two persons for clerks of election for each such primary district, also the designation of a polling place for each such primary district.

Fourth. The number of delegates from each such primary district to each convention: Provided, that the number of delegates from each of the different primary districts be proportioned equally to the number of voters of such political party in each district as shown by the last preceding presidential election returns: And, provided, that each primary election district shall be allowed to be represented by at least one delegate to each convention in which such primary district is entitled to be represented.

Provided, that all the organizations or subdivisions of any one general political party representing any municipality, district or ward, shall hold their primary elections, such as may then be in order, for the respective county, city, village or incorporated town, or other political divisions therein, together and on one and the same day; and each municipal, district or ward organization of the party that neglects to join shall forfeit the right to hold primaries for its political nominations then due. In due time before filing said call or application, the central or managing committee representing the largest political territory for which primaries are next in order may notify, in writing, the chairman or secretary of each territorial organization of such general party to return, in writing, within a specified time, properly authenticated by such territorial organization of the party the request of such subdivision of the party for its respective primaries, and also the name, place and time of the lawful nominating conventions they wish to hold, and containing other lawful suggestions; and upon receiving such request in writing, such central or managing committee shall include in said call or application the name, place and time of the proper conventions of such subdivision of the party, and all such other proper matters and things as will make its primaries effective, fair and equal, and shall make only such small changes in the time of the suggested primary election day or the convention days as may be required by this act in order to have all the primaries of each political party held on the same day; but such central or managing committee, even if no such request in writing is returned, may include the primaries and conventions of all such lesser territorial subdivisions of the party. If such central or managing committee, after receiving such request in writing, files said call or application without including therein the primaries and conventions of the subdivision of the party making a request in writing, as aforesaid, such subdivision of the party shall be entitled to hold its primaries together with the general party, upon filing with the proper public officer, clerk or board, at least 12 days before the primary election day, an application in writing, which shall set forth the fact of such omission, the name of the headquarters of the subdivision of such party, the name, place and time of the lawful conventions desired to be held by such subdivision of the party, and containing also such other suggestions and statements as will make it possible for the proper authorities to include the primaries of such subdivision of the party in the general primaries of the general party. In default of such central or man-nittee in filing any call or application at least 21 days before nominations for the regular election day are due, then each subdivision of the county whose lawful primaries are then in order may, not less than 14 days before the day such certificates are due, file its own call or application with the lawful officer, board of election commissioners, or the county clerk. The call or application may be, with whom the calls are lawfully filed, shall, in an memorandum, substantially in the form of a call or application, fix the same day for all such primaries, and shall determine and fix upon the things necessary to have such applicants have an effective, fair and equal primary election with as little public expense as possible.

9. Such call or application shall be signed by the chairman and secretary of the central committee or managing committee of the political party or organization, verified by oath that the facts therein are true and that they are, respectively, the chairman and secretary of the committee. No persons and no political party or organization shall be named in the call or application as representing another political party or organization (or any designation of another political party or organization) in such manner as to induce voters. Upon the filing of such call or application, according to the provisions of this act, any political party or organization which, at the time of the next general election for presidential electors in this State, polled twenty per cent of the entire vote cast in the whole county, city, town or incorporated town, represented by such political party or organization, shall be allowed to hold a primary election under this act.

10. At least ten days before the primary election day, designated in the act, it shall be the duty of the board of election commissioners, or clerk, or both, as the case may be, upon the application or call of any political party entitled thereto as aforesaid, through its central committee or managing committee, as aforesaid, to give notice of such primary election. Such notice shall contain the name of the political party or organization for which such primary election is to be held, the date and time of each convention according to the application aforesaid, to be held by such party for the nomination of persons for public office, the date upon which such primary election is to be held, the description of each of the various primary election districts, the location of the polling place for each such district, and the names of delegates to be elected from each primary district to each convention. Such notice shall be posted in five public places in each primary election district, and no failure or error in noticing or in the application aforesaid, or the date any primary election actually held, and any primary election not in accordance with any notice substantially like the above notice shall be deemed valid under this act, and all justices of the peace and all judges of courts in the territory for which such primary election is called shall take jurisdiction of the holding of such primary election under this act.

11. For purposes of primary elections under this act, and in the unincorporated and unsettled country, a regular election precinct may constitute a primary election district; but in populous sections, in order to save expense, not more than seven, but no more, entire contiguous election precincts of the same or other political division, in as compact a form as practicable, may be included so as to form one primary election district, but in such manner as to constitute a primary election district, consisting of two or more regular election precincts shall include at least three regular election judges, and two regular clerks residing within such primary district and belonging to the political party holding such primary district. In no event shall any primary election district contain more than eight hundred voters, to be ascertained by the results of the last preceding primary election. Primary districts, when lawfully established, shall be established for each party's successive primaries for the period of one year, except as changes may be necessitated by law.

Provided, That where a regular election precinct consists of, and is co-extensive with, a congressional township, then said congressional township shall constitute one primary election district within the meaning of this act.

And, provided, further, That in such case, and in any case where there exists no board of election commissioners, and where the judges and clerks of election are appointed and chosen by a board of supervisors or board of county commissioners, then the judges and clerks who are to serve as judges and clerks of any primary election shall be members of the political party holding such primary election; and if there are no judges and clerks of election in and for such congressional township who belong to, and are members of, the political party seeking to hold a primary election under the provisions and within the meaning of this act, then the county central or governing committee of such political party shall have and is hereby granted, the power and right to name, appoint, notify, direct and qualify such members of its own party as are otherwise eligible under the provisions of this act to serve as judges and clerks of such or any primary election held under and within the meaning of this act. In each such primary election district there shall be a primary polling place, which shall be as near the center of population of such district as is practicable, and such primary polling place shall be in the most public, orderly and convenient part of such primary district, and within a room permitting easy ingress and egress to voters, and no building shall be designated or used as such polling place in which spirituous or intoxicating liquor is sold, or which is within one hundred feet of any place where such liquor is sold. The central committee or managing committee of any political party or organization entitled to hold such primary elections under this act shall establish such primary election districts and designate such polling places according to this act not less than twenty days before such primary election day. In default of such central committee or managing committee designating such primary election districts and polling places, the same shall be done by the member or members of the board of election commissioners representing said party; or, if no such board exists in any part of the county, then by the judge of the county court, and where there is a board of election commissioners which does not have jurisdiction over the entire county then the county court shall do the same over such territory in his county where said board of election commissioners does not have jurisdiction.

Section 72. Not less than ten days before such primary election day, the certain person, officer, officers or board, or board of election commissioners, as the case may be, by the general election law authorized to appoint judges and clerks for general elections, is and are hereby empowered to appoint, and shall, for each primary election district, appoint and swear in from the list of duly appointed and regular election judges and clerks, and otherwise as herein provided, three judges and two clerks, who are members of such political party, to serve respectively as judges and clerks at such primary election: Provided, however, that such political party or organization, through its central or managing committee, shall have the right, not less than 20 days before such primary election day, to designate and name for appointment for service at such primary elections such certain of the regularly listed judges and clerks as were originally recommended and named or endorsed for appointment as regularly elected judges and clerks by such political party; and in case there are not a sufficient number of listed regular judges and clerks so originally recommended and named or endorsed by such political party to equip all primary polling places of such party, then such political party or organization may, not less than 20 days before such primary election day, through its central or managing committee, recommend to such appointing power a sufficient number of qualified persons for appointment to serve as primary election judges and clerks to equip all the primary polling places of such party; and such person, officer or board having such appointing power, to whom or to which such names are designated by such political resaid, shall, not less than ten days before said primary election from the names so recommended, and shall notify, appoint and have persons if qualified to act as judges and clerks at such primary election. Such persons so appointed shall serve as judges and clerks, at such primary election. Except when only one or two regular precincts form a primary election district, no two judges and no two shall serve at the same primary polling place who reside in the same election precinct. In default of such designation or recommendation of such judges and clerks by such political party, and in any case among primary judges and clerks, then such person, officer or person having the appointing power as aforesaid shall appoint and swear in the persons so duly appointed and regular election judges and clerks who are of such party a sufficient number of judges and clerks to equip the primary polling places of such party. Such judges and clerks appearing this act shall take an oath of office substantially as follows, and subscribe their names to the same:

..... residing at in the city (village or town) of in the State of Illinois, I swear (or affirm) that I am a legal voter and a member of the party and a householder in the ward (village or town) of in the State of Illinois, and that I will support the laws and Constitution of the United States, and that I will faithfully and honestly discharge the duties of primary election judge (or clerk) for the election district of the ward, of the city (village or town) of in the county of in the State of Illinois, according to the best of my ability.
 I day of, A. D.

Before such primary election day such appointing person, officer or board shall notify every person designated as aforesaid and in default of appointment as judge or clerk of the fact of his selection; and if he is not so notified, he shall be excused for cause, and he shall be bound to appear as judge or clerk for the ensuing primary election. Such person, officer or board appointing judges and clerks as aforesaid shall keep a record of all such persons so notified to appear, and whether such persons appeared or were rejected for want of qualification or excused for cause; in such record shall be noted. In case any person so notified shall not appear for such primary election, or if he do appear and fail to serve, or if he shall be sworn to serve and fail to serve on the day so notified, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor under this act, unless he shall be shown to excuse his default for such service. In case the person so notified does not appear upon notification, then other persons shall be notified as aforesaid until eligible persons are found who shall be appointed as judges and clerks at any primary election, whether sworn or not. All persons subscribing to the oath as aforesaid, and all persons acting as judges and clerks at any primary election, whether sworn or not, shall be deemed to be, and are hereby declared to be, officers of the courts of the respective county; and such persons shall be liable to be tried by such court in a proceeding for contempt for any misbehavior as judge or clerk, to be tried in open court on oral testimony, in a summary proceeding, without written pleadings; but such trial or punishment for contempt shall not be any bar to any criminal proceedings against such judges or clerks for any violation of this act.

1. All the laws of this State respecting the general elections in force now or hereafter in force in any election precinct or district in this State, city, village or incorporated town, except as the same are modified by the provisions of this act, and so far as the same are applicable to the primary elections provided for in this act, are hereby declared to be applicable to the primary elections in this act.

Polling places in the respective primary election districts shall be appointed, provided, established, furnished, warmed, lighted, maintained, conducted and supervised;

And all necessary ballot boxes, registry books, return sheets, blanks, poll books, stationery and supplies shall be provided, furnished, delivered and used;

And notices of such primary election shall be posted;

And all judges and clerks shall be paid, appointed upon the recommendation of the central committee or managing committee, as aforesaid, qualified, notified, directed, instructed, sworn and vacancies in their number supplied;

And such primary election in each election district shall be conducted, supervised, regulated and controlled;

And after being used at any primary election, all registry books, poll books, ballots, statements, returns, ballot boxes, ballot box keys, and other election paraphernalia shall be preserved, kept, stored, accounted for and returned;

And the polling places and the polls of such primary election shall be opened and closed respectively;

In the same manner and by the same persons or officers or board or judges and clerks, as is provided by the law in force in any election precinct or district in such county, city, village or incorporated town, respecting the general elections, except as such general election laws are modified by this act. The certain person, officer, board, board of election commissioners, or any or all of them, by the general election law authorized to furnish or have the custody of general election ballot boxes, general registry books of voters, and other election paraphernalia, shall, in due time before primary election day, notify one or more of the judges of each election district to appear before such person, officer or board in due time before primary day; and such judges shall appear within such time and such person, officer or board shall deliver to such judge or judges for each primary election district one regular election registry book of voters for each regular election precinct included in the primary election district, also sufficient poll books, tally sheets, blank affidavits, oaths, statements of votes, delegates' certificates of election; also all other blanks, papers and supplies necessary to carry out the provisions of this act.

Section 74. The expense of conducting such primary elections shall be paid by the county, or by the city, or by the village or incorporated town, respectively, to which this act shall apply, as hereinafter provided, including the salaries of judges and clerks, the cost of ballot boxes, registry books, poll books, return sheets, stationery, supplies, polling places and such other expenses as are necessary and incidental to carrying out the provisions of this act. The board of election commissioners, where such board has jurisdiction, otherwise the county clerk, shall audit all the claims of such judges and clerks of such primary election. Provided, that in cities, villages and incorporated towns where there is a board of election commissioners all expense incurred by such board of election commissioners shall be paid by such city. Such expenses are to be audited by the county judge and shall be paid by the city treasurer upon the warrants of such county judge out of any money in the city treasury not otherwise appropriated. It shall be the duty of the governing authority of such city to make provision for the prompt payment of such expenses. At all primary elections for city officers though other than city officers may be nominated at the same time, and at all primary elections in a part of such city, such city shall pay such judges and clerks for their services under this act. At all general county and State primary elections, though other than State and county officers are to be nominated, and at all primary elections where other than judicial officers are to be nominated, such county shall pay such judges and clerks for their services under this act. Said board of election commissioners shall audit all the claims of judges and clerks and shall draw a warrant therefor upon such city or county treasury, as the case may be.

5. The judges and clerks of such primary election shall be allowed five dollars each per day for their services in attending such prison.

6. In order to be qualified to vote at a primary election, the person voting shall be a member of the particular party and legally qualified to vote at the next ensuing regular election. He shall be registered in the regular election registry books within the primary district and reside in the district in which he offers to vote: Provided, no person shall be eligible as a member of a particular party if he has signed any petition for nomination of any person with reference to the nomination for the next regular elections, or if he has voted at the primary election of another primary election in the period of two years next preceding: Provided, that in all cases where there is no board of election commissioners having jurisdiction over the primary elections, every legal voter entitled to vote at regular elections shall be entitled to vote at such primary election under the same conditions and restrictions applicable to the regular elections.

7. None but legally qualified voters residing in the primary district shall be eligible as delegates to any convention of such parties and clerks acting as such at any primary election shall be ineligible to any such convention. No person shall act as a delegate to any such convention except when elected a delegate, according to this act: That in the absence of a delegate, then the delegates present representing the district shall select some one to represent such absent delegate.

8. If no delegates from a given district are present, then the board of the ward, division, or township, shall select any qualified members of the party as delegates to fill such vacancy or vacancies.

9. Any candidate for the nomination for Governor shall have his name placed on the primary ballot of his political party, in each county, by the office of the Secretary of State not less than thirty days before the primary election a written request substantially as follows:

..... of the county of, in the State of Illinois, that I am a member of and affiliate with the party; I am a candidate for the nomination for Governor before the next primary election of Illinois, and I hereby request that my name be placed on the official primary ballot of the party in each county for that office." Any candidate for the nomination for United States Senator shall have his name placed on the primary ballot of his political party in each county by the office of the Secretary of State not less than 30 days before the primary election, a written request substantially in form as the foregoing required for candidates for Governor. The vote upon such candidates for United States Senator shall be had for the sole purpose of ascertaining the preference of the voters in the respective parties.

Any candidate for Governor and for United States Senator shall further file with the Secretary of State a petition signed by no less than five thousand members of the party in which he is a candidate for nomination. At least twenty-five days before the primary election, the Secretary of State shall certify to the county clerk of each county the names of all persons nominated for nomination for Governor and United States Senator, together with their political affiliations, as specified in the written request on file in his office. Any candidate for Governor and for United States Senator of the respective parties shall pay to the Secretary of State a filing fee of one hundred dollars.

The board or board having charge of elections shall cause to be delivered to the Secretary of State within ten days following such primary election, the list of names for each candidate of the respective parties for United States Senator and for Governor within their jurisdiction. The Secretary of State shall cause to be delivered to the chairman of the State convention of the respective parties next following such primary election, upon the assembling of such State convention of the respective parties, the total vote by counties for each candidate for United States Senator and for Governor of the respective parties. It shall be the duty of the secretaries respectively of the State conventions to read to the convention before any candidate is put in nomination the total vote by counties received by each candidate of the respective parties voted for upon the primary ballots provided for in this act.

Section 79. Any candidate for the nomination of Representative in Congress, member of the General Assembly, mayor or alderman, shall have his name printed upon the primary ballot of his party in the district within which he is a candidate, by filing in the county clerk's office of the county where such candidate resides, and filing copies thereof in other counties where the territory in which he is a candidate extends to such counties, not less than 25 days before the primary election, a written request substantially in the following form:

"I, of the county of in the State of Illinois, certify that I am a member of and affiliate with the party; that I shall be a candidate for the nomination for (describe office), before the next convention in the district of Illinois, and I hereby request that my name be placed on the official primary ballot of the party for said primary election.

The candidates named in this section shall pay the following fees: Each congressional candidate $100, each candidate for Senator $50, each candidate for member of the House of Representatives $25, each candidate for mayor $75, each candidate for alderman $25. Such fees shall be proportionately divided among the respective counties of the district.

Each candidate shall further file in the office of the Secretary of State a petition signed by at least five per cent of the voters of his party in the district as shown by the last preceding election for president.

The officer or board having charge of elections shall cause to be delivered to the chairman of the respective conventions the result of the vote for said candidates last above mentioned. It shall be the duty of the secretaries of said respective conventions to read to their conventions, before any candidate is put in nomination the total vote by districts received by each candidate of the respective party voted for upon the primary ballot provided for in this act.

Section 80. No candidate for the nomination for any office, who has not complied with the provisions of this act shall be nominated by any convention: Provided, that any convention may by a three-fourths vote of all its members nominate a person whose name did not appear upon the primary ballot; and in case of a vacancy by death or otherwise, any convention may, by a majority vote of all its members, select any qualified person as candidate to fill all such vacancies: Provided, that in case of a vacancy upon the ticket, by death, declination or otherwise, after the convention has adjourned, said vacancy shall be filled by the State central committee in case of State nominations, and by the county central committee in case of all other nominations, unless the respective conventions shall otherwise provide for the filling of such vacancies.

Section 81. Section 21 of an "Act to provide for the printing and distribution of ballots at public expense, and for the nomination of candidates for public offices, to regulate the manner of holding elections and to enforce the secrecy of the ballot," approved June 22, 1891, in force July 1, 1891, as amended by an act approved June 19, 1893, in force July 1, 1893, is hereby made applicable to primary elections held under the provisions of this act.

Section 82. The voter shall forthwith and without leaving the polling place retire alone to one of the voting booths and prepare his ballot unless been prepared prior to entering the booth by making a cross square in front of and opposite the name of each candidate of his h office to be filled.

The candidate of any party for the nomination for Governor, appears on the primary ballot of his party in any county, who received the highest number of votes for any candidate for such his party in any primary district in such county, as shown by the returns, shall be entitled to receive and shall have cast for him one vote from each of all the delegates from said primary district in the nomination, and such fact shall be stated in the credentials issued to the State convention of said party from said district.

The candidate of any party for the nomination of any congressional, aldermanic, or mayoralty office whose name appears on the list of his party in any district who shall have received the highest votes cast for any candidate for such office by his party in said district, as shown by the certificate of returns, shall be entitled to receive and have cast for him the votes of all the delegates from said district in the nominating convention, and such fact shall be stated in the minutes issued to the delegates to the respective conventions of each said district.

At such primary elections the manner of voting shall be by ballots shall be of uniform size, which size shall be designated by days before the primary election by the officer or board having the election, under the general election law, and said officer or board, in charge of the election, under the general election law, and said officer or board shall, within said time, also designate the color of paper for the ballots for each party for said primary election, a different color to be used for each party, and shall furnish to persons desiring to prepare ballots upon which said ballots shall be printed, and said paper shall be sold at the price which it costs said officer or board. The ballots may be printed, or partly printed or partly written, upon said paper, and designated. No primary ballots shall be furnished for public expense. The primary election ballots shall be arranged substantially in the manner following, to-wit: At the top of each ballot shall be printed, in large capital letters, words designating the ballot. On each ballot, the designating words shall be, "Republican Primary", "Democratic Primary", "Prohibition Primary", "Socialist Primary", "Greenback Primary", "Union Labor Primary", "Independent Primary", and in like manner for each political party. Beginning not more than one inch below the designating words, the name of each office to be filled shall be printed in capital letters, in the following order, to-wit: Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Senators, Representatives in Congress, Senatorial officers, Judges, Justices, Clerks, and other officers. Below the name of each office shall be printed, in smaller type, the names of all candidates (alphabetically arranged according to the order of the names of the candidates) for each office, to be placed on separate primary ballots. The names of all candidates upon the same ballot shall be printed in type of uniform size and style and the names shall be printed in a vertical column. Immediately in front of and above the name of each candidate shall be printed a square, and all squares for candidates on the same ballot shall be of uniform size. Spaces between the names of candidates for each office shall be uniform, and sufficient spaces shall be left between the names of candidates for one office from the names of candidates for another office.

for another office to avoid confusion. The name of each delegate for whom the voter intends to vote shall appear on one ballot, on one and the same side thereof, in plain letters, together with the name of the convention to which such delegates are to be elected. Immediately preceding the list of delegates to any convention shall appear the name of the candidate or candidates for direct nomination, as hereinbefore provided, or for whom such delegates are expected to vote in such convention. Unless ballots substantially comply with this act in size, color and other provisions herein provided for, the same shall be void for all purposes and shall not be received or deposited or counted by any person or judge at any such primary election. The proper officer or board shall, not less than 20 days prior to a primary election provide and issue a form of primary ballot as a guide for use in printing primary ballots, which form shall be followed in the preparation of all primary ballots, and all ballots not in accordance with the provisions of this act, but which by any mistake may have been deposited in the ballot box, shall be void, and shall be marked "defective" on the back thereof; but no ballot shall be defective because the voter depositing the same has named upon it a less number of delegates than such voter was entitled to vote for. If the voter votes for more persons than there are delegates to be elected to a certain convention, or if for any reason it is impossible for the judges to determine the voter's choice, such ballot, or part thereof, shall not be counted. Ballots not counted shall be marked "defective" on the back thereof, and ballots to which objection has been made by either of the judges or challengers shall be marked "objected to" on the back thereof, and a memorandum, signed by the judges, stating how it was counted, shall be written upon the back of each ballot so marked, and all ballots marked "defective" or "objected to" shall be enclosed in an envelope, securely sealed and so marked and endorsed as to clearly indicate its contents. The judges shall receive from any person and permit to be freely and equally exposed in separate and orderly piles, within the polling place, near the ballot-box and within reach of voters, a sufficient supply of each of the various primary tickets or ballots; and the judges shall hand one of each of the various tickets to each and every person qualified to vote; and whenever the supply of any of the various tickets becomes insufficient, the judges shall immediately mention the fact of such insufficiency to one or more of the candidates or persons interested in said ticket. Any judge or clerk, or any other person, who shall in any manner conceal or remove or destroy any such supply of tickets, or who shall hinder or prevent or interfere with the free and equal reception, exposure, distribution, use or supply of such various primary tickets or ballots, or who shall do any electioneering within 100 feet of the polling place shall, upon conviction thereof, be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor.

Section 86. The polls of such primary election shall be opened at 12:00 o'clock noon, and continue open until 7:00 o'clock in the afternoon of the same day, at which time the polls shall be closed; if any judge or clerk without lawful excuse, shall be behind time for fifteen (15) minutes after the time for opening such polls, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor under this act and punished accordingly. No judge or clerk shall absent himself to exceed five (5) minutes at any time until the ballots are all cast and counted and returns made; and, when absent for any cause during such time, said judge or clerk shall authorize some one of the same political party with himself to act for him until his return. If any judge or clerk shall not be present after the expiration of fifteen (15) minutes from the time to open the polls, the judge or judges present shall fill the place of such absent judge or clerk, and one of the judges shall administer to such substitute the oath, as required of the judges or clerks when originally appointed, and blank forms shall be provided for such purpose, which oath shall be preserved and returned by the proper officer or the board, and such appointee shall be subject to punishment and penalties as any other judge or clerk. Whenever a judge or clerk shall be present, such substitute shall cease to act. If clerks fail to appear at the proper time at the polling place, or many judges and clerks have been appointed as provided in this act, and voters of such primary district, to the number of five of such political party may elect legal voters of such party to act as clerks. Such judges and clerks, elected as last aforesaid, shall have power to conduct such primary election in accordance with this act. Any judge or clerk who shall wilfully absent himself from the primary election day without good cause shall be guilty of a misdemeanor under this act, and if any judge or clerk shall wilfully detain a poll book or poll book, or other election paraphernalia, and not cause it to be taken at the polling place at the opening of the polls, or for fifteen days thereafter, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor under this act.

If for good cause a primary election can not be held at the polling place, the judge or clerk appointed as aforesaid, the judges of such polling place shall meet at the time set for opening the polls of such primary election, adjourn to the most convenient polling place, near by, which is otherwise provided for in this act; and such judges shall publicly proclaim such change and post a notice of such change on the polling place originally ap-

Before voting begins the ballot box shall be empty; and it shall be shown to those present to be empty; and it shall not be kept from the public view from the time when it is shown to be empty to the close of the polls. It shall be locked and the key delivered to the judges, and it shall not be again opened until the close of the polls. Each election shall each be held guilty of a misdemeanor, under this act, if the ballot box shall not by them be kept constantly in public view during the progress of the election, unless it shall be shown by any judge or clerk against any obstruction of the view of the ballot box and was the majority of the judges. Voters shall be admitted within the polling place, and there shall be permitted no handing in of votes through cracks or other openings.

Each of the clerks of election, in the poll books kept by him, shall enter in the proper column the name of each person whose vote is duly deposited in the ballot box; and in the column under the heading "Successive Number" shall note the successive number of each successive voter; and in the column headed "Residence" he shall note the residence of each such voter. Each page of such special book shall be substantially in the following

Such poll books shall otherwise be of the form, and shall contain the same certifications, as nearly as may be, as the poll books used in the regular elections, and such poll books shall be signed and attested in the same manner as poll books for the purpose of regular elections.

Section 89. One of the judges of such election shall receive the ballot from the voter and shall announce the residence and name of such voter in a loud voice; such ballot shall be folded by the voter in such a manner that the contents thereof can not be seen without unfolding such ballot. If the judges of election are satisfied that the person offering to vote is a legal voter, whose name is registered on the regular election registry books, except as herein otherwise provided for localities where there is no board of election commissioners, and are satisfied that he is a member of the political party holding such primary election, and if no challenge is interposed, the judge receiving such ballot shall again announce to the clerks of election the residence and name of the person offering such ballot, and such judge shall mark with pencil or ink the initials of his own name on the back of such ballot as it is folded, and thereupon such judge, after holding up and showing the ballot to be so marked, shall immediately, in the presence of the voter offering such ballot, and keeping the same in plain view of the judges and clerks of election and of such voters and challengers as may be present, deposit into the slot of the ballot box the ballot thus received and marked, and no other; and thereupon the clerks of election shall enter upon the poll books in the proper column the name and proper successive number of each voter and his residence. The judges and clerks, and each of them, shall see to it that each ballot is endorsed, as aforesaid. If such person shall be challenged as disqualified, the person challenging shall assign his reason therefor, and thereupon one of said judges shall administer to the person offering to vote an oath to answer all questions truthfully, and if he shall take such oath he shall then be questioned by said judge or judges touching such cause of challenge, and touching any other cause of disqualification, and he may also be questioned by the person challenging him in regard to his qualifications and identity; but if a majority of the judges are of the opinion that he is the person so registered and a voter qualified to vote at such party primary election, his vote shall then be received and deposited. But if the vote of a person apparently registered be rejected by such judges, such person may produce and deliver an affidavit to such judges, subscribed and signed by him before one of said judges, in which it shall be stated how long he has resided in any precinct within such primary district, and in the State; that he is a male citizen of the United States, and is a member of the political party holding such election, and is a duly qualified elector at the primary election in such district, and that he is the identical person registered or so named. But the affidavit aforesaid shall be supported by at least two registered voters, who are householders in such primary district, stating their own residence and that they know the person to be a member of the political party holding such primary election, that such person does reside at the place mentioned, and has been in such primary district and in such election precinct, county and city, for the length of time as stated by such person, which affidavit shall be subscribed and sworn to as the affidavit last aforesaid. Whereupon the same shall be received and entered as other votes. But the receiving charge of such poll books shall state in their respective poll books in such case and the name of the person challenging; and the same shall be delivered to said judges shall be preserved and returned to the person to receive them. Any registered voter of the party in the challenge. Blank affidavits of the character aforesaid shall be furnished by the judges of all the districts, and the judges of election shall furnish on demand and administer the oath without criticism. Such affidavits administered by any other officer than a judge of election, shall not be valid. Provided, that no judge, challenger of other person shall in any way for purpose of delay, challenge or question registered voters of

The judges of election shall permit each different ticket of election to be represented by a challenger chosen by a majority of those delegates on any particular ticket. Said challengers shall be provided with a discharge of their duty by the judges of election and the police. Challengers shall be permitted to remain within the polling place in such election as will enable them to see each person as he offers his ballot, and challengers may remain within the polling place throughout the time of the vote and until the returns are signed. The challengers shall be permitted to remain so near that they can see the judges and clerks while they are performing their duties.

The judges of election shall admit one or more policemen to be present at said polling place at the time of such canvass. None but members of such primary election, challengers and peace officers shall be admitted to the polling place except for the purpose of voting.

The judges of election shall have the power to administer oaths required during the progress of any primary election held in such district, and they shall have authority to keep the peace, and to cause any person to be arrested for any breach of the peace or for any violation of the election laws, or any interference with the progress of such election or the canvass of the ballots, and it shall be the duty of all officers of the district to obey the orders of such judges of election, and an officer who is arrested by the order of any judge for any violation of the provisions of this act shall be protected in making such arrest, the same as if he had been issued to him to make such arrest.

Immediately upon the closing of the polls the judges and clerks shall proceed to canvass the votes polled. If two or more ballots are found together and within each other, so as to appear to have been folded together by the same person as one ballot, and the inner ballot or ballots are not marked with proper initial mark, as provided in this act, then all such ballots shall be folded together, including the outer one, whether such outer one is marked on the back thereof as provided in this act or not, shall, if found, may be, in the same condition as found, be marked "stuffed," and such ballots shall be void and shall not be counted, and the same shall be placed in an envelope marked "stuffed ballots," which envelope shall be sealed and preserved, together with the other ballots. If the ballots remaining shall be found to exceed the number of names entered on the poll lists, such judges and clerks shall reject the ballots, if any be found upon which the proper initial marks do not appear. If the number of ballots still exceed the number of names entered on such poll list, the ballots remaining shall be replaced in the ballot box and the box closed and well shaken, and again opened, and one of the judges shall publicly draw out and destroy so many ballots unopened as shall be equal to such excess, keeping a note of the number of such ballots and noting the same on the statement of returns. Such judges and clerks shall then proceed to count, declare and record the votes in the following manner: The judges shall open all the ballots and place in separate piles those which contain the same names throughout. Each of the judges shall examine such separate piles and exclude from such piles any ballots which do not contain all the same names for all the same conventions. One of said judges shall then take one pile of the ballots which contain the same names and count them carefully, examining each name and convention on each of such ballots. Such judge shall then pass the ballots aforesaid to the judge sitting next to him, who shall count them in the same manner, and he shall then pass them to the third judge, who shall also count them in the same manner. The third judge shall then call the names of the persons named in such ballots and the conventions for which they are designated, together with the number of votes for each so far as counted, and the poll clerks shall tally the number of votes for each of such persons on tally sheets. When such judges have counted through such first pile of ballots containing the same names, and when the poll clerks shall have tallied the votes for each of the delegates named in such ballots, they shall then take up the next pile of ballots containing the same names and shall count them in the same manner as last aforesaid. When the counting of each pile of ballots which contain the same names shall be completed, the poll clerks shall compare their tallies together and ascertain the total number of ballots of that kind so canvassed, and when they agree upon the number, one of them shall announce it in a loud voice to the judges. The judges shall then canvass the other kind of ballots, which, in names or conventions, do not correspond with one another. They shall be canvassed separately by one of the judges, sitting between two other judges, which one judge shall read to the clerks from each such ballots each name and the convention for which such name is designated, and the other judges looking at the ballot at the same time, and the poll clerks tallying the same. When all these ballots have been canvassed in this manner, the clerks shall compare their tallies together and ascertain the total number of votes received by each person, and when they agree upon the number, one of them shall announce in a loud voice to the judges the number of votes received by each person.

Section 94. Such canvass shall not be adjourned or postponed until the several statements hereinafter required to be made by the judges and clerks have been made and signed by them. Upon the completion of such canvass the judges of election shall declare the result thereof, and such declaration shall be prima facie evidence of the result. The judges of election shall make three statements of all the votes cast at such primary election. Such statement shall be substantially in the following form:

The envelope last aforesaid shall be addressed to the person, officer, board, or board of election commissioners, by the general election law charged with the duty of receiving and preserving election returns, and one of the judges shall carry the same to such person, officer or board, as the case may be, and take a receipt for the same.

Section 95. The judges of election of each primary district shall issue a certificate of election to each person who has received a plurality of all the votes cast for delegates or alternate delegates to any particular convention from such primary district, and they shall deliver the same to the person entitled thereto. In case two or more persons each receive the same and the highest number of votes cast for delegates or alternate delegates to the convention, then the judges of election shall then and there decide by lot which person or persons shall be entitled to such certificate, and they shall issue to each such person so chosen such certificate, and make a note of such fact upon the statements provided for in this act. Such certificate of election shall be evidence prima facie of the right of the person therein named to a seat in the convention therein named.

The conventions shall be held at the times as hereinafter provided, as follows, to-wit: The county convention and the sanitary district convention, and whenever there are city officers to be elected at the fall election, said city convention shall be held on the Monday immediately following said primary election day. The Senatorial convention shall be held on the Tuesday immediately following said primary election day. The Congressional convention shall be held on the Wednesday immediately following said primary election day. The city convention shall be held on the Monday immediately following said primary election day. The ward and town conventions on the Tuesday immediately following said primary election day.

Section 96. When a vacancy shall occur in any elective office, and a special election shall become necessary to fill the same, the managing committee of the several political parties for the territorial area in which such vacancy occurs, shall nominate the candidate or candidates for the representative parties.

Section 97. Any person who shall wilfully, corruptly and falsely swear or affirm in taking any oath or affirmation prescribed by or upon any examination provided for in this act, and every person who shall wilfully and corruptly instigate, advise, induce or procure any person to swear or affirm falsely aforesaid, or attempt or offer so to do, shall be guilty of perjury, or subornation of perjury, as the case may be, and shall, upon conviction thereof, suffer the punishment directed by law in cases of wilful and corrupt perjury.

Section 98. If any judge or clerk shall neglect or refuse to canvass the votes at the time and in the manner provided for in this act, or refuse to make the returns required in this act, he shall, upon conviction thereof be adjudged guilty of a misdemeanor under this act.

Section 99. Every judge of election, clerk or other officer or person authorized to take part in or perform any duty in relation to any canvass or official statement of the votes cast at such election in any district, who shall wilfully make any false canvass of such votes, or who shall make, enter, write, sign publish or deliver any false return of such election, or any false statement of such election, or any material writing incidental to such election, same to be false, shall, on conviction thereof, be adjudged guilty under this act.

3. If any person acting as judge at such primary election shall wilfully and without lawful excuse refuse to make out, sign or seal a person entitled thereto any certificate of election as delegate or clerk, provided for in this act, or shall wilfully and fraudulently sign and issue such certificate of election to any person not entitled to, or shall issue such certificate of election to any person at any time other than the official count of the votes at such polling place, or shall commit any other wilful or fraudulent act with reference to such certificate, shall, upon conviction thereof, be adjudged guilty of a felony under this act.

4. If any judge of a primary election shall, without urgent necessity, absent himself from the polling place during election, whereby a majority of all the judges of such election district shall be present during hours of election or canvass of ballots; or if at any election any judge or clerk shall, knowingly and wilfully, receive any vote, or shall sign the canvass of ballots, or shall consent thereto, unless a majority of the judges of election are present and concur, such judge or such clerk shall be guilty of a misdemeanor under this act.

5. Any judge of election who shall wilfully exclude any vote or person entitled to vote at such election, or who shall wilfully receive any vote from a person who has been duly challenged in relation to his right to vote at such election, without exacting from such person such oath or proof of qualifications as may be required by law, shall, upon conviction thereof, be adjudged guilty of a misdemeanor under this act.

6. If any judge of election shall knowingly and wilfully cause any ballot or ballots, or semblance thereof, to be in the ballot box before the polls and before voting begins, or shall knowingly, wilfully and fraudulently put, or permit to be put, any ballot or other paper or semblance thereof, into any such box at any such election; or any person other than a judge of election, shall at any such election fraudulently put, or cause to be put, any ballot or ballots, or other semblance thereof, into any box used at such election for the purpose of receiving votes; any person shall at such election fraudulently change or alter the ballot or substitute one ballot for another;

any judge of election or other officer or person shall fraudulently, in any manner change, substitute or alter any ballot from the ballot box then being canvassed, or from any ballot which has not been canvassed;

any judge or person shall, upon conviction thereof, be adjudged guilty of a felony under this act.

7. If any judge of election, clerk or other officer of election of whom it is required in this act or by the general laws of this State, for the performance of which duty no punishment is provided, shall be guilty of any neglect of such duty or of any corrupt or fraudulent conduct or practice in the performance of the same, he shall, upon conviction thereof, be adjudged guilty of a misdemeanor under this act.

8. Any person or member of a board, or any judge of election, or any officer, who is guilty of stealing, wilfully and wrongfully breaking, mutilating, defacing, falsifying, or unlawfully removing or detaining the whole or any part of any ballot box or receptacle for any record, registry of voters, or copy thereof, oath, return or list of votes, certificate, poll list, or of any paper or document provided for in this act;

Or who shall fraudulently make any entry, erasure or alteration therein, except as allowed and directed by the provisions of this act, or who permits any other person so to do, shall, upon conviction thereof, be adjudged guilty of a felony under this act.

Every person who advises, procures or abets the commission of any of the acts mentioned in the last preceding two paragraphs, shall upon conviction thereof, be adjudged guilty of a felony under this act.

Section 106. If any person knowingly or wilfully shall obstruct, hinder or assault, or by bribery, solicitation or otherwise interfere with any judge of election, clerk or challenger, in the performance of any duty required of him, or which he may be by law authorized or permitted to perform;

Or if any person, by any of the means before mentioned or otherwise unlawfully shall, on the day of election, hinder or prevent any judge of primary election, clerk or challenger in his free attendance and presence at the place of election in the primary election district in and for which he is appointed or designated to serve;

Or in his full and free access and egress to and from any such place of election;

Or shall molest, interfere with, remove or eject any such place of election any such judge of election, clerk or challenger, except as otherwise provided in this act, or shall unlawfully threaten, or attempt or offer so to do;

Every such person shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor under this act.

Section 107. If any person shall wilfully disobey any lawful command of any judge of election, given in the execution of his duty as such, at any such primary election, he shall, upon conviction thereof, be adjudged guilty of a misdemeanor under this act.

Section 108. If, on any day of primary election, or during the canvass of the votes cast thereat, any person shall cause any breach of the peace or be guilty of any disorderly violence, or threats of violence, whereby any such election or canvass shall be impeded or hindered, or whereby the lawful proceedings of any judge of election or clerk, or other officer of such election, or challenger, are interfered with, or causes intoxicating liquors to be brought or sent to the polling place, every such person shall, upon conviction thereof, be guilty of a misdemeanor under this act.

Section 109. Any person who votes with a certain party at such primary election, when he knows he is not qualified so to vote under the provisions of this act, shall upon conviction thereof, be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor under this act.

Section 110. If any person who shall have been convicted of bribery, felony or other infamous crime under the laws of any state, and who has never received a pardon for such offense from the officer or board entitled to grant such pardon, shall thereafter vote, or offer to vote, at any primary election in such city, village or incorporated town, he shall, upon conviction thereof, be adjudged guilty of a misdemeanor under this act.

Section 111. If any person, knowing that he is not qualified to vote at such primary election, takes a place in any line of voters waiting to vote at any election, or if any person, after having voted at such election, takes a place in such waiting line, or if any person repeatedly takes a place in such waiting line without voting when the opportunity comes, and who systematically gives up his place in such waiting line, such person shall, upon conviction thereof, be adjudged guilty of a misdemeanor under this act.

Section 112. If, at any such election, any person shall falsely personate any elector legally qualified to vote at such primary election, and vote, or attempt or offer to vote, in or upon the name of such elector or other person, living or dead; or shall knowingly, wilfully or fraudulently vote, or attempt or offer to vote more than once, or vote in more than one primary district; or ce, threat, menace, intimidation, bribery or reward, or offer or reof, or otherwise unlawfully, either directly or indirectly, in-tempt to influence any elector in giving his vote; unlawfully prevent or hinder, or unlawfully attempt to prevent any qualified voter from freely exercising the right of suffrage;

by any such unlawful means, compel or induce, or attempt to induce, any judge of election or other officer to receive the vote of a not legally qualified or entitled to vote at the said election;

by such means, or other unlawful means, wilfully, knowingly or by counsel, advise, induce, or attempt to induce, any judge of election or other officer of election, whose duty it is to ascertain, proclaim, declare the result of any such election, to give or make any false statement, document, report, return or other false evidence in relation to or refuse to comply with his duty, as specially provided for in the act, to refuse to receive the vote of any person entitled to vote aid, counsel, advise, procure or assist any legally qualified voter, judge of election, or other officer of election, to do any act by law prohibited in this act constituted an offense;

any person shall, upon conviction thereof, be adjudged guilty of a felony under this act.

3. If any person shall, at any such election, fraudulently furnish a ballot containing more than the proper number of votes, intentionally practice any fraud upon any elector to induce him to vote as his vote, and to have the same thrown out and not to have the same counted for a person or candidate other than the candidate for whom such elector intended to vote; or otherwise to give or make any false statement, document, report, return or other false evidence of his vote; or if any person shall order or cause to be printed or published any ticket, or a primary ticket of delegates or without first having secured the consent of each person named on it to stand as delegate or alternate delegate for a specified conventional ticket of names; or if any person causes to be brought to the vicinity of a polling place such unauthorized tickets in order that they may be distributed;

any person shall, upon conviction thereof, be adjudged guilty of a felony under this act.

4. Any person who shall make, seek or obtain for himself or for any other person a certificate of election as delegate or alternate delegate to any convention, knowing that he or such other person is not entitled thereto, or who shall use, or attempt to use, such certificates of election, or cause the same to be false or fraudulent, or to have been issued for any other person; and any person who shall fraudulently, knowingly and with intent, act as a delegate or alternate delegate to any such convention, upon conviction thereof, be adjudged guilty of a felony under this act.

5. If any person shall commit any act prohibited herein, or shall do any act or duty required to be done herein, and if any person shall do so in any manner be guilty of a violation of this act, whether the same be denominated an offense or not, and for which no punishment is specially provided, such person shall, upon conviction thereof, be guilty of a misdemeanor under this act.

6. Any person adjudged guilty of an offense denominated a felony under this act shall be fined not less than twenty-five dollars nor more than one thousand dollars ($1,000), or shall be imprisoned for not less than one month nor more than two years, or any person may be punished by both such fine and imprisonment.

Any person adjudged guilty of an offense denominated a felony in this act shall be punished by imprisonment in the penitentiary for not less than one year nor more than five years.

Section 117. The word "householder," as used in this act, shall mean the chief or head of a family, who resides with a family as a family, and who supports and provides for such family as an independent family.

Section 118. In all prosecutions and in all contests under this act it shall be the lawful duty of the clerk of the county, or of the board of election commissioners, or other officers having the custody thereof, to produce, open, exhibit and offer in evidence any notice, ballot book, registry book, bundle of ballots, returns, statements, or other documents or papers relating to the particular prosecution or contest for the purpose of enabling a full investigation.

Section 119. Irregularities or defects in the mode of calling, noticing, convening, holding or conducting any primary election authorized by law shall constitute no defense to a prosecution for a violation of this act. When an offense shall be committed in relation to any primary election an indictment for such offense shall be sufficient, if it allege that such election was authorized by law, without stating the call or notice of election aforesaid, the names of the judges or clerks holding such election, or the names of the persons voted for at such election. Judicial notice shall be taken of this act in any county, city, village or incorporated town to which this act shall apply and of the holding of any election thereunder on any primary election day.

The provisions of this act shall not apply to the holding of the primaries for the nomination of candidates to be elected at any of the elections to be held in the year 1905. Such primaries may be held under the present primary law or such nominations may be made by the central or managing committees of the respective political parties.

Section 120. All laws or parts of laws in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

Mr. Pierson asked and obtained unanimous consent to have Senate Bill No. 161 recalled from the order of third reading to the order of second reading for the purpose of amendment.

Whereupon, Senate Bill No. 161, a bill for "An Act to enable cities, villages and incorporated towns to acquire land for parks and boulevards upon the shores of public waters in this State, and granting to them for such purposes the bed of and submerged lands under those public waters that are not navigable."

Having been printed and having heretofore been read at large a second time, was again taken up in the order of second reading.

Thereupon Mr. Lindly offered the following amendments and moved their adoption:

AMENDMENT No. 1.

Amend the title to said bill by striking out all of the said title after the word "boulevards" in the second line of said title and inserting in lieu thereof the following words, "and ceding and granting lands for such purposes."

AMENDMENT No. 2.

Amend section 1 by striking out all of said section after the words "purposes" in line 4 of said section.

AMENDMENT No. 3.

Amend section No. 3 by striking out the word "the" between the word "under" and "public" in line 2 of said section and inserting in lieu thereof the word "any," and further amend section 3 by striking out the words "aforesaid lying within" in line 2 of said section and inserting in lieu thereof the following words, "in this State that are not navigable for the purposes of commerce and which lie within," and further amend section 3 by striking out the words "cities, villages or incorporated towns" in line 3 of said section and inserting in lieu thereof the following words, "county which has one hundred and twenty-five thousand or more inhabitants," and further amend section 3 by striking out the word "and" between the words "on" and "adjacent" in line 5 of said section, and further amend section 3 by striking out the word "shall" in line 8 of said section, and further amend section 3 by striking out the words "granted or" in line 9 of said section, and by inserting the word "or granted" between the words "ceded" and "away" in line 9 of said section.

AMENDMENT No. 4.

Amend section 5 of said bill by striking out the word "aforesaid" in line 2 of said section and inserting in lieu thereof the words, "mention in section 4 of this act;" and further amend section 5 by inserting the word "pleasure" between the words "a" and "driveway" in line 4 of said section, and further amend said section 5 by inserting the word "pleasure" between the words "such" and "driveways" in line 8 of said section.

AMENDMENT No. 5.

Strike out all of section 6 and insert in lieu thereof the following to be known as section 6:

"Section 6. Any city, village or incorporated town having lands within or adjacent to its boundaries and situated upon the shores of any public waters in this State may in addition to the powers conferred upon it by section 2 of before it shall exercise any of the powers conferred upon it by section 4 of this act by resolution of its council, or board of trustees, to determine the boundary of dividing line between the lands of the State and lands adjacent thereto. Upon the presentation of such resolution to the Attorney General of this State it shall be the duty of the Attorney General (without any costs and charges to the State), to file a petition in the circuit court of the county wherein such lands are situated to make the owner or owners of the lands adjacent to those of the defendant with owner or owners of all rights and interests therein, in an estate and rights, parties defendant thereto. The petition may pray that the court may herein determine the cause and by its judgment define the boundary or dividing line between the lands of the State and the lands of the defendant or defendants. The defendant or defendants shall be served with process in said cause as in other proceedings and the proceedings in such cause shall be conducted like suits. The court by its final decree in said cause shall have the power to establish the boundary or dividing line between the lands of the State and those of the defendant or defendants to such bill or petition, and shall see fit in the establishment of said boundary or dividing line within the same as a part of the land belonging to the said defendants a just and equitable portion of land whether submerged or not which shall be the equivalent in value of his or their riparian estate in case they shall be found to have any such riparian estate. The court may in and by its said decree find and declare the riparian estate or rights and ordered and adjudge that the same defendant or defendants entitled thereto by the city, village or town which has invoked the aid of the State as and for the purpose before it shall exercise any of the powers conferred upon it by section 4 of this act, and the said boundary or dividing line as so established by said decree of the court shall be the permanent boundary or dividing line between the lines of the State and the lands of the defendant or said cause, which boundary or dividing line as to the lands of the defendant or defendants shall not be affected or changed thereafter, by accretions or erosions, and the defendant or defendants to said cause claiming under them shall have the right to improve, protect, and defend the land up to the said boundary or dividing line established by said decree from any adverse claims in any way arising out of any where the shore line was at any time in the past, or as to the lands by accretions, if any, to the lands upon the shore of the said defendant. But any and all right, title and interest which the defendant in said cause, or any one claiming by, through or under them, to any riparian right or estate by virtue of his or their owners or owners involved in the said proceeding for the establishment of or dividing line shall be forever surrendered, cut off and the entry of said decree to the State of Illinois, and the city, village or town which shall have invoked the aid of the State for the establishment of the said boundary or dividing line shall have the right to enter into and upon such of the lands (whether submerged or not) as may be found by the said decree to be owned by the State, and to use and improve the same for the purpose aforesaid, but for no other purpose. Provided always, that the city, village or incorporated town which has invoked the aid of the State as aforesaid shall pay all costs and expenses of said proceeding not assessed against any defendant or de-

AMENDMENT NO. 6.

Section 7 by striking out all the words between the word "lands" in said section and the word "and" in line five of said section and thereof the following words: "it has acquired by gift, grant or otherwise the lands adjacent thereto;" and further amend section 7 by inserting the words "such riparian rights" in line 7 of said section and in-serting in lieu thereof the following words: "the lands adjacent to those it has acquired as aforesaid, together with the owner or owners, of any and all estates and interests therein, including riparian estates or rights;" and further amend section 7 by inserting between the word "rights" and "or" in line twenty of said section, the following words, "or estates, in case they, or either of them, shall be found to have any riparian rights or estates," and still further amend section 7 by striking out the word "and" between the words "rights" and "order" in line twenty-two of said section and inserting in lieu thereof the words "or estates and;" and still further amend section 7 by adding after the word "waters" in line thirty-four of said section, the following words, "but any and all right, title and interest which the defendant or defendants to said cause or any one claiming by, through or under them may have had to any riparian rights or estates by virtue of their ownership of any lands involved in the said proceedings for the establishment of the said boundary or dividing line shall be forever surrendered, cut off and transferred by the entry of the said decree to the petitioner or complainant in said cause."

And the foregoing amendments Nos. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5 and 6 were adopted.

There being no further amendments the foregoing amendments were ordered printed and engrossed.

And the question being, "Shall the bill as amended be ordered to a third reading?" it was decided in the affirmative.

HOUSE BILL No. 121.

A bill for an act to regulate the civil service of the State of Illinois.

A message from the Senate by Mr. Osgood, Assistant Secretary:

Mr. Speaker—I am directed to inform the House of Representatives that the Senate has concurred with them in the adoption of the following preamble and joint resolution, to-wit:

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION No. 11.

WHEREAS, The limited time at the disposal of the present session of the General Assembly is insufficient to take up, much less to carefully and fully consider the important subject of industrial insurance, including pensions for aged workers, protective measures in the interest of workmen which, in other countries, have proved of great value and benefit; and,

WHEREAS, Even in the most favored countries the margin between work and want is an exceedingly narrow one; besides there can be no apprehension more keen or pitiless than the constant, clinging dread, shared equally by all wealth producers, that misfortune in the form of sickness, the liability to become incapacitated through accident, or by time's inevitable advance, accompanied by waning strength, there will be lacking the means necessary for ordinary maintenance. This most melancholy fact, of which all are conscious, poisons the present, and fills the future with fear. The so-called civilized industrialism of our day can be subject to no stronger criticism than the charge, fortified by universal experience, that the men and women whose productive energies have contributed so much to our wealth, progress and development, leading simple, inexpensive lives, become in their declining years, powerless, principally because they are penniless; and,

WHEREAS, It ought to be the duty of the law making power of the State to prevent, so far as legislative aid and encouragement can modify this deplorable state of affairs; therefore, be it

Resolved by the House of Representatives, the Senate concurring hereto. That the Governor is hereby authorized and requested to appoint a commission, consisting of five representative men, who shall serve without remuneration, and whose duties shall be to thoroughly investigate and report to the Governor the draft of a bill, providing a plan for industrial insurance and workmen's old age pensions for consideration and action by the members of the 45th General Assembly."

Concurred in May 4, 1905.

6. To the sisters or any competent person nominated by them.
7. To the grandchildren or any competent person nominated by them.
8. To the next of kin or any competent person nominated by them.
9. To the public administrator or to any creditor who shall apply for the same.

Provided that only such persons as are entitled to administer under this act shall have the right to nominate.

When several are claiming and are equally entitled to administration the Court may grant letters to one or more of them preferring relatives of the whole to those of half blood.

Preference and the right to nominate under this act must be exercised within sixty days from the death of the intestate, at the expiration of which time administration shall be granted to the public administrator.

And the amendment was adopted.

Mr. Browne offered the following amendment and moved its adoption:

AMENDMENT No. 2.

Amend Senate Bill No. 474 in House by adding and inserting after the word "administrator" in line 31 of the printed bill the following: "Provided in neither of said cases shall said public administrator employ or select or dictate the employment or selection of the attorney or attorneys representing or to represent said public administrator in said cases, but in all said cases the parties in interest in said estate in the order of their respective interests by virtue of this section shall have the exclusive right to dictate the selection and employment of said attorney or attorneys."

Mr. Arnold moved to lay the foregoing amendment upon the table.

The motion prevailed,

And Amendment No. 2 was ordered to lie upon the table.

That there shall be but one term of the supreme court each year, to begin on the first Monday of October.

Section 2. All writs and other process from said court shall be returnable in twenty days from the date of issue, unless otherwise specially ordered by the court. In all appeals from the Appellate Court to the Supreme Court, the record or transcript thereof shall be filed within thirty days from the date of the judgment appealed from. In cases of appeals from other courts, the record or a transcript thereof shall be filed in the Supreme Court, within sixty days from the date of the judgment or decree, appealed from.

Section 3. On the first Monday of each month, except the months of July, August and September of each year, the Supreme Court shall sit for the hearing of causes in said court, and shall continue to sit from day to day thereafter until as many causes shall have been submitted as can reasonably be heard and decided prior to the first Monday of the succeeding month. The appellant, or plaintiff in error, shall file as many copies of the brief and abstract of the record in behalf of said party as the court shall by rule prescribe, within thirty days after filing the record in the Supreme Court, and the appellee, or defendant in error, shall in like manner file the brief of such party in fifteen days thereafter, and ten days shall be allowed appellant, or plaintiff in error, to file a reply brief, provided that the time for filing records, abstracts and briefs may be extended in the discretion of the court. At the expiration of the time for filing briefs, the clerk shall place each cause on the calendar for hearing in its order, and shall notify the parties of the time of hearing ten days in advance thereof, said notice to be given in such manner as shall be prescribed by the rules of the court.

Section 4. All appeals to the Supreme Court shall be prayed and allowed at the term at which judgment, order or decree appealed from is rendered, and not more than twenty days after the date of the entry of such judgment, order or decree.

Section 5. That there shall be allowed and paid to each of the judges of the Supreme Court, who shall be elected at any election held subsequent to the year of 1905, an annual salary of $10,000, payable in quarter yearly installments out of the State treasury, on the warrant of the Auditor of Public Accounts, from and out of any money not otherwise appropriated.

Section 6. That any incumbent of the office of Supreme Judge, whose term is now running, and does not expire until after the year 1906, and who, by reason thereof, is disqualified under the latter clause of section 7, article 6, of the constitution, of this State, to receive the increased salary provided by his act, during the remainder of his term of office, may appoint, by means of a writing to be filed with the State Auditor, an assistant, whose duty it shall be to assist such judge in his work, which assistant shall receive a salary of $3,000.00 per annum, payable quarter yearly, on the warrant of said State Auditor, out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated. Any such appointment of assistants shall continue in force until revoked by the judge making the same, but the authority to make such appointment shall cease with the expiration of the present term or terms of the judge or judges appointing assistants hereunder.

Section 7. That sections 2 and 5 of an act entitled, "An Act to diminish the number of judicial divisions of the Supreme Court, to change the time and place of holding said court, and to regulate the practice in said court," approved April 2, 1897, in force July 1, 1897, and all other acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith, are hereby repealed.

Section 8. Said commissioners shall have control and management of the Illinois and Michigan canal, including its feeders, basins and appurtenances, and the property thereto belonging, and all locks and dams and other improvements of the navigation of the Illinois and Little Wabash rivers, and shall have authority:

First. To appoint a general superintendent, collector of tolls and such other officers and agents as may be necessary for the management of the said canal, locks, dams and other improvements, and prescribe their compensation, powers and duties, and remove them at pleasure, and may employ such agents and servants as may be necessary in the performance of the duties of their office.

Second. To prescribe reasonable rules and regulations in respect to all matters connected with the navigation and use of the said canal, locks and basins and transportation on or through the same; and whoever shall wilfully negligently refuse or neglect to comply with such rules may be fined in any sum, not exceeding $50 for each offense, to be recovered in the name of the people of the State of Illinois, before any justice of the peace of the county, or paid over to said commissioners, and said commissioners may prohibit all persons who wilfully refuse or neglect to comply with such rules from using the said canal, locks and dams. Printed copies of such rules and of this article shall be posted for public inspection in the offices of the collectors of tolls. The power granted in this article shall apply as well to that part of the south branch of the Chicago river within one thousand feet of the lock at Bridgeport, to the canal basin at or near the termination of the canal on the Illinois river, and to that part of the Illinois and Little Wabash rivers above and below several locks and dams within one thousand feet thereof, and to all feeders, basins and laterals as to the canal, locks and dams.

Third. To establish and collect reasonable rates of toll for the passage and use of the said canal and the said locks:

Provided, that the use of the said canal and locks shall be free for the transportation of any property of the United States, or persons in their service passing through the same.

Fourth. To sell and dispose of any machinery, fixtures, stone, debris, material or personal property unnecessary for the proper management, construction, repair or use of said canal, locks, dams and other improvements.

Fifth. To lease from time to time any of the canal lands or lots owned by the State: Provided, no lease shall be granted for a period exceeding twenty years.

Sixth. To lease from time to time, to the highest bidder therefor, any water power and lands or lots connected therewith. Before any such lease shall be made, at least thirty days' public notice of the intended letting shall be given by publication in some newspaper published in the neighborhood, and such other notice as the commissioners shall deem best. The commissioners shall have power to require that bids be accompanied by security and may reject all bids not satisfactory to them, and re-advertise until they shall receive satisfactory bids. No lease shall be for a period exceeding twenty years, but the commissioners may provide for the extension of any lease from time to time, not exceeding twenty years at any one time, at a rent to be fixed by an appraisal, to be made by three disinterested appraisers to be appointed by the Governor, and such appraisal shall be subject to the approval of the commissioners. All leases of water power and extensions thereof shall be subject to the right of the commissioners to resume, without compensation to the lessee, the use of any such water power for the purpose of the canal and also wholly to abandon or destroy the work by the construction of which the water privilege shall have been created, whenever, in the opinion of the legislature, such work shall cease to be advantageous to the State.

Seventh. To lease from time to time to the highest and best bidder (after publishing notice in some newspaper published in the county where the ice privilege to be leased may be), in sections not exceeding one thousand feet, lineal measure, upon such terms as not to interfere with the proper use and management of the canal, the right to take and harvest ice therefrom, or from any of its feeders, basins and appurtenances, and to prohibit all persons from taking and harvesting ice therefrom without such lease: Provided, no such lease shall be for a longer time than twenty years.

Eighth. To sell and convey, whenever in their judgment the interest of the State will be promoted thereby, any canal lands or lots now owned by the State, and any riparian rights in and along the Des Plaines river: Provided, they shall not sell any lands or any portion of the ninety-foot strip along the canal which are now utilized in connection with the use of the water power upon the said canal or which will prevent or interfere with the proper use and operation of the said canal as a waterway. But before making any such sale they shall obtain the approval of the Governor thereto, and to the time, place and manner of making the same: Provided, that before any such sale shall be made thirty days' previous notice thereof shall be given in some newspaper published in the county where such land, lots or riparian rights are situated. And said land, lots or riparian rights shall be sold at public auction to the highest and best bidder: Provided, that any or all such bids may be rejected if, in the judgment of the canal commissioners the interests of the State seem to require it.

Ninth. To execute in due form and deliver any conveyance that may be necessary to comply with the conditions of any bond, contract or agreement heretofore made by those lawfully authorized to sell any of the real estate known as canal lands, where the purchaser shall have complied with the conditions of such bond, contract or agreement, and the commissioners are satisfied that he is justly entitled to such conveyance."

The foregoing amendments Nos. 1 and 2 were adopted.

There being no further amendments the foregoing amendments were ordered printed and engrossed.

And the question being, "Shall the bill be ordered to a third reading?" it was decided in the affirmative.

J. H. PADDOCK,
Secretary of the Senate.

A message from the Senate by Mr. Ferriman, Assistant Secretary:

Mr. Speaker—I am directed to inform the House of Representatives that the Senate has concurred with the House of Representatives in the adoption of their amendments to Senate Bill No. 388, a bill for "An Act to amend an act entitled, 'An Act to revise the law in relation to the Illinois and Michigan canal, and for the improvement of the Illinois and Little Wabash rivers,' approved March 27, 1874, in force July 1, 1874, as amended by the act of June 19, 1891, in force July 1, 1891; as amended by the act of April 21, 1899, in force July 1, 1899,"

Which amendments are as follows:

AMENDMENT NO. 1.

First. Amend title so as to read as follows: A bill for an act to amend section 8 of an act entitled, "An Act to revise the law in relation to the Illinois and Michigan canal and for the improvement of the Illinois and Little Wabash rivers," approved March 27, 1874, in force July 1, 1874, as amended by an act approved June 19, 1891, in force July 1, 1891, as amended by an act approved April 21, 1899, in force July 1, 1899.

AMENDMENT NO. 2.

Strike out all after the enacting clause and substitute the following: "That section 8 of an act entitled, 'An Act to revise the law in relation to the Illinois and Michigan canal and for the improvement of the Illinois and Little Wabash rivers,' approved March 27, 1874, in force July 1, 1874, as amended by an act approved June 19, 1891, in force July 1, 1891, as amended by an act approved April 21, 1899, in force July 1, 1899," be and the same is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

Section 8. Said commissioners shall have control and management of the Illinois and Michigan canal, including its feeders, basins and appurtenances, and the property thereto belonging, and all locks and dams and other improvements of the navigation of the Illinois and Little Wabash rivers, and shall have authority:

First—To appoint a general superintendent, collector of tolls and such other officers and agents as may be necessary for the management of the said canal, locks, dams and other improvements, and prescribe their compensation, powers and duties, and remove them at pleasure, and may employ such agents and servants as may be necessary in the performance of the duties of their office.

Second—To prescribe reasonable rules and regulations in respect to all matters connected with the navigation and use of the said canal, locks and dams and transportation on or through the same, and whoever shall wilfully or negligently refuse or neglect to comply with such rules may be fined in any sum, not exceeding $50 for each offense, to be recovered in the name of the People of the State of Illinois, before any justice of the peace of the county, and paid over to said commissioners, and said commissioners may prohibit all persons who wilfully refuse or neglect to comply with such rules from using said canal, locks and dams. Printed copies of such rules and of this article shall be posted for public inspection in the offices of the collectors of tolls. The power granted in this article shall apply as well to that part of the south branch of the Chicago river within one thousand feet of the lock at Bridgeport, and to the canal basin at or near the termination of the canal on the Illinois river, and to that part of the Illinois and Little Wabash rivers above and below the several locks and dams within one thousand feet thereof, and to all feeders, basins and laterals as to the canal, locks and dams.

Third—To establish and collect reasonable rates of toll for the passage and use of the said canal and the said locks: Provided, that the use of the said canal and locks shall be free for the transportation of any property of the United States, or persons in their service passing through the same.

Fourth—To sell and dispose of any machinery, fixtures, stone, debris, material or personal property unnecessary for the proper management, construction, repair or use of said canal, locks, dams and other improvements.

Fifth—To lease from time to time any of the canal lands or lots owned by the State: Provided, no lease shall be granted for a period exceeding twenty years.

Sixth—To lease from time to time, to the highest bidder therefor, any water power and lands or lots connected therewith. Before any such lease shall be made, at least thirty days' notice of the intended letting shall be given by publication in some newspaper published in the neighborhood, and such other notice as the commissioners shall deem best. The commissioners shall have power to require that bids be accompanied by security and may reject all bids not satisfactory to them, and re-advertise until they shall receive satisfactory bids. No lease shall be for a period exceeding twenty years, but the commissioners may provide for the extension of any lease from time to time, not exceeding twenty years at any one time, at a rent to be fixed by an appraisal, to be made by three disinterested appraisers to be appointed by the Governor, and such appraisal shall be subject to the approval of the commissioners. All leases of water power and extensions thereof shall be subject to the right of the commissioners to resume, without compensation to the lessee, the use of any such water power for the purpose of the canal, and also wholly to abandon or destroy the works by the construction of which the water privilege shall have been created, whenever, in the opinion of the Legislature, such work shall cease to be advantageous to the State.

Seventh—To lease from time to time to the highest and best bidder (after publishing notice in some newspaper published in the county where the ice privilege to be leased may be), in sections not exceeding one thousand feet, lineal measure, upon such terms, as not to interfere with the proper use and management of the canal, the right to take and harvest ice therefrom, or from any of its feeders, basins and appurtenances, and to prohibit all persons from taking and harvesting ice therefrom without such lease: Provided, no such lease shall be for a longer time than twenty years.

Eighth—To sell and convey, whenever in their judgment the interests of the State will be promoted thereby, any canal lands or lots now owned by the State, and any riparian rights in and along the Desplaines river: Provided, They shall not sell any lands or any portion of the ninety foot strip along the canal which are now utilized in connection with the use of the water power upon the said canal or which will prevent or interfere with the proper use and operation of the said canal as a waterway. But before making any such sale they shall obtain the approval of the Governor thereto, and to the time, place and manner of making the same: Provided, that before any such sale shall be made thirty days' previous notice thereof shall be given in some newspaper published in the county where such land, lots or riparian rights are situated. And said land, lots or riparian rights shall be sold at public auction to the highest and best bidder: Provided, that any or all such bids may be rejected if, in the judgment of the canal commissioners the interests of the State seem to require it.

Ninth—To execute in due form and deliver any conveyance that may be necessary to comply with the conditions of any bond, contract or agreement heretofore made by those lawfully authorized to sell any of the real estate known as canal lands, where the purchaser shall have complied with the conditions of such bond, contract or agreement, and the commissioners are satisfied that he is justly entitled to such conveyance."

Concurred in by the Senate May 6, 1905.

J. H. PADDOCK,
Secretary of the Senate.

A message from the Senate by Mr. Paddock, Secretary:

Mr. Speaker—I am directed to inform the House of Representatives that the Senate has concurred with the House in the adoption of their amendments to SENATE BILL No. 426.

A bill for "An Act to amend section sixty-one (61) of an act entitled, 'An Act to revise the law in relation to counties,' approved March 31, 1874, as amended by acts of May 20, 1879, June 14, 1887, and June 26, 1895,"

Which amendments are as follows:

AMENDMENT No. 1.

Amend Senate Bill No. 426 (substitute for Senate Bill No. 210) by striking out the twenty-first paragraph "Removals," beginning with line 279 and ending with line 295, and substituting therefor the following:

Twenty-first. Removals and Reduction. Removals from the classified service or reduction in grade of compensation, or both, may be made in any department of the service by the head of such department for any cause which will promote the efficiency of the service; but only on written specifications by the officer making the removal or reduction; and the person sought to be removed or reduced shall have notice, and shall be served with a copy of the specifications and be allowed reasonable time for answering the same in writing; and a copy of the notice, specifications, answer and of the order of removal or reduction shall be filed with the civil service commission. The said commission shall investigate any removal or reduction which it has reason to believe has not been made in accordance with the provisions of this section, and it may in any case investigate any removal or reduction, and then in accordance with its findings, approve or disapprove the same. The finding and the decision of the said commission shall in every case be final and shall be certified to the appointing officer, and shall be forthwith enforced by such officer. A copy of said papers in each case shall be made a part of the record of the division of the service in which the removal or reduction is made. Nothing in this act shall limit the power of any officer to suspend a subordinate, without pay, for cause assigned in writing, for a reasonable period, not exceeding thirty days.

In the course of an investigation of charges, each member of the Civil Service Commission shall have the power to administer oaths, and shall have the power to secure by its subpoena, both the attendance and testimony of witnesses, and the production of books and papers relevant to such investigation.

J. H. PADDOCK,
Secretary of the Senate.

A message from the Senate by Mr. Paddock, Secretary:

Mr. Speaker—I am directed to inform the House of Representatives that the Senate has concurred with the House in the adoption of their amendments to Senate Bill No. 161,

A bill for 'An Act to enable cities, villages and incorporated towns to acquire land for parks and boulevards upon the shores of public waters in this State, and granting to them, for such purposes, the bed of, and submerged lands under, those public waters that are not navigable,"

Which amendments are as follows:

AMENDMENT No. 1.

Amend the title to said bill by striking out all of the said title after the word "boulevards," in the second line of said title, and inserting, in lieu thereof, the following words, "and ceding and granting lands for such purposes."

AMENDMENT No. 2.

Amend section 1 by striking out all of said section after the word "purposes," in line 4 of said section.

AMENDMENT No. 3.

Amend section No. 3 by striking out the word "the" between the word "under" and "public," in line 2 of said section and inserting in lieu thereof, the word "any," and further amend section 3 by striking out the words "aforesaid lying within," in line 2 of said section, and inserting in lieu thereof the following words, "in this State that are not navigable for the purposes of commerce and which lie within," and further amend section 3 by striking out the words "cities, villages or incorporated towns," in line 3 of said section, and inserting in lieu thereof, the following words, "county which has one hundred and twenty-five thousand or more inhabitants," and further amend section 3 by striking out the word "and" between the words "on" and "adjacent," in line 5 of said section, and further amend section 3 by striking out the word "shall," in line 8 of said section, and further amend section 3 by striking out the words "granted or," in line 9 of said section, and by inserting the words "or granted" between the words "ceded" and "away," in line 9 of said section.

AMENDMENT No. 4.

Amend section 5 of said bill by striking out the word "aforesaid," in line 2 of said section and inserting, in lieu thereof, the words "mention in section 4 of this act;" and further amend sections 5 by inserting the word "pleasure" between the words "a" and "driveway," in line 4 of said section, and further amend said section 5 by inserting the word "pleasure" between the words "such" and "driveways," in line 8 of said section.

AMENDMENT No. 5.

Strike out all of section 6 and insert in lieu thereof the following, to be known as section 6:

"Section 6. Any city, village or incorporated town having lands within or adjacent to its boundaries and situated upon the shores of any public waters in this State may, in addition to the powers conferred upon it by section 2 of this act, and before it shall exercise any of the powers conferred upon it by sections 3 and 4 of this act, by resolution of its council or board of trustees, invoke the aid of the State to determine the boundary of dividing line between the lands of the State and the lands adjacent thereto. Upon the presentation of a copy of such resolution to the Attorney General of this State, it shall be his duty (but without any costs and charges to the State) to file a petition or bill in chancery in the circuit court of the county wherein such lands are situated, and make the owner or owners of the lands adjacent to those of the State, together with owner or owners of all rights and interests therein, including riparian estates and rights, parties defendant thereto. The petition or bill shall pray that the court may herein determine the cause and by its decree establish and define the boundary or dividing line between the lands of the State and the lands of the defendant or defendants. The defendant or defendants shall be served with process in said cause as in other proceedings in chancery, and the proceedings in such cause shall be conducted like suits in chancery. The court, by its final decree in said cause, shall have the power to determine and establish the boundary or dividing line between the lands of the State and those of the defendant or defendants to such bill or petition, and may, if it shall see fit, in the establishment of said boundary or dividing line, include within the same as a part of the land belonging to the said defendant or defendants a just and equitable portion of land, whether submerged or not, which shall be the equivalent in value of his or their riparian estates or rights in case they shall be found to have any such riparian estate or rights; or the court may, in and by its said decree, find and declare the value of such riparian estate or rights, and ordered and adjudge that the same be paid to the defendant or defendants entitled thereto by the city, village or incorporated town which has invoked the aid of the State as and for the purposes aforesaid before it shall exercise any of the powers conferred upon it by sections 3 and 4 of this act, and the said boundary or dividing line as so established by the said decree of the court shall be the permanent boundary or dividing line between the lands of the State and the lands of the defendant or defendants in said cause, which boundary or dividing line as to the lands of the said defendant or defendants shall not be affected or changed thereafter, either by accretions or erotions and the defendant or defendants to said cause and those claiming under them shall have the right to improve, protect, sell and convey the land up to the said boundary or dividing line established by the said decree free from any adverse claims in any way arising out of any question as to where the shore line was at any time in the past, or as to the title to existing accretions, if any, to the lands upon the shore of the said public waters. But any and all right, title and interest which the defendant or defendants in said cause, or any one claiming by, through or under them may have had to any riparian right or estate by virtue of his or their ownership of any lands involved in the said proceeding for the establishment of said boundary or dividing line shall be forever surrendered, cut off and transferred by the entry of the said decree to the State of Illinois, and the city, village or incorporated town which shall have invoked the aid of the State in the establishment of the said boundary or dividing line shall have the right to enter into and upon such of the lands (whether submerged or not) as shall have been found by the said decree to be owned by the State, and to hold, retain and improve the same for the purpose aforesaid but for no other purpose whatsoever: Provided always, that the city, village or incorporated town invoking the aid of the State as aforesaid shall pay all costs and expenses in the said proceeding not assessed against any defendant or defendants.

AMENDMENT No. 6.

Amend section 7 by striking out all the words between the word "lands" in line three of said section and the word "and" in line five of said section and insert in lieu thereof the following words: "it has acquired by gift, grant or purchase, and the lands adjacent thereto;" and further amend section 7 by striking out the words "such riparian rights" in line 7 of said section and inserting in lieu thereof the following words: "the lands adjacent to those it has acquired as aforesaid, together with the owner or owners, of any and all estates and interests therein, including riparian estates or rights;" and further amend section 7 by inserting between the words "rights" and "or" in line twenty of said section, the following words, "or estates, in case they, or either of them shall be found to have any riparian rights or estates;" and still further amend section 7 by striking out the word "and" between the words "rights" and "order" in line twenty-two of said section and inserting in lieu thereof the words "or estates and;" and still further amend section 7 by adding after the word "waters" in line thirty-four of said section, the following words, "but any and all right, title and interest which the defendant or defendants to said cause or any one claiming by, through or under them may have had to any riparian rights or estates by virtue of their ownership of any lands involved in the said proceedings for the establishment of the said boundary or dividing line shall be forever surrendered, cut off and transferred by the entry of the said decree to the petitioner or complainant in said cause."
